SEASON WITH THE GHOSTS

Dr. James T. Lutton Gives a Spiritualistic Seance. REGULATION SPOOKS TALK. Owing to the Presence of Unbelievers the Affair Was Not an Entire Success, but Interesting Manifestations Were Brought Out.

James T. Lutton, well known in Scranton as a brilliant newspaper man, but more recently as a magnetic healer and spiritualistic teacher, gave an exhibition last evening in the Women's Christian Temperance union rooms.

The seance was not a success apparently because of the lack of harmony in the audience—all but one or two were unbelievers—and the spirits, Mr. Lutton said, won't work under such conditions.

The medium, Mrs. Hill, a poor, middle-aged, ignorant working woman, as Mr. Lutton also said, finally began to "get 'em" right here Mrs. R. T. Black was requested to preside at the piano, which she did in her usual magnificent style.

The first spirit to control the medium was an Indian, the old and reliable White Eagle ex-chief of the Chippewas, who is a good Indian, according to General Sheridan, having departed to the happy hunting grounds about twenty-five years ago.

White Eagle claimed to see in the spirit world a little girl, and from his description Alfred Twining recognized a niece of his who had died several years ago. White Eagle's acquaintance in the spirit land seemed to be limited and he was relegated to the "limbo above, or below—it was not decided which—to make room for George, another old standby.

Liked Mrs. Black's Playing. Like George, via the medium, had a very pleasant visit and said that he enjoyed Mrs. Black's playing. George finally gave way to Dinah, his better half, who insisted on coming in and enjoying to music. She recognized some friend of Mrs. Thomas Benton's and although Mrs. Benton tried her best, she couldn't quite recollect the spirit who she thought was a former school friend. This was the extent of Dinah's knowledge.

Mrs. Libbie Kellogg next materialized. Kellogg had but a few minutes to spare as she is a very busy spirit and had just been attending a Methodist camp meeting at Old Orchard. She had promised Mr. Lutton to appear at 4 o'clock at the family residence, but she could not make the time.

A Trial at Hypnotism. Mr. Lutton, who, no doubt, possesses a great deal of magnetic power, gave a short talk and attempted some mesmerism, but as none of those present were good subjects and the seance was brought to a close. Many present thought the thing was a "fake," while others believed that Dr. Lutton was not given a fair show.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Benton, Mr. and Mrs. Black, Mrs. Pease, Mrs. Frame, T. Vail, Mrs. Decker, Mr. Twining, Messrs. F. J. and John Fitzsimmons, Daniel Darrow and George W. Smitting.

REPORT OF ASSIGNEE. News That Will Interest the Creditors of the Defunct Olyphant Bank. Attorney John F. Kelly, as assignee of the Olyphant bank, filed his first partial report yesterday, and it was confirmed final at the end of thirty days if exceptions are not taken.

The report showed that the inventory filed fixes the assets at $75,941.91, but in addition to this Mr. Kelly finds resources mentioned in the inventory amounting to $3,608.52, which makes the total assets reach $79,550.43.
