[The Tribune has opened a branch office at No. 23 Lanning building, Public Square, Wilkes-Barre, Pa. The purpose of the publishers to issue a newspaper as valuable to the general public as the metropolitan dailies, and deliver to the people throughout northeastern Pennsylvania from three to five years earlier than the Philadelphia and New York papers can reach them.]

WORK OF THE DELEGATES.

Results of Judicial and County Conventions—L. H. Bennett, of Wilkes-Barre, is Nominated for Judge.

The Republicans held their annual convention yesterday, and the following ticket was nominated.

Judge—Lyman H. Bennett, Wilkes-Barre. Sheriff—James Martin, Plains. Recorder—Philip J. Richards, Nanticoke. Controller—Frank L. McKee, Plymouth. Surveyor—Edward H. Post, Wilkes-Barre.

Geographically the ticket is not strong, but in other ways it is. There was a number of vicious fights in places on the ticket, but later harmony prevailed, and there was considerable enthusiasm over the ticket. Hazleton and Pittston are sore at being left off the ticket, but all differences will probably be settled before election.

JUDICIAL CONVENTION.

The judicial convention was held in the Ninth Regiment armory and all the arrangements had been perfected so that it formed even a better place for a meeting of this sort than Music hall. The great amount of room kept the house from getting too warm, and the hall was divided by a rope over which a squad of police kept watch. On the upper side no one was allowed to come except the delegates, officers and members of the press. On the other side of the rope, seats were placed for the spectators, admission to the armory being free. Around the balcony the American colors were hung, with pictures of Blaine, Lincoln, Grant, Hayes, Harrison and other great Republican leaders. The coolness and the great amount of room made the armory an ideal place to hold a convention.

The judicial convention was called to order at 10 o'clock by County Chairman R. P. Robinson, and the secretary, Walter Koons, began the roll call. Nominations for temporary chairman were then called for, and H. A. Fuller was nominated and elected by acclamation. Dr. Dodson, of Nanticoke, and William Connor were appointed a committee to escort Mr. Fuller to the platform.

Mr. Fuller made one of his usual brilliant addresses. He said that he was heartily glad that his election was unanimous, which he took, not as honor to himself, but as a desire for harmony in the make-up of the ticket. He said he came here from the practice of the law and would go back to it after the convention, as would probably most of the candidates for Judge. The other officers of the convention were then appointed as follows:

Vice Presidents—First district, John McCoven; Second, S. H. Dodson; Third, W. D. Wilkins; Fourth, R. H. Patterson; Fifth, Theron Dowpal; Sixth, John Bars. Committee on Contested Seats—First, G. A. St. John; Second, W. B. Creton; Third, George F. Nesbitt; Fourth, J. L. Williams; Fifth, James M. Boyd; Sixth, J. W. Clark. Secretaries—W. B. Koons, James J. Thomas, C. E. Keck, C. M. Jeffries, Byron G. Hahn.

Committee on Organization—First, S. A. Bacharach; Second, P. H. Seeley; Third, Lewis Parry; Fourth, W. S. Lett; Fifth, James G. Smith; George E. Cressy. Nominations for permanent chairman were then called for, and H. A. Fuller was nominated and elected by acclamation. Dr. Dodson, of Nanticoke, and William Connor were appointed a committee to escort Mr. Fuller to the platform.

Mr. Fuller then spoke of the importance and seriousness of the judicial nomination, and spoke of Judge Rice, whose name brought out thunders of applause. The chief difficulty in the choice of a man to fill the vacancy chosen by Judge Rice's elevation to the superior court bench is the embarrassment of riches, an embarrassment from which our friend the enemy seldom suffers. Mr. Fuller urged the delegates to go about this matter of nominating a judicial candidate, not as a matter of politics, but as a matter of business. Lay aside personal preference, questions of location, etc., and vote for the man who is best qualified for the position, and at the polls next November he will be chosen.

The chairman then called for nominations for judges, and George Urquhart, Jr., of the Seventh ward, Wilkes-Barre, then nominated George S. Ferris, of Pittston, for the judgeship. He, too, spoke of the importance of electing a man of legal attainments, of judicial temper, and of a man of conscience sensitive to duty, but above all his aim must be to interpret the law fearlessly and vigorously. Few men measure up to this standard, but Mr. Ferris does, and he should be the next judge. He has the accumen to discover the legal points of the case, and the courage to use his knowledge. His practice has been a large one throughout his whole career, and in twenty years' experience in the bar, there has not been a case from his vicinity in which he has not been counsel. He is a man whom to know is to honor, and had the Pittston people their way he would be on the supreme bench. After being defeated last year in the convention he worked for the successful nominee, and now he asks for this nomination, and his career, both as lawyer and Republican, demands this recognition.

Thomas H. Atherton in a brief speech nominated Lyman H. Bennett, whose name was received with applause, lasting several minutes. George H. Troutman, of Hazleton, was nominated by Dr. H. B. Casselberry, of that city. The speaker urged the location of his candidate and the necessity of Hazleton securing a resident judge. Mr. Troutman's name was also well received, and Ed Carpenter, of the Fourth ward, placed in nomination the name of General Edwin S. Osborne, of Wilkes-Barre. A motion was then made to drop the lowest candidate after the first ballot, and the motion was taken with this result:

Bennett	147
Ferris	64
Osborne	38
Troutman	28
Total	277

Necessary to choice, 120.

nominee of the Republican party, and the decision was received with a yell and loud applause. The chair appointed Mr. Urquhart, Dr. Casselberry and J. B. Erritt a committee to find Mr. Bennett and escort him to the platform. Mr. Bennett expressed his thanks to the convention for the nomination, and said that he was surprised to find how many friends he had in the county. He pledged himself to give his best work to the people of the county during the campaign, and if elected, during his incumbency as judge. The judicial convention then adjourned sine die.

THE COUNTY CONVENTION.

The county convention met directly after the adjournment of the judicial convention, and Dr. H. B. Casselberry, of Hazleton, was chosen temporary chairman. It was moved, seconded and carried that the chair appoint the officers of the convention, which were then done; the officers being the same as those of the judicial convention. Announcements of the meeting places of the various committees were made, and the convention then adjourned until 2 o'clock.

The afternoon session of the county convention was called to order by Chairman Casselberry at 2:30 o'clock, and the other temporary officers took seats on the platform. The committee on permanent organization reported as follows:

Chairman—L. P. Hand, esq. Secretaries—W. B. Koons, J. J. Thomas, C. E. Keck, C. M. Jeffries and Byron G. Hahn. Vice Presidents and Tellers—Those of the judicial convention.

Mr. Hand was escorted to the platform by J. Bennett Smith and Rees Morgan. Mr. Hand said in his speech that he had been a Republican for thirty years and this was about the only honor he had ever had from the party. But he was satisfied, and asked nothing more. Mr. Hand then laid down rules of order and for the first time of the day reduced the crowd to quiet.

The committee on contested seats reported in favor of seating H. E. Booth, of the Ninth ward, Pittston, which report was adopted. The committee on resolutions reported as follows:

The Republicans of Luzerne county in convention assembled reaffirm their devotion to the cardinal principles of their party, and they respect the right of every good citizen toward maintaining the organization to the end that plenty and prosperity may soon again be restored to the land by the re-establishment of Republican supremacy in the nation.

Resolved, That we renew to Governor Hastings the pledges of our esteem and confidence which were witnessed in the phenomenal majority given to him by the voters of the county last November, and that we regret the factional strife and waged between prominent and worthy leaders of our party in the state today.

Resolved, That Judge Charles E. Rice has well earned the high regard in which he is held by his fellow citizens. We regret his removal from the office of the Superior court, and we rejoice in the delegates from the several legislative districts, as a public duty, to spare no honorable exertion in procuring his nomination to the supreme bench of the state, and we respectfully urge the delegates to do so.

Resolved, That the Democratic ascendancy has proved a failure and its downfall in the nation is impatiently longed for. And in this spirit we pledge energy and effort to our successful candidate for the year, for every candidate this day nominated.

J. Bennett Smith, of Kingston, submitted the following resolution, which was adopted by a rising vote:

Resolved, That the thanks of the Republican party of Luzerne county be due and are hereby extended to Robert P. Robinson, chairman of the county committee, for the ability shown and unselfish labor shown in conducting the last two campaigns in this county.

The tellers of the convention were then called to their places and the delegates proceeded to business, and the chair called for nominations for sheriff. Speeches were limited to three minutes, and G. K. Powell, of Wilkes-Barre, nominated Stephen D. Yost, of Sugarloaf, for sheriff. It is the duty of the convention to nominate the strongest man, and in the past when the party has had pressed he has given of his time and money liberally to the cause. Mr. Yost is a man who has for the past twenty years stood firm in the Republican ranks, and has never asked any favors of the party. He comes from a family of high standing, and has the recognition from the party for the hundreds of votes in that section. This section must have a place on the ticket, and the Republicans of Luzerne would honor themselves and strengthen their ticket by nominating Mr. Yost.

G. J. Clark, of Luzerne borough, said that he represented a man, who, three years ago, had tried for the nomination for sheriff and had failed. He turned in and tried his best to elect his successful opponent. Now he comes before you and tries again for the nomination, and it should be given where it belongs, to E. Walton Garrison, of Shickshinny. Mr. Garrison's nomination was seconded by Harrison Dodson, of Huntington.

Dr. Dodson, of Nanticoke, nominated John S. Detrick, of Nanticoke, John V. Brownell named Charles E. Jones, of Nanticoke, and J. B. Wall, of Plains, put in nomination James Martin, of Plains, all the gentlemen making speeches. The first ballot was then taken with this result:

Garrison	75 1/2
Martin	63 1/2
Yost	66
Detrick	34 1/2
Jones	9 1/2

It was moved and seconded that the two lowest names be dropped, but Mr.

Sherwood called attention to the party rule on the subject forbidding any name to be dropped until after the third ballot, and the motion was cleared out of order. The second ballot was taken with the following result:

Garrison	104 1/2
Martin	72 1/2
Yost	63
Detrick	19

Total votes cast.....245
Necessary to choice, 123.

It was moved and seconded that the two lowest candidates be dropped. The rules being suspended, Dr. Dodson withdrew Mr. Detrick's name, but not in anyone's favor. It was amended by dropping one instead of two candidates. The motion was lost, and the work of taking the third ballot proceeded, with this result:

Garrison	105 1/2
Martin	74 1/2
Yost	60

Total votes cast.....245
Necessary to a choice, 123.

Under the rules Mr. Yost, being the lowest candidate, was dropped and the final ballot resulted as follows:

Martin	130 1/2
Garrison	118 1/2

Total votes cast.....249

Before the vote was announced, the chairman made the statement that the Hazleton delegation had intended to leave on the 5 o'clock train, but arrangements had been made for a special train to take them to Hazleton, leaving Wilkes-Barre at 9 o'clock, and the Fourth district delegation would remain in the convention and see the ticket made up.

Chairman Hand then announced the result of the vote and declared Mr. Martin the Republican nominee for sheriff, which was received with great applause.

Nominations were called for recorder next, and after Mr. Hand had spent some minutes in getting order out of the enthusiasm, J. R. Scouten, of the Sixth ward, placed in nomination James A. Patterson, of Wilkes-Barre, in a brief address. Byron G. Hahn, of the Tenth ward, nominated Philip J. Richards, of Nanticoke, referring to the fact that Nanticoke had never before represented on the county ticket. A. L. Williams, esq., the newly elected state delegate, placed in nomination Samuel R. Morgans, of Wilkes-Barre. W. L. Higgs, of the Eleventh ward of Wilkes-Barre, nominated Llewellyn Price, of Plains, referring to the fact that Plains had never before represented on the county ticket.

Price 109 1/2
Morgans 69
Richards 36
Patterson 20

Total vote.....234 1/2
Necessary to a choice, 118.

The second ballot was then taken with the following result:

Price	91 1/2
Morgans	44
Richards	44
Patterson	8

Total vote.....219 1/2

During the calling of the third ballot a prominent Ashley delegate was found to be voting in the place of absent delegates, and he was forcibly ejected from the building by the policemen, at the order of the chairman. It was a good example of the kind of no more fraudulent voting, although there was very little work of that sort all day. As the chairman said: "We are not holding a Democratic convention here."

Before the vote had been announced Samuel R. Morgans claimed the attention of the convention and said that for the sake of the ticket he would withdraw his name from the contest. As soon as Mr. Morgans had stepped down, Llewellyn Price, of Plains, spoke. He said that when Plains got the shrewdly nomination, he thought that was enough and went home, but when he learned that the party was to be held up at the first time that his name was before the convention for recorder. Now he had returned and withdrew in favor of Mr. Richards, believing that it would be to the best interests of the party.

These two speeches brought out the wildest applause. Mr. Richards was called to the platform and his nomination was made unanimous.

Nominations were called for controller and made as follows: M. E. Walker, of Shickshinny, by Byron G. Hahn, of the Tenth, Wilkes-Barre; James Waddell, of Kingston, by District Attorney Joseph R. Winton, of Huntington; James Gordon, of Kingston; and Joseph D. Lloyd, of Wyoming, by Ralph Wadhams, of Wilkes-Barre. The ballot resulted as follows:

Lloyd	112 1/2
Westover	63
Waddell	19
Walker	12

Total votes.....206 1/2
Necessary to choice, 104.

hour. Motorman Kriedler was slightly bruised, and a lady from South Wilkes-Barre was badly shaken up, but otherwise, no one was hurt.

BRIEF NOTES.
The excursion of the Fawcett Mathew Tourist club, of that city, to New York, yesterday morning was well attended. Arthur Martin was yesterday fined $10 and costs by Mayor Nichols, for having some trouble with the motorman of an electric car.

Last night's band concert, like many others previous, had to be postponed on account of the rain.

HORSE MEAT FOR FOOD.
An Oregon Firm Opens Up a New Kind of Packing House.
Portland, Oregon, Aug. 6.—The problem of what to do with the thousands of horses on the western ranges rendered valueless by the electric car and the bicycle has been solved by the erection of an establishment for the packing of horse meat at Linton, on the Willamette River, a few miles below this city. For a year past horses have been a drug on the market. Stockmen who have made a business of raising them on the ranges and have hands containing several thousand, find that their only outlet is to sell the animals and the animals are threatened with a sad fate next winter should it be a severe one, as stockmen will not waste feed on a useless animal.

A number of business men carefully investigated the subject and then organized the Western Packing and Processing Company and built abattoirs and a packing house at Linton. They purchased 5,000 horses from a single range owner in eastern Washington, and the first train load of these has arrived and the work of converting them into meat has commenced. The plant consists of a large tank for steaming the fat out of the meat, a number of smaller tanks, two vertical digesters or retorts, an oil press, a kilm heated by steam for drying the bones, a bone crusher, a grinder and a boiler and engine. At present no effort is made to pack the meat, the only portion which is packed for food is the hams, which are pickled for export.

None of the carcasses is sold fresh, and no horse meat can be had for use here. The hams are intended for the European market, where the custom of eating equine flesh has already been established. The bulk of the carcasses is verted into oil and fertilizer. What remains may lead to in the way of putting canned horse meat upon the market is uncertain. The prejudice against it, founded chiefly upon sentiment, in this country would seem to offer but little hope of such an article meeting with a ready sale.

EXPERIMENT A SUCCESS.
A Man Instantly Killed While Testing a Boiler.
Morgantown, W. Va., Aug. 6.—Last evening the boiler of a steam threshing machine which was being tested on the farm of John Blair, near Worthington, Pennsylvania, exploded, killing Ammons, aged 22, who was sitting on the boiler. Mr. Blair, a wealthy farmer and ex-member of the Pennsylvania legislature, was probably fatally injured. Blair's two sons and John Pitsnagle were also badly hurt.

OLD FORGE.
The family of George Drake, Jr., is spending a few weeks at Nichols, N. Y. E. L. Van Campen's house is occupied by Professor L. B. Brodhead is making a trip through New Jersey on his wheel.

The Connellton Corn band will hold a grand picnic at Marcey's park, Dursey, on Aug. 24, at afternoon and evening. Mrs. Charles Repp has returned to Williamsport after a two weeks' visit with friends here.

The school board has purchased a lot from John Willison, and intend to commence building a two-room building at once.

Quite a number attended the convention held in Scranton on Tuesday. Miss Doris Woodward, of Westchester, is visiting Miss Jennie Drake.

JERMYN.
The funeral of Robert Carter took place yesterday afternoon. The lock boxes recently received at the postoffice have all been taken except one. If you want it, don't delay. Don't forget the excursion of the Sacred Heart church to Lanesboro, Aug. 17. The fare is extremely low. There is good boating and fishing on the Susquehanna, and all who go will have a pleasant trip.

PECKVILLE.
The trolley party from here to Laurel Hill park, in Dunmore, arranged to take place last night, has been postponed until tomorrow night. The entertainment that was billed for Friday night at the Presbyterian church has been postponed indefinitely.
