EASTERN LEAGUE.

Yesterday's Results. Scranton..... 8 Toronto..... 7 Wilkes-Barre..... 9 Buffalo..... 6 Syracuse..... 6 Springfield..... 5 Rochester..... 5 Providence..... 4

It is a surprising coincidence that Springfield and Providence were defeated on the same day, and particularly so in the case of the Grays who were taken into camp by the Rochester. But Rochester's victory was due especially to the mystic pitching of Harper, Springfield played with a team of cripples, only three of the players being in their regular positions. Buffalo won by an errorless game against Wilkes-Barre, who made five errors and won only through Keenan's punning pitching. The defeat of Toronto by Scranton was in a large measure caused by the visitors' ragged fielding game. The positions of the clubs are unchanged, but if the Scrantons continue their present winning clip, Buffalo may very well be pulled down into sixth position.

TORONTO'S MANY ERRORS.

Helped Scranton to Win the Game--Luby Was Wild and Retired After the Fifth and Meany Finished the Game.

Scranton won by the hair-raising margin of one run, the first of the Toronto bases on balls to Scranton without glory for Scranton. Patry hit home excepted, and the result was chiefly due to the eleven large and awful Toronto errors.

If Gray had received ever fair support Toronto would have won with hands down. It was a game without glory for Scranton. Patry hit home excepted, and the result was chiefly due to the eleven large and awful Toronto errors. Keenan had the Bisons completely at his mercy, and numerous hits credited them came after chances to retire the bases. Three of the hits were of the scratch order. The outfield work of Bottenus, Shearon and Griffin were the features, while Earl executed a brilliant play that was a wonder, and saved a run against the home club. Bonner put up a good game at second. The regular admission prices will prevail.

Scranton base ball cranks have been longing for the feat of the Wilkes-Barre base ball club. It is announced that he will cover first base or play in right field. At 3.30 o'clock, a half hour before the game is called, he will give an exhibition of bag punching. His apparatus will be located just back of the plate, where the grandstand can be plainly seen from the press stand and bleachers.

Of course it will be understood that the arrangement is made for the purpose of adding to the coffers of the Scranton association, and while the large sum of $200 is guaranteed to Corbett, the amount will be more than balanced by the large crowd who will go to see the famous pugilist.

Corbett is really a fairly good ball player, but his brother is fast enough for minor leagues, and would now be playing as a professional but for the champion's desire to keep Joe with him.

BUFFALO LOST.

Pitcher Keenan's Work Balanced the Five Wilkes-Barre Errors.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Aug. 7.--Wilkes-Barre won from Buffalo today by bunching their hits at critical stages, while the fielding errors of the home club gave the visitors all of their runs along with a couple of bases on balls. Keenan had the Bisons completely at his mercy, and numerous hits credited them came after chances to retire the bases. Three of the hits were of the scratch order. The outfield work of Bottenus, Shearon and Griffin were the features, while Earl executed a brilliant play that was a wonder, and saved a run against the home club. club yesterday and urged him to use his influence in having Rogers' release recalled. They wanted Rogers to be played on first base and argued that he would strengthen the club. The best way to strengthen the club is to permit the management to recall Rogers. The club is not, interference would not help; if it is good let it alone--let it alone, anyhow.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Cincinnati defeated Anson's colts yesterday, and in consequence the Beaneaters, whose game with Brooklyn was postponed on account of rain, again go into fourth place, and the Colts fall back to almost a tie with Cincinnati and Brooklyn. In fact, Boston, Chicago, Cincinnati and Brooklyn are nearly a tie for fourth place. The New Yorks by defeating the Senators go up to a tie with the Quakers, who lost to the Orioles.

Attendance was Larger Than Ever on a First Day. Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 7.--Though no open betting was permitted at the Grand Circuit meeting today, the opening was a success in every particular. The attendance was the largest ever seen at Buffalo park on the first day of any meeting, and save the crowds at Red Oak, la., last June, the crowd was larger than any that has attended any of the trotting meetings held on the big line this year. A heavy wind was blowing against the horses coming up the home stretch, and under these circumstances the track was two and one-half miles and the second show.

The hand book system of betting was a novelty to the local regulars, and for the first two heats they fought shy of the game. But later on confidence was gained and speculation became very brisk. Today's card was that which was scheduled for yesterday and only one of the races was finished. Summary: 2.35 class, trotting; purse, $2,000--Warren P. first, Ella Belmont second, Volunteer Medium third; time, 2:17, 2:18, 2:16, 2:18. 2.15 class, trotting; purse, $2,000 (unfinished). First, Kelle A second, Sabina third; time, 2:15, 2:14, 2:14, 2:13, 2:18, 2:17.

2.25 class, trotting; purse, $2,000 (unfinished). First, Ankes Luck second, Miss Huon third; time, 2:16, 2:16. Robert J. and Patchen Race Postponed. Driving Park, Buffalo, Aug. 7.--The Robert J. Patchen race has been postponed on account of rain and track conditions being unfavorable this afternoon.
