NEARING THE PENNANT.

Jack Luby Pitches Great Ball for Carbon

"Out in the open again, my brethern, with no rambunctious Hazleton team between us and the pennant. The stimulus of a flerce rivalry drives us on, the alluring prospects of laurel wreaths and fond glances from bright ever is before us, and the rewards of wreaths and fond glances from origin eyes is before us, and the rewards of fame and riches await us. Shall we now prove laggards in this struggle! Shall we strike our white and blue colors and capitulate to the Markleite combine! Perish the thought. We will rather fight every game to the death and by thus earnestly striving, we will assuredly win the lays that proclain victory, and the pennant which will make Carbondale honored in the sister-

The lily white hand of George Staltz

The lily white hand of George Staltz rested gracefully upon the bosom of his immaculate shirt as he orated. He was in full dress and so were the other members of the Carbondale team, Papa Eddie and ail. When the applause had subsided, George took a rest, a chair and a glass of milk.

The feast of wisdom and the flow of milk was entirely proper under the circumstances. With a worfully weakened team, we had won a game from the hard-hitting Readings, and by reason of Hazleton's defeat, had once more resumed our proper place at the head of the procession.

Jack Luby, late of the National league, and more lately of Scranton. was in the box for Carbondale. Jack has been ill for a few days, but he pitched good ball, nevertheless, much better ball. In fact, than the score would indicate. His work was appre-ciated by the large crowd present. There was another new face in the team, and the owner thereof also came in for a generous share of the applause and laurels. It was the face of that well-known and promising amateur, John Pinerty, of the Dunmore Morning Glories. He made two hard and timely hits and scored the winning run in the eighth.

McQuade's home run hit, made in the third inning with three men on bases, was the feature of the game. Mac played hard, lively ball throughout. Eddie Sales also got in a timely long hit and electrified the crowd by brilliant work in the field.

Today old "Cy Circus" will perform for us and John Fee may do the elegant for the enemy. We should take another fall out of them, and this event should be hailed by the acclamations of thousands.

DROWNING ACCIDENT.

Fifteen-Year-Old Harold McMinn Meets His Denth.

Yesterday Mr. and Mrs. McMinn, of Lincoln avenue, received the sad news of their son's death, which occurred at South Canaan. Young McMinn had just left a short time ago to spend a week with his un-cle, W. H. Moore, and the news of his death has nearly prostrated his parents. MoMinn, in company with an-other boy named Rockwell, had gone to a small mill pond nearby, where they went in swimming. The pond, with the exception of a channel which runs through it, is not deep. McMinn could not swim, while Rockwell was not a good swimmer. McMinn did not venture from the shore but contented himself with remaining in the shallow water. Suddenly, however, his companion heard a cry, and turning, was horrified to see him sinking. In some way he had stepped off in the deep channel. Rockwell was frightened, but did all he could to rescue the drowning boy. He could do nothing, though, as he was too poor a swimmer to attempt to reach him. His cries reached the ears of Mr Moore, who was working in the field at some distance from the pond, but he paid no attention to them at first, as he thought they were fooling. Soon, however, he thought something must be the matter, and he hurried to the place. Here he was told what had happened by Rockwell and together they brought the already drowned boy to shore.

The body was taken to the home of his uncle and a messenger sent to the boy's parents, who were nearly heartbroken by the shock.

The remains were prepared for burial by a South Canaan undertaker and were brought to this city yesterday afternoon.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. Rev. Charles Lee, of the Presbyterian church, will conduct the services. Interment will be made in Maplewood cemetery.

At the council meeting on Tuesday evening an effort was made to enforce the license ordinance which has de-servedly rested in obscurity during the past three years. This ordinance has been a sort of bugaboo to former councils and there has never been enough evenue derived from it to pay for the printing of it. There may be some jus-tice in demanding a reasonable fee from outsiders doing business here, but it is flagrantly unjust to ask anyone to pay the extortionate tribute demanded by our present ordinance. Under its terms a huckster or peddler of any kind must business here and a butcher is chliged to pay $2 per day. There are different rates for different tradesmen, but in no case is there anything like a reasonable fee demanded. If the council in-tends on collecting tribute from this class it had better repeal the old and frame a new and more reasonable or-
