TO HIDE HIS CHAGRIN

Conclusive Proof That the Legacy Was a Myth.

DR. LEETE WAS HUMBUGGED

The Tribune Investigation at an End - Letters Written by Dr. Leete Admitting the Deception - Seen by a Reporter.

The investigation set afoot by The Tribune to discover whether or not Dr. Leete might not be a myth has brought forth the evidence below, and which no doubt will satisfy any disinterested person that Dr. Leete withheld some of his discoveries in order to cover his chagrin and out of charity for the feelings of his family.

On or about July 24 The Tribune learned from George H. Trauger, of Providence, that he had seen an item in the Los Angeles Times concerning the Dr. Leete legacy, and thought it possibly might have been a paragraph of a will, but could not say for sure, as he did not take much of an interest in the matter at the time he read it.
