

Carbondale News.

WOE AND LOTS OF IT.

Carbondale has been in a game remarkable only for its excessive stupidity. Saturday's game between Lancaster and Carbondale was the worst seen at Anthracite park this season. Anderson was at his worst, and that means a great deal. He was as wild as a yearling thoroughbred, as seven bases on balls will testify. When he did get the ball over it was batted whomever and wheresoever the batsman wished.

It was not all Anderson's fault by a long shot. The men behind him were careless and unfortunate. Seven large sized errors were chalked up against them when the tucture was at an end. Thirteen safe hits of various dimensions, seven bases on balls and seven errors constitute a combination that will in nine cases out of ten result in defeat, even in the Eastern league.

The visitors' work shows luminously in contrast. It was clean, snappy and harmonious. They deserved to win.

Carbondale will win today's game. Make a note of that fact. Bill Massey will be back in his old position, and Cy Circus will continue to toil and perform hysteresis upon his erstwhile brethren.

Following is the score:

PLAYERS' AVERAGES.

How Our Pets Sizing Up in the First

The official earnings of the first season of the State league have just been issued by President Hanlon. They show that the Carbondale players, even at that early stage of the game, were very much up to the mark.

Hess and Massey practically lead the league batsmen, the former having 71 hits in the 34 games played and the latter 67 hits. Hess has an average of .467 and Massey .421. Tiche, of Pottsville, has the credit of leading the batting, but he only played 12 games. McLaughlin ranks second in fielding among the pitchers, with 972 per cent, and Flannigan is again next to last with 699. Hess is third among the catchers, with 961. Only those who played more than ten games are included in these averages, hence Patchen's name does not appear.

Massey is an easy second among the league's first batsmen, with a fielding average of .973. Eddie Sales is fifth in the list of second basemen, with .904. Wetzel is eighth in the shortstops, with .729. George Westlake occupies the proud position of leader among the third basemen of the league, with the average of .923.

Staltz is a close second in the outfielding averages, with .957. He is practically first, as Smith, who leads him, only participated in 29 games, while George cavorted in 33. John Moran is fourth, with .946, and Mart McQuaid ninth, with .919.

CARBONDALE IS HOT.

Scranton's Action in Refusing to Let Luby Sign is the Cause.

The Carbondale base ball public is very much exercised over the contemptible action of the Scranton management in refusing to allow Pitcher Jack Luby to come to this city.

Luby was fined all his salary for one act of indiscretion to which he had been provoked by coarse and continued insults.

Not content with this harsh treatment, he has been suspended without pay for several weeks. Now, when he has an opportunity to earn his living, the dogs in the Scranton manager refuse to allow him to play. This course is as unmanly as it is characteristic. It is diamonds to glass that if any other town than Carbondale asked for the services of this man, no objection would have been raised.

IN POLICE COURT.

A Misanthrope Who Insulted Ladies Sent to Jail—Other Offenders Punished.

Charles Vincent, a machinist, was fined $10 Saturday for insulting ladies on the street. He also was fined $10 for insulting the face. In default of payment he was taken to the county jail.

Patrick Dunn was also taken to that institution for boisterous behavior on the West Side. "Dad" Atkinson, who tried to beat his wife, in default of bail, was escorted to the county jail also.

TO BINGHAMTON.

Odd Fellows' Excursion Promises to Be a Large One.

Tomorrow's excursion to Binghamton under the auspices of Olive Leaf lodge No. 156, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, will, from the present outlook, prove a large one. A large number of tickets have already been sold. The train leaves the Union depot at 8 a. m. This

The ever-recurring question of having the grand jury meet a week in advance of the regular session, was discussed again. It is a matter about which there need be but little argument. If there is any general desire on the part of the taxpayers to have the change made it can be easily done, and if, upon trial, it is less satisfactory or more expensive, the practice is just as easily abandoned.

Henry Luce, a resident of the First ward, is exclaiming in jail on charge of stealing goods from the store of Mr. Fox. Luce was in the habit of trading at the store, and his credit had become somewhat shaky. The proprietor demanded pay in advance for some goods bought. While arguing about the matter Mr. Fox's attention was drawn away by another customer for a few moments and Luce seized the goods of the counter and went home with them. His arrest was followed by a hearing and in default of bail he was sent to jail for appearance at court.

Some of his United States coins date back to 1792, and he is constantly receiving collections of rare coins from various sections of the country. It is a fact that runs into money quite rapidly.

The controversy in the Mack & Miller audit case, arising over the distribution of the fund derived from the assignee's sale of the silk spool factory at this place, has just been decided by William M. Post, esq., of Montrose, who was appointed auditor to distribute said fund. The contention was as to whether a mortgage entered against the factory was or was not discharged by the sale. If not, it would remain a lien on the property in the hands of the purchaser. The auditor decided that the lien of the mortgage was divested by the sale. Exceptions to his report will be filed, and in all probability the case will be taken to the Supreme court, no matter which way the court here disposes of it.

Orin B. Hadwell, of Lynn, and Nellie Ace, of Tully, have been granted a marriage license.

Mrs. Ezekiel Mead, of Lemon township, is reported very ill, with little prospect for recovery.

AN INTERESTING CANVASS.

From Pearson's Weekly.

Two men who had been sitting together in the seat near the door of a railway car became engaged in an animated controversy, and their loud voices attracted the attention of all the other passengers. The suddenly opened, and he cried out: "Ladies and gentlemen, I appeal to you to decide a disputed point. My friend here insists that not more than three persons out of five believe they have souls. I take a more cheerful view of humanity than that. Will all of you who believe you have souls raise your right hand?"

"Thank you," he said, with a smile. "Keep them up a moment. Now, will all of you who believe in a hereafter please raise your left hand also?"

"Thank you again," he said. "Now, while all of you have your hands raised," he continued, drawing a pair of revolvers and leveling them, "my friend here will go down the aisle and relieve you of whatever valuables you may happen to have. Lively now, Jim."

Evidence of Failure.

From Judge.

"Is the patient failing, doctor?"

"No, sir, he has made a singular reference so far, today, to the score of yesterday's game."
