CITY NOTES.

The city officials will receive their pay today. The second anniversary of Charles Dunn will be held at the Rescue mission this evening, July 31. Frank Ehrigod, charged with the theft of a hat, was liberated from jail yesterday, C. M. Lancaster, of Moosic, becoming his surety. Deputy Sheriff Frank E. Ryan will expose at public sale next Saturday the stock of the Fair, the dry goods store of Friend & Ruyt. Thomas McGowan, James McGowan and Patrick McGowan, of Dunmore, were released from the county jail yesterday under the insolvent laws. St. David's Episcopal church Sunday school will picnic at Weber's grove, Keyser valley, today. The members will meet at the church at 8 a. m. Attorneys Clarence Ballentine and William D. Boyle, representing Peter Lush, brought suit yesterday against Byron L. Richards, of Williamsport, for a debt of $1.30. D. C. Kanyon brought suit yesterday against D. L. Potter for $507.74 for lumber for props and ties for the Northwest Coal company. Attorneys Watson & Diehl represent the plaintiff. William Dempsey, of Pine Brook, was committed to the county jail yesterday by Alderman De Lacy to await trial on the charge of refusing to support his family and abusing his wife. A concert will give an open air concert at 7.30 Monday evening in front of the Lodge rooms on Franklin avenue as an advertisement for their excursion to Lake Ariel next Wednesday. Active preparations are being made for the temperance reunion, which takes place at Mountain park next Monday. It is possible that John G. Woolley, the speaker, will spend Sunday in this city. A concert will be given at the Aubury Methodist Episcopal church on Friday evening under the direction of Tallie Moore, in connection with a "birthday party" given by the Ladies' Aid society of the church. In the estate of Stephen Rudolph, late of Bellevue, his last will was yesterday admitted to probate by Register of Wills William B. Hopkins, and letters testamentary granted to the widow, Elizabeth Rudolph. Marriage licenses were yesterday granted by Deputy Clerk of the Court Emil R. Bonn to Paul Krawinkel and Anna Divink of Peckville; Simon Grabben, of Jermyn, and Rosie Turpeck, of Scranton; Peter Stach and Tillie Krook, of Archbald. John Fairley and Michael Hart, sent to jail in default of bail on the charge of obstructing a public officer, were brought before Judge Archibald yesterday and entered bail in the sum of $10 each. John Stachko became their security. On Saturday night one of the beams of the Old Parker street bridge across Carter's mill race gave way and rendered it necessary to close the bridge. Street Commissioner Kinsey went there yesterday with the intention of repairing it, and upon making an examination decided that an entire new structure would be necessary. Work was immediately begun. Last evening the sewers and drains committee of select council awarded, subject to the approval of council, the contract for the sewer court sewer to Hart & Gibbons, of Wilkes-Barre, at a price of $1.15 per lineal foot. The committee also approved of a resolution providing for the construction of two sewer basins in the Fifteenth ward, one at the intersection of Main street and Spruce street, and the other on a vacant street, opposite Tenth street.

MEETING AT GRACE CHURCH

Looking Forward to Bring the Endeavor Convention Here in 1896.

REV. THOMAS BELL'S REMARKS

Pastor of Plymouth Church Exhorted the Endeavorers to Work to Be Useful for Christ—Meeting Presided Over by Rev. W. H. Stubbins.

Christian Endeavorers of Scranton assembled in mass meeting at Grace Reformed Episcopal church last evening to hear reports from the delegates who were at the international convention at Boston, and to formulate a movement to bring the state convention here in 1896. Rev. W. H. Stubbins, pastor of Calvary Reformed church, was chairman. The pastor of Grace church, Rev. George L. Albright; Rev. Thomas Bell, of Plymouth Congregational church, and Charles E. Daniels, of the church, were also present. The church was taken, and enthusiastic fervor pervaded the sacred edifice. When the opening psalm had been sung, Miss Della Evans was announced to read a report of the Boston convention, she responded with a most elaborate rehearsal of the proceedings. Her report required great care and preparation and she clothed the ideas in bright, fervent language which did not fail to impress all present. At the conclusion of her recapitulation of the work of the greatest convention of Christian workers ever called together in this country, the young people sang an impressive hymn.

Boston Convention Described.

Mr. Daniels took the place of J. C. Manning, of Pittston, who was expected to be present, and entertained the meeting with an interesting brief account of the various services at the Boston convention. He was told, he said, by the police captain of Boston that crime and disorderliness fell off 50 per cent. during the week of the convention, and they ascribed it to the spiritual influence of the more than 50,000 delegates. Next the meeting sang a hymn composed by Alfred Wooler, tenor of the choir of the Elm Park Methodist Episcopal church, adapted from "The Banner of the Cross." The first stanza of it is as follows: There's an invitation ringing loud and clear.

There's an Invitation Ringing Loud and Clear.

To our C. E. friends so true, To dwell in love, the cause to us so dear.

THEY MADE NO CHANGE.

The sales agents of the big anthracite coal carrying and producing companies yesterday proceeded with their work to discuss the output of anthracite coal for August and also to discuss the advisability of raising prices. No action was taken and during the month of August the companies will mine but three days of each week, or about 100,000 tons, which has been in force for the last few months. After the meeting it was said that two propositions had been considered by the agents. The first was: Is the present business enough to justify an increase in the price? The second one was: Will we increase the price? The agents were unanimous on the first proposition deciding that the present business justified a raise. Two dissenting voices, however, settled the matter: as far as the raise was concerned, and although a large majority of the representatives present were in favor of increasing the price for anthracite coal for the month of August, no change whatever was made.

BONDS OF COLLECTORS.

They Were Entered Up in Court Yesterday Upon Approval. The bond of John J. Costello, collector of tools of the Third ward, was yesterday filed in the sum of $5,000. Michael Rock is surety. The bond of George Farber, collector of taxes of the Fourth ward, was yesterday filed in court in the sum of $5,000. George Kinback and Frederick Forback are sureties.

AFRAID OF HIS NEIGHBOR.

Because He Threatened to Do Him Harm Had Him Arrested. Daniel Heinsmann and Michael Spingler are neighbors, living on Neptune street, on the South Side. Neighbor Spingler, no it is alleged, threatened to knock off the top of Neighbor Heinsmann's head, whereupon Neighbor Heinsmann, not being so proud of his mental paraphernalia that he wished to go around with them exposed to public gaze, took legal precautions to prevent the carrying out of the threat.

ST. LEO'S EXCURSION.

It Will Be Run to New York, August 6. The National Catholic Total Abstinence union convention will be held in the metropolis on Aug. 7. Archbishops Corrigan and Ryan will deliver stirring temperance addresses.

FROM FRYING PAN TO FIRE.

A Hyde Park Youth Will Leave Jail Today and Then Get Married. John Dunn, a West Side boy, was committed to the county jail last night at the instance of his sweetheart, Bernice Jones. In the Alderman's office he offered to marry the girl, but as he did not have the necessary funds he had to go to jail.

HIRAM NICHOLLS' WILL.

Register of Wills Hopkins Refused to Open the Proceedings. Register of Wills Hopkins yesterday refused to open the proceedings in the estate of Hiram Nicholls upon the petition of James Nicholls. This is the case in which the alleged lost caveat played such a conspicuous role.

INFANT'S SAD DEATH.

It Expired in Its Mother's Arms in an Olyphant Street. Around 6 o'clock Monday evening a Hungarian woman with an infant in her arms got on a Peckville car at Franklin avenue to go to Olyphant. The child was very ill, and she had brought it down to get medical attention.

AWAITING COURT'S ACTION.

Bright's Alley Trouble Has No New Developments Yesterday. There are no new developments in the Bright's alley case. City Solicitor Torrey stated that nothing has been done in a legal way "to relieve the city of Bright's disease," and J. P. Kelly, attorney for William Love, when asked if his side had done anything, remarked that his "Love" was still dejected.

DEATH OF MRS. MILLER.

She Was a Well-Known Resident of Durvas. Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, widow of the late J. P. Miller, died Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. N. Dugan, of Durvas, age 84 years.
