

Wilkes-Barre.

[The Tribune has opened a branch office at No. 23, Lansing building, public square, Wilkes-Barre. It is the purpose of the publishers to issue a newspaper as valuable to the general public as the metropolitan dailies, and deliver it to the people throughout northeastern Pennsylvania from three to five hours earlier than the Philadelphia and New York papers can reach them.]

FOR JUDGE RICE.

A General Citizens' Committee Will Go to Harrisburg in Its Interests.

A well-attended meeting of the Republican league was held last evening in the league rooms, President Robinson presiding. A resolution was offered to the effect that the committee of five be appointed to confer with the Republicans of Luzerne county to form a large general committee to go to the Harrisburg convention, solely in the interests of Judge Rice. This committee is to keep free from the Hastings Quay battle, and to devote its entire efforts solely to Judge Rice's interest. It was moved that Tax Receiver E. H. Chase be made chairman of this committee, as he stands near Judge Rice, and has looked into the matter to some extent, and that the chairman be given power to select his own committee-men. This was carried, and Mr. Chase chose his committee at once. The committee consists of L. Williams, S. A. Bacharach, Harry Delrick and Hon. James Griner. These gentlemen will confer with other Republicans in the city and county and urge them all to attend the general meeting to decide this matter, which will be held next Tuesday evening at the league rooms. Suggestions can then be made and the whole matter will be considered. Mr. Chase, in the meantime, will look up railroad rates and hotel accommodations and report thereon to the committee at the general meeting on Tuesday evening.

BERWICK SENSATION.

The Postmaster's Accounts Are Too Short to Look Well.

The residents of Berwick are greatly excited over the suspension of their postmaster, Charles B. Bort, for the present postoffice inspector for alleged irregularity and a shortage in his accounts of $113.84.

Charles Bort is well known in this city and Pittston. He is an old printer and worked for a time as foreman on the Pittston Times. He later went to Berwick and secured a place on the Berwick Independent, purchasing the plant and is now editor and proprietor of the paper.

It is said that Bort's bondsmen, learning that it was suspected that everything was not as it should be, went to the postoffice and the inspector who was sent up found the shortage and had the postmaster dismissed. R. S. Bowman, who was postmaster previous to Bort's appointment, and who also was the former owner of the Independent, was appointed to the place to conduct the affairs of the postoffice until another regular postmaster is appointed.

POLITICAL POINTS.

The Democrats of the county seem to be in somewhat of a quandary as to whom they will elect for chairman of the county committee. Attorney James L. Lennahow does not accept the office, and now a determined assault is being made on John McGahren, to lead the forlorn hope. The news-dealer says that Mr. McGahren is equipped to make an able and vigorous chairman, but that he is not inclined to him in insisting that he take the place. Mr. McGahren is a neighbor and close associate of Mr. Bennett, the Republican candidate for county clerk, and has been so for years. Their association has been most friendly and intimate, and to ask him to go out and make a fight against a close friend and associate is putting the word of party loyalty to a test that is too severe. If he should undertake the leadership on behalf of the candidates, and the result should not be to the satisfaction of a number of Democrats who would be malicious enough to charge that owing to his friendship for Bennett he did not make as vigorous a fight as he could and should have done. Every one has their enemies, and a party defeat under the leadership of John McGahren would be a sore blow for some Democrats hereabouts.

It is not at all likely that Mr. McGahren would accept the office, and it is equally certain that he will not be dragged into it. Chairman of the county committee is a thankless job at best. If the ticket wins, the candidates thank that victory was achieved through their own personal popularity, but if defeat comes, then it is the chairman's fault.

The friends of Mr. McLean are having a tough time trying to convince the public at large that Mr. McLean's opposition to Judge Lynch is not due to anything and that all Judge Lynch's friends should forget the slap in the face and turn in and work for Mr. McLean. It is true that Judge Lynch was elected over Mr. McLean's opposition, but that wasn't Mr. McLean's fault. He tried to do Judge Lynch all the damage he could, and it is doubtful if there are half a dozen Democratic lawyers at the Luzerne bar who would sign their name to such a card as Mr. McLean did. The argument that Judge Lynch's friends will not dare to oppose Mr. McLean because he (Judge Lynch) will be a candidate for re-election some seven years hence is the rankest kind of nonsense. It is not likely that Mr. McLean's influence could not defeat Judge Lynch in 1892 if it grew to such proportions as to do it in 1902. So Judge Lynch's friends are safe in this year, returning to Mr. McLean the slap which he administered to Judge Lynch three years ago, and it is altogether likely that they will do it.

There isn't a man on the Democratic county ticket whose political skirts are clean, and the Democracy probably realizes this more strongly in Lee Stanton than in any other candidate. It is only a few short months since Stanton came out of one of the fattest berths in the court house, namely the clerk of the court, and to again saddle him on the county in an office like that of sheriff is more than the people of Luzerne will stand. Americans have a great dislike of a renegade office holder, and what Mr. Stanton evidently aspires to be. But his path from his nomination at Muske

Hill to the sheriff's office in the court house is anything but an easy one. He charged an illegal fee of $50 to license a liquor dealer who took out a license in 1894, and this has turned the liquor interests of the county against him to a man. They are a very powerful factor in the politics of Luzerne county, and will be heard from by Mr. Stanton when the votes are counted next November.

It's dollars to doughnuts that if J. K. P. Fenner, of Ashley, Democratic candidate for controller, could have foreseen his candidacy, he would never have signed the card he did, advocating the election of Treasurer Reed in 1892, when that gentleman was a candidate on the Republican ticket. Reed defeated, and he and his friends are not unkindly of Mr. Fenner's work for the county. Mr. Fenner comes forward and says that he signed the card as a member of the fire department, and not as a Democrat. He also denies that he worked for Reed or did anything against Fenner. Of course, a poor excuse is better than none, and no doubt Mr. Fenner, at the time, was very glad to see an able man in the treasurer's office. But he couldn't foresee that in 1895 he would need the Democratic friends he could get, and a few on the other side too, and so, two years ago, did not consider his action imprudent. But Mr. McGahren has a long memory, and so have his friends, so that before long Mr. Fenner will bitterly regret that he as a Democrat, signed into print with an endorsement of a Republican candidate. There is going to be some fun at this election, and more than one old score will be found to have been paid up, when the votes are counted.

A Serious Accident.

Miss Anna B. Phelps met with a most serious accident while returning from this city to her cottage on the mountain yesterday. Miss Phelps was sitting on the rear seat of the carriage and was leading her saddle horse by a strap, one end of which was wrapped around her wrist. While going over a water break, the led horse suddenly stopped, and before Miss Phelps could extricate the strap she was pulled from the wagon backward, breaking her right arm above the wrist. She was taken at once to her home, where the broken arm was set.

She Sails Today.

Miss Sadie Kallier, the well-known soprano from this city who has been winning so much fame abroad, sails today for the city of Paris. There is considerable talk of giving Miss Kallier a reception on her return to this city, and this idea will probably be carried out.

Killed in the Mines.

There will be no service in the Methodist Episcopal church tomorrow, owing to the Wyoming camp meeting.

The outing of the Price Library association to Mountain Lake was a successful success in every particular, as was evidenced by the crowd who accompanied them. The merchants had closed their places of business and a number of them took this opportunity for a day's recreation, which they enjoyed to their great satisfaction and pleasure. The crowd left on the regular 8:23 a. m. train, which was filled to its utmost, and the journey made over the line as far as Stone avenue, near Scranton, from where the crowd went on foot. At the lake the day was spent in different ways, some in sunbathing, some in fishing, and some in other amusements. The day one of intense enjoyment. Dancing was indulged in by many, but the principal amusement was the boats, which were continuously in use. An amusing feature was a boat race between William Watkins, John Jones and Fred Winslow. After a close and exciting race, Watkins succeeded in winning. Watkins and Winslow were tie. The return trip was made at different hours in the afternoon and evening, and all were profuse in their declaration of spending a most enjoyable day.
