Carbondale News.

STILL WE GO UP.

Pitched for the Home Team. Great is Martin Methusalch Swift, and great are his mighty men who do vallant battle for the glory of Car-bondale in the sight of this state and

Martin is somewhat past the teething age, but his eye is as clear; his nerve as steady and his good left arm as cunning as the youngest and clearest eyed and steadlest and cunningest of them all. His blonde head reflecteth glory and his mouth speaketh wisdom. He is a base ball prophet, who hath honor in his own country, and whose skill scattereth destruction among our enemy. Great is Martin, and, as the newsboy said of his bootblack friend, long may he shine.

There was another Martin in yes terday's game upon whose long head the bays of victory rested with becoming restfulness, and that was Martin McQuade. Mac was in the game, and of the game, and all through the game. He hit like a demon, fielded like a sprite, and ran bases like a ghost. There was no denying him. He wanted that game and did all that any mortal could Hasleton was the first to score. This event occurred in the second inning. Jimmy Graham hit a safe one past the Carbondale half of the Westlake twins, and Kid Jordan sacrificed him to second. Childs went out from Pretzel to "Old Reliable" Bill Meyers, the lengthy ex-Lancasterian, twice gave a successful imitation of how to churn air. Seetempted to see the ball with his eyes open, he closed them on the third at-tempt, murmured all that he remembered of a prayer, and again moved his bat at a right angle to his body and parallel to the plate. To the surprise of everybody, and of nobody so much as Mr. Meyers, the ball met the bat somewhere in its orbit and rebounded far into right field. When it was returned, Graham had scored, and Mr. Myers was on third making frantic efforts to swallow his Adam's apple, and to appear as though three-base hits were as common occurrences with him as physiognomic ablutions.

We drew alongside the Quay County chos in the fourth. McQuade made hit. Westlake drew a base on balls. Mac and the twin executed a beautiful double steal. Sales hit a hot one to Graham. Mac began fiddling on base line as soon as the ball was hit. Graham was at a loss for a moment as to the proper place for the ball, but he finally threw to Myers. As he did so, Mac shot for the plate and scored with case. Westlake was left when Shields and Swift struck out. A double by Sales and Swift's single scored another run for us in the sixth.

In the eighth three successive errors by Sales, Westiake and Swift placed Moore, Moran and McVey upon bases with no one out. Schaub sent the two first-named home by his two-bagger and McVey scored on Graham's slow

With the score 4-2 against us, the cranks were decidedly blue when Carndale came in for its last time at bat. Big Bill was the first up. He placed a beauty in the right spot and took first. "Chorch" Staltz hit a whiskerina, for at least one base. Childs and Fote, however, intervened and "Chorch" sat down. Mac was the next up and, to the fervent appeals of the rooters to "soak 'er, me boy," he responded by placing a beauty in left center for two bases, scoring Bill. On McVey's return of the ball, Graham allowed it to roll between his legs and, as quick as a flash, Mac had appropriated the third ottoman. Twin Georgie was next to bat and but one run was needed to tie the score. The twin hit the first ball pitched to Graham. Mac took a long lead off third and Graham threw to Schaub. Then began a chase, in which the whole Hazleton team were employed in the burdensome task of running Mac down. To and fro flew the ball. In an evil moment, Moore threw rather hard to Schaub and Mac was safe on third, the twin meanwhile having appropriated second. Schaub made a hair-raising catch of Sales' high foul and, with two out, our prospects were decidedly black. Danny Shields, the next man up, was released by Hazle-stitches were taken in the scalp.

How the man was thrown from the cars is a mystery. Conductor Pierce's passenger train from Honesdale was man's body lying near the track. He at once notified Conductor Pierce, and Frank Farrell and another young man ran back to the spot. On looking back they found that the train had gone on. Farrell hurried back to Farview and with a car came back to the spot, when Mr. Pengelly was put on and brought to this city. The company ambulance was waiting at the depot and he was at once carried to the hospital.

Although it has been reported that McLaughlin had not deserted the Carcondale Base Ball team and that he was ill at his home, it has been proved that these reports are false. McLaughlin was a great favorite mong Carbondale oranks and they are loud in their indignation against his conduct. The Carbondale team is also considerably weakened by his desertion, as he was probably the best pitcher in the State league. The chances of Carbondale winning the pen-

FOREST CITY.

The article which appeared in yesterday's Joe-Scranton-the-has-been-bossof-Lackawanna-county-organ reminds one of the fellow who cried stop thief in order to divert attention from himself to some one elese. But we propose to show to the Republician voters of Forest City some of the inside history of the ring who promised Quay four delegates from Forest City when he was n Scranton, and who thought they had it all cut and dried without consulting the preference of the voters of this borough, and could earn the boodle sent here without an effort. They are mistaken, however. The voters of this borough are determined in common with hundreds of thousands of voters through the state to dethrone the 'Dictator" who thinks he can with impunity override even the constitution of our state, and to send the Tammany hall in miniature in this borough to keep company with the gang they have tried to imitate. You are mistuken, "Fair Play," and it is your head that is muddled, (by beer, or otherwise.) Our following the excursion train and as former article did not state that the they neared No. 4, the brakeman saw a four gentlemen had been selected as delegates, but that the Republican voters of Forest City were to be congratulated on their selection of Frank Hollenback and Lew Jones for the First ward, and Dr. W. R. Blakesless and Benjamin Maxey in the Second wards for candidates as delegates, and we desire to emphasize what we said. More honorable men than these could not be found, representing as they do the professional, business and laboring classes; they are not all from Main street, either, but are selected with a view to giving the whole town a fair represen-

You ought to drop the name of "Fair Play." It does not suit. Was it fair play that prompted your gang to treacherously put up Bartender Richards against a representative man like Dr. Blakeslee; a man paying, probably, disposition was bright und sweet, and more taxes than any other individual in Forest City, and who is honored and Mrs. Davis was 85 years old and was respected by all who know him, when born in Scotland. While yet young she he was running for delegate to the was brought to this country and residhad been promised the support of those with whom you associate? Is it fair play to ignore George Esmay, regularly elected last February in place of L. P. Wedeman, as county committeeman and without the semblance of authority replace him with two of your present candidates for delegates? It may be fuir play for a justice of the peace (who is one of your candidate) to promise fore he was elected to establish his office in the ward for which he was elected, and after election to select his office in the First ward, thus leaving the Second ward without a justice of the peace, but it don't seem so to fulrminded people in said ward. Shall we give you a few more samples of fair play such as could be got from the school board and other matters? It is just exactly fair play we are after, and you cannot scare the voters of this borough by the worn-out abuses of your "muddled" brain.

We propose to stand by our governor. Daniel Hastings, the constitution of our state, and representative government and are determined the people shall have a chance to show their preference.

Such feelings kept up for about three weeks, when she commenced to experience an itching sensation on her arms and lower limbs. Then she commenced to break out with eruptions or vesicals containing a yellow, watery secretion. The skin felt sore and chafed, and at times would itch so as to almost set her wild. She commenced to take blood remedies and patent medicines of different kinds but kept getting worse. She gave up family physician. He told her it was a bad case of eczema. He treated her for some six months, with no good results. He finally told her to consult some good specialist, as he had done his best. She came to Dr. F. B. Smith and stated her case from beginning to that date. She was satisfied with the terms and conditions under which Dr. Smith agreed to take her case, and commenced at once to take treatments of Dr. Smith and staff, and in three

HONESDALE.

The game of base ball at Lake Ariel n Tuesday, at the Red Men's picnic, was characterized principally by the number of runs made and the amount of keking done. The game was between the Amities of this place and the White Mills club, Seeger, of Philadelphia, and Ham, of Scranton, acting as umpires. The score was, Amities, 23; Winte Mills, 12. The Amities have a very strong team, but at Tuesday's game they seemed to be somewhat demoralized, misking many errors, and had the White Mills club been able to pull themselves together they could have easily won. The management at Lake Ariel should take some means of keeping spectators off the field during the games, us they interfere very much with he players, and, moreover, some of them are liable to be injured. Several people were hit by the ball at Tuesday's game.

That Distressing Skin Disease. Eczema is one of the most distressing and annoying of the many so-called skin diseases, and a great many people are afflicted with this complaint that really do not know what their trouble in. When first discovered the sufferer is apt to think it something trifling that will disappear in a short time, and pay little attention to it, until by its annoy-ance it develops the fact that it is there to stay until driven out or cured; but that sometimes is not so easily done, as the following case will show: Mrs. C.
