THAT BALL GAME.

It Arouses the Slumbering Muse of the Spring Post.
Ahi! It was pitiful,
In whole city full
Friends had he none.
No one to cheer for him,
None to buy beer for him,
Not one was near for him,
Son of a gun.

"Manlove," the name of him,
More to the shame of him,
That told, bad man,
There were in all world,
But two in his love furled,
Himself, with wheels all whirled,
And Milligan.

With quivering hand and slow,
With brow deep lined with care,
A poet there sat,
And the wheels neath his hat
Played havoc with his long hair.

'Twas Eddie, the guardian of third,
The oldest in the biz,
And he said, as he looked,
"My goose that man cooked,
In the game, but now I'll cook him."

So the foregoing "poem" he wrote
Of the man who called strikes and balls,
And between you and me,
There are those who agree
With "Eddie from Buttermill Falls."

It lay not with the umpire,
It lay not with one man,
But all bore blame
With equal shame,
And bear it they will can.

For were Bill Massey there,
And were "Pete" in his prime,
We'd win that game
And see more fame
In quadrupled jig-time.

Of course, we didn't hit,
Of course, we erred in made,
But no one could
Be in the mood
While crippled as we played.

No features had this game,
No plays for histories,
But, Eh! today,
How we will play
These purse-proud Markleeses.

And now, if you wish
To know any more
Pray, delve
For yourself

It may be some days before the meek and lowly William will again be able to tear up things around the initial ottoman.

NARROW ESCAPE.

William Cox Barely Misses Being Struck by the Saratoga.
William Cox and an employe, while crossing the track at the head of Dundaff street in a wagon, had a narrow escape from being run down by a locomotive.
The train had just passed and they were hurrying to cross when, in some manner, the wheels slipped on the track and hitting something was stopped suddenly, the two men being thrown to the ground. They were considerably bruised by the fall, but what nearly caused their death was the Saratoga express, which was due about this time.

MEAN BUSINESS.

The Traction Company Officials Must Move Their Tracks.
There was a special meeting of the select council Tuesday. All the members were present except Mr. McNulty. The meeting was called to do something about the Belmont paving. This should have been furnished some time ago but owing to the Traction Company not complying with the conditions, which had been done. The city fathers do not mean to be played with any longer, and this subject was taken up at once.
An ordinance had been made some time ago in which the Traction Company were ordered to move their tracks. Owing to the absence of City Solicitor Stuart, nothing was done at that time but the meeting it was passed, and a clause providing that the requirements set forth in the ordinance should be complied in within twenty days after the notice had been served by the city clerk. If the company do not do it then the tracks will be moved by the city and the expenses charged to them. The notice had been served by the city clerk and the ordinance will be enforced.
An ordinance providing for the grading and curbing of Canaan street was also before the house. Considerable discussion was held about a fire alarm system.
The city solons are to be congratulated upon the way they have taken. They mean business and will do everything they say.

HER INJURIES FATAL.

Mrs. Lestonater Died at Emergency Hospital.
The injuries sustained by Mrs. Frank Lestonater, the woman who was struck by the gravity car, proved fatal, and she died at Emergency hospital, where she had been taken for treatment.
Mrs. Lestonater's sufferings were very great, and the shock was such that it was impossible to do anything for her, as the doctors saw that the injuries were necessarily fatal. The scenes at the place of the accident when the persons went back to pick up the unfortunate woman were very sad. Although she was herself terribly hurt and suffering great pain, she did not forget the little one she was carrying at the time, and her first words were for her baby.
Mrs. Lestonater is survived by a husband and four children. They resided near No. 4, and their little home was the scene of much happiness. Three brothers and one sister are also left to mourn her loss.
Mrs. Lestonater was respected and loved by all her neighbors whom she had often helped. She will be greatly missed by them. The funeral will take place this morning at 11 o'clock. After the service the remains will be taken to South Canaan, where they will be interred.

After the war he became an engineer on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad, and later on the Delaware and Hudson. It was while working for this company that he received his fatal injury. He accepted a position at the Central.

Thomas Pengelly, who was so terribly injured about two weeks ago by a fall from a gravity train, is rapidly improving at Emergency hospital and is able to sit up. He has a good appetite and converses freely with his friends and will be able to return to his home in a few weeks.

ARCHBALD.

A regular meeting of the borough council was held on Tuesday evening. All the members were present and the proceedings, at times, were of a rather lively nature. The first hitch occurred when the minutes were read. Mr. Jones having objected to their approval because of the failure of the secretary to include in the minutes an important motion, passed by the council. The secretary insisted that the motion appeared in the minutes read at a meeting at which Mr. Jones was not present. The objection was dropped by Mr. Jones, and a warm discussion followed. It did not have the effect of deciding the question, however, and it may be revived again. John P. Boland, secretary of the Home company, presented a list of the active members of the organization, and asked that they be exonerated from the payment of borough tax on the amount of the mortgage. The request was granted. The following bills were ordered paid: James Gilgallon, $2; Crescent Electric company, $100; Rent, $12; M. J. Craig, $125; C. H. Bauman, $25; C. Linde, rent for plot, $12; street commissioner's time, $320.10.

The impression seems to prevail that the exonerations granted by the school board and the borough council to the members of the Home company included exemption from the payment of school and borough tax. The members desire it stated that such is not the case. The exonerations apply only to their occupation, and the allowance in most cases does not exceed one dollar and sixty cents. There are very few in town who do not believe that they are entitled to this consideration.

In order to give the teachers and pupils an opportunity to attend the grand excursion to Farview of the Father-Mother-Brother-Sister inst., the school board has decided to reopen the borough schools on Tuesday, the 27th inst.

ON THE VERGE

Of Giving Up the Fight—An Elmira Citizen's Last Resource Proves a Success.

[From the Elmira Gazette.]
Do you, my friend, J. R. Bodder, of 214 South Main street? I have been a business man and permanent resident of Elmira for over twenty years. A man whose statement cannot be disputed. Well, Mr. Bodder's case is a notable one that he has been a sufferer from kidney disorder, but doesn't suffer any more. We will let him tell what has brought about the cure. Here is his story: "I have been in the case of my representative, I have never been well since the closing of the war, where, in the service of my country, I contracted kidney and bladder disorders. The complaint has gradually been growing on me. I had sharp pains in the small of my back, just back of the hips, and when they left it was only to be followed by a dull, heavy pain which remained continually. I could lie in bed or two positions in bed or the pain would be almost unbearable. I was always very sore, my head ached, and the urine emitted a strong odor. At times I felt existence a task. I tried this, that and the other thing, to no avail, and was on the verge of giving up entirely when I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised. I thought as a last resort I would give them a trial; they were highly recommended, and I would use them in the more remedy. I began taking them, and I am very glad indeed to give my statement, that suffering humanity may receive the same benefit I have. A few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills satisfied me they were helping me. Now, the pain is all gone, and I am entirely well—this, after years of sickness. My sleep at night is good and refreshing. I do not feel any more that tired feeling I used to on rising, all thanks due to Doan's Kidney Pills."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50. By mail on receipt of price by Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for United States.

TO OUR PATRONS:

Washburn-Crosby Co. wish to assure their many patrons that they will this year hold to their usual custom of milling STRICTLY OLD WHEAT until the new crop is fully cured. New wheat is now upon the market, and owing to the excessively dry weather many millers are of the opinion that it is already cured, and in proper condition for milling. Washburn-Crosby Co. will take no risks, and will allow the new wheat fully three months to mature before grinding.

This careful attention to every detail of milling has placed Washburn-Crosby Co.'s flour far above other brands.
