BOLD BURGLAR CAPTURED.

He Was Trying to Enter the House of H. H. Welles.

Yesterday about noon there was some excitement around West River street. A man had been caught breaking into the house of H. H. Welles, jr. The police were telegraphed for and iron posts in front of the building gave the man was taken into custody. He said his name was Frank Charles, and plate glass windew. Had the post falthat he boarded with Mrs. Williams on North River street.

Peter Murphy, the florist for W. L. Conyngham, noticed him lurking around, and had been keeping a quiet lookout. Watching when Mr. Murphy went to dinner, he sneaked to Mr. Welles' back yard, worked the iron screen loose, but could not open the cellar window. Finally getting reckless he smashed the glass with a stone The crash was heard by Peter Murphy's brother, who gave the alarm, and both ran for the house. The house breaker, who had got inside, saw the intent of the pursuers and quickly clambered out and ran down West River street, but Peter Murphy caught him just in front of E. H. Kirby's new residence. He was given a hearing last night and was held for court.

THE COOL CASE.

It Is Amicably Settled and the Funeral Will Take Place Today.

Santitary Officer Evans, who was de tailed on Wednesday to investigate the case wherein Mrs. William H. Cool charged her father-in-law with refusing to give up the body of her husband, who died at the hospital Tuesday evening. made a thorough investigation and found that the father of the dead man had taken it upon himself to see that the rémains were propertly buried be cause he knew the wife had no money to pay the necessary expenses. Mrs. Cool and her children are at liberty to see the remains whenever and as often as she may desire and arrangements have already been made for she and to be caught. The damage was very her children to attend the funeral. The fact of Mrs. Cool being a Catholic and her husband's parents Protestants has nothing to do with the case. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence of Mr. Cool, on Stanton street, with interment in the city cemetery.

A Fatal Accident.

Malcolm Connor, aged 13 years, and a son of Elijah Connor, of Mill Creek, was instantly killed about 7 o'clock las Wednesday evening at Mill Creek sid-ing by having his head caught between the bumpers of two cars. The boys were playing around the ciding, uncoupling cars and letting them drop to the lower end of the siding and try to couple them as the brakemen do. While thus playing, young Connor was caught between the bumpers of the cars and his neck broken, killing him instantly.

A Charter Wanted. Attorney G. R. Bedford for the Town Improvement society filed an applica tion for a charter in the prothonotary's office yesterday afternoon, the stated alms of the society being to improve the streets and public places of the city of Wilkes-Barre. The directors are Hon. C. A. Miner, G. R. Bedford, Caro-Mne Alexander, Edith Brower and Mrs. O. E. Jones. The application is also signed by a large number of the city's foremost and influential citizens. Snit for Damager

Bridget O'Malley, through her attorney, James L. Morris, brought suit yesterday against the Pennsylvania Coal company for $3,000 damages. The case was put on the trial list for October.

Before the Mayor. Thomas Mulherin, giving his resifence as Scranton, was before the myor yesterday charged with the lar-eny of two bats. He had been em-loyed at McDonald's livery and ab-sample case. He sold them to a Polish saloon-keeper for 25 cents a piece. He pleaded hard for clemency, but was given thirty days.

POOL ROOM RAIDED.

But When the Officers Arrived the Birds Had Flown

The Electric News and Transfer com pany, who, it is alleged, sell pools on netropolitan horse races, was raided by the police yesterday afternoon, but somehow or other the gamblers had received a "tip" on the proposed raid, and when the police arrived, the door was locked and the proprietors were gone, so that Chief Briggs and Officers Reister and Mulherrin only got a little pleasant exercise out of the trip.

A warrant was worn out against the clace by a hotel man before the mayor yesterday afternoon and when the po lice got to the place they found evi-dence of a hasty exit. The telegraph instrument was still ticking merrily, the black boards were filled with hieroglyphics of the races, the floor was strewn with papers, showing the unluckly bets. But that is all there was; no man could be found, although the place was thoroughly searched. The police were chagrined at the escape of the proprietors, although they took it good naturedly. The room bore unmistakable evidences of gambling, and it is not likely that the business will be resumed, at least not for the pres-

SIXTH ANNUAL REPORT.

Flattering Statement Concerning th Training School for Nurses.

The sixth annual report of the Training School for Nurses of the Wilkes-Barre City hospital has just been sent out and shows that there are twentythree graduates of the training school nearly all of whom are engaged in private nursing. There were forty applicants for circulars and twenty aplicants who returned properly filled blanks for admission. Ten probationers were admitted and of these six were admitted as pupils. The school at present consists of a superintendent, who is also a hospital matron, one head nurse who is also operating room nurse, fourteen pupil nurses and two probationers. During the year twenty-four calls for private nurses have been received, seven of which have been answered. A course of lectures has been given by the staff during the year. Six nurse graduated at the last commencement.

Hurt in the Mines. George McGinness, a miner, 40 years of age, with a wife and five children, was fatally hurt by a fall of rock in No

1 shaft of the Susquehanna Coal company at Nanticoke yesterday afternoon. ployed as a runner in the Avoca mines was instantly killed at noon yesterday by being struck on the head with an iron bar, which fell from the head of an inside shaft and struck him as he was standing at the foot. He was a son of John Ryder, a well-known resident of Avoca.

A Narrow Escape.

While trying to raise the stone step which extends under the front window of Armitage's barber shop, on Main street, Plymouth, yesterday, one of the way and fell crashing through a large len forward, instead of sideways, it jured, the men employed in raising the stone. The post weighed at least 700 well rendered, showing much talent or pounds. The work was being done by Mr. Edwards and the Armitage Bros.

Non-partisan Judiciary. The news that came yesterday to the effect that Governor Hastings had appointed Lyman H. Bennett for judge of Luzerne county, places the local Democracy in a bad fix. After all their flap-doodle about a "non-partisan judiciary," Mr. McLean's candidacy is decidedly inconsistent. Mr. Bennett will make a good judge, and it is no surprise to the Republicans that Governor Hastings has thus recognized the wishes of the party in Luzerne.

Saloon Men Mad.

The city saloon-keepers are up in arms at the mayor's charge that the sa loons are open here on Sunday. They claim that the many intoxicated men seen around the Square on Sunday evening are dumped from the electric cars. The drinkers of beer hie them selves to the suburbs on the Sabbath fill up to the brim, and then come back

A Runaway.

A large sorrel team owned by Bow man & Son ran away from the barn on South Fell street yesterday afternoon and galloped wildly up the street At Market street, the team turned abruptly and the wagon was upset and acted as a drag that enabled the horses slight.

Purther Bond Issue.

STATE OF THE GOLD RESERVE

It Is Now Perilously Near the $100,000,-000 Line and May Be Drawn Below It-Greenbacks Hoarded to Be en withdrawn from the treasury. The bond syndicate a week ago replaced $2,-000,000 of this by exchanging gold for greenbacks, but has not since repeated the perfermance. The treasury has secured considerable gold in ordinary channels, still the reserve has been reduced in round numbers from $107,500,-000 to $104,500,000. This does not include $1,000,000 in gold ordered withdrawn today. The reserve therefore stands now, to be exact, at $103,468,104. It is anticipated that about $2,000,000 more will be withdrawn this week, leaving the reserve within $1,500,000 of $100,000,000. When it falls to that point it could be easily reduced below $100,000,000. As they have always done when gold is withdrawn, treasury officials say that the withdrayals will soon cease and be counterbalanced by imports which are about due. There are several things militating against gold imports. First, the balance of trade is now against the United States. The new tariff law fosters imports and reduces exports. For several months the imports have been exceeded by exports. necessitating gold exports to pay balances. There are thousands of tourists abroad with large letters of credit, which have to be met by American banks with gold. The syndicate has apparently taken its hands off, regardless of its implied contract to maintain the reserve, and is permitting thirgs to take their natural course, which is for gold exports. The syndicate maintains its rate of exchange so high that it is cheaper to export gold than to purchase exchange. So strong is the export flow of gold that if the Wednesday evening from a few days syndicate maintained the reserve its visit in Boston and Northfield, Mass. nation being a money-making and not ellemosynary one, it declines to do so,

There 's undoubtedly a hoarding of greenbacks to draw gold form the treasury. Greenbacks are little in circulation now, but national bank notes are. The syndicate has probably been hoarding greenbacks to protect itself and get mother, was taken seriously ill at the gold. It has an option on bonds issued before Oct. 1. There may, therefore, be a systematic effort through its agents to so impair the reserve as to necessitate another bond issue.

The treasury continues making a defielt, aggregating for the fiscal year $13,772,571.75, four times as large as at the corresponding period last year. When expenses exceed receipts it fosters gold shipments.

There will probably be large exportations of gold for a month. The reserve may fall to a dangerous figure, probably considerably below $100,000,000 Unless the syndicate changes its policy, prevents gold exports and revenues increase and gold comes from abroad, there is grave danger of another bond issue unless the treasury chooses to let the gold fall to a level menacing the maintenance of the parity. In the meantime Secretary Carlisle is taking a meantime Secretary Carlisle is taking a vacation on the great lakes.

A Game of Bluff. No doubt the syndicate could stop the exportation of gold and thus live up to their moral agreement with the government to do all in their power to prevent its exportation. But to do that just now would involve selling of exchange at a rate which would threaten to eat into the profits of the syndicate. The truth is, a good deal of expostulation and some sentiments which might be characterized by stronger language are heard in Wall street because of the policy of those members of the syndicate who control or try to control the exchange market. The complaint has been that there is something of a dog-in-the-manger disposition and that a sort of invisible club has been held over the brokers, with the intimation that it would be brought down with severity upon their heads if they refused to buy exchange and perferred to take gold from the treasury for export. risiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. That moral threat did avail in Wall street for a long time and much curiosity was displayed by those who wondered whether it would avail to any broker from getting gold from the treasury. At least, one house, believing that it was not so much of a club as it was a bluff, had the temerity to tempt fate, to decline to buy exchange, and instead to take gold from the treasury. After this house had done so and it was seen that the club did not fall others who had been timorous followed the example, so that now it seems to have been made plain that go dire pun-ishment awaits those who choose this course, or, as one of the greater bankers put it this morning. "They have called and found that it was a bluff

Now the question which confronts the syndicate, according to Wall street authorities, is this: Shall the rates for exchange be so fixed upon as to make it worth while for those who must have either exchange or gold for export to buy exchange? If they are thus will be a considerable lessening of the profits which the syndicate will divide on the 1st of Oct. or soon after.
