WRONG MAN ARRESTED

Supposed Oliver Perry Is an Innocent Hayseed.

DETECTIVE MAKES A MISTAKE

Miss Seabert Upon Being Brought Face to Face with the Prisoner in Jersey City Says He Is Not the Man Who Assaulted Her.

An innocent countryman ,who was upposed to be Oliver Perry, the Wimsupposed to be Oliver Perry, the Wim-mers flend, has been lying in the Jersey City jail since last Thursday wondering why he was being so zealously guarded, and what the deuce the detectives were driving at when they were periodically trying to extract a confession from him.

After Perry assaulted Miss Mame After Perry assaulted Miss Mame Seibert at Wimmers one week ago Sat-urday he went through the woods by carriage and afoot and took an Eric and Wyoming train at Port Jervis. Here all trace of him was lost, but as it was firmly believed that he would go to Jersey City a description of him was wired to the police authorities there. Detective Williams, who was on the lookout for Perry, saw a gawkish fellookout for Perry, saw a gawkish fel-low, answering Perry's description, alight from a freight train that had just come in from the direction of Port Jervis, and, after satisfying himself that the stranger was the man he was in quest of, he placed him under arrest and notified Scranton to come for Perry.

Denied That He Was Perry. The prisoner denied all knowledge of the crime, of course, and refused to the crime, of course, and refused to admit that his name was anything else but William H. Bennisto, and claimed that he had no particular home or occupation. When the word of the capture was received here steps were immediately taken to extradite the supposed Perry. County Detective Leyshon was despatched to Harrisburg yesterday with requisition papers prepared by Assistant District Attorney terday with requisition papers pre-pared by Assistant District Attorney Harris. The signature of the governor to them was secured yesterday after-noon. District Attorney Jones, to make assurance doubly sure, had Miss Sel-bert go to Jersey City yesterday to identify Perry. She went down on the early morning train and returned at 9 o'clock last night with the word that the Jersey City prisoner is not the man who assaulted her. She says that the suspected man, to-

The supposed Perry was then singly brought before her, but she could not find the least resemblance between him and the man who attacked her in the woods at Wim-mers, Word was telegraphed to Detectective Leyshon at Harrisburg and he started for home last night.

Perry Is Out of the Way. Perry is no doubt by this time safely out of the way, as he has had an op-portunity of putting hundreds of miles between himself and his pursuers in the week which has elapsed since the crime was committed.

This bill was laid over from the last meeting and it was expected it would be finally disposed of last night, but owing to the fact that only a bare majority of the committee was present, it was deemed better not to take action upon the measure owing to the rupture between the Mayor and the Crystals.

The Anderson woman was emphatic in stating that she cated nothing for the stating that she cared nothing for the man, and was willing to bid him good riddance after his troth was plighted. # PUBLIC IS IN THE Little Conception of Importance of Board of Trade Work.

QUIETLY BOOMING SCRANTON

Much Has Been Done Within a Year-Advantages of the Culm Fuel Are Being Made Known-Flood of Daily Correspondence.

It is a peculiar fact that but a small percentage of the general public know of the really great work conducted by the Scranton board of trade. The usual knowledge of what that body does comes from an occasional reading in the newspapers of reports of a peri-odical meeting. Within a year there has been located in Scranton through the effort of the board of trade three manufacturing in-dustries which alone will distribute andustries which alone will distribute annually by wages and receipts a sum estimated between $500,000 and $1,000.000. These concerns are the Eureka Cash Register company, the National Elevator and Machinery company and John Simpson & Co., silk manufacturers, who come here from Paterson, N. J.

N. J.

In addition to the many accomplishments of the board which are made public, that organization and its live secretary, Dolph B. Atherton, are constantly pushing forward the advantages of Scranton as a cheap fuel center and quietly advertising the city in its peculiar inducements through labor and rower as the Merce for the manupower as the Mecca for the manu-

Nucleus of a Village.

Nucleus of a Village.

The three enterprises mentioned would be the nucleus of a thriving town of 15,000 inhabitants. When are completed the silk mill of Simpson & Co., the plant will represent a value of $100,000, outside of engines and boilers. The buildings will cover several acres on the South Side and will be only one story high. At the beginning 400 hands will be employed and eventually work will be supplied 1,000 persons.

The National Elevator and Machinery company has not yet secured its

The National Elevator and Machin-ery company has not yet secured its own manufacturing plant, but it is capitalized and doing business; its pro-duct is being made by contract by firms of the city. The account system, books and registers of the Eureka Cash Register company are being shipped to all points in the United States, from coast to coast and between the northcoast to coast and between the north-ern and southern boundaries of the

But the work of locating new indus-tries in Scranton is one of the least of the actually performed duties of the board. There seems to be a tacit un-derstanding that the manufactures committee, which is the mainstay and anchor of the board, and the secretary shall spread abroad the cheapness and shall spread abroad the cheapness and practical utility of culm as a fuel. It is of the labor and benefit in connection with this work that only a slight conception has been formed. A simple llustration will show why Scranton's culm fuel is attracting attention and why the board of trade is called upon to "boom the thing," as they say in the vernacular of trade: vernacular of trade:

Difference in Horse Power. In Boston and throughout sections of the country where water power is unavailable it costs from $35 to $60 for each horse-power used by a manufacturer per year. In Scranton, with culm in limitless quantities selling at from 10 to 25 cents per load, a one-horse power per year costs $4. Now the difference between $60 and $4 is great, enormously great in the eyes of the manufacturer, and that's why the office of Secretary Atherton daily receives interested Charles Lawrence, charged with criminally assaulting Mrs. Daharska, of Dickson City, was committed to the county jail yesterday by the Polish justice of the peace, John Silmiski.

John Sullivan likened himself unto his famous namesake by beating his wife Saturday night, and was sent up by Justice of the Peace W. D. Griffiths. tion which seems bound to come to a head next year, so the manufactures committeemen say, and then their ef-forts will reveal the "thousand-fold of bread cast upon the waters."

Just one illustration will suffice: To-Just one illustration will suffice: To-morrow or Thursday a manufacturing chemist of Buffalo, with capital and who has heard of Scranton's chaep power, will come here to see if what he has heard and read is true. He has intimated that he will require 400-horse power to run his plant. When he comes here the shipping advantages and convenience of the city will be and convenience of the city will be shown him and he will probably de-part to investigate the facilities of other cities. If he is in earnest he will eventually locate here; it may be with-in six months, or it may be a year but, he will come.

Old-Time Tactics Discarded.

For several years Scranton's claims and aspirations as a cheap-fuel center attracted less attention than now for two main reasons: First, the hue and cry of the Niagara power for a time overshadowed all else in its line; secovershaudwed an eise in its line; sec-ond, Scranton's cheap power advant-ages were put forward in a haphazzard and unmethodical way. A change has been wrought in this city's favor through the inability or unwillingness of the Niagara promoters to deliver their power at the figures promised, and the tide in Scranton's favor has been given added impetus during the last six months by judicious advertising and a boom with a bottom to it.

The policy followed recently by the board has been of a kind based upon sound business principles. Manufacturers from abroad have not been told that money was lying around in barrels waiting to be capitalized into some-thing, as was the case a few years ago. The capitalization business seems to have been relegated to the rear, and new-comers and investigators are told new-comers and investigators are told something like this: "Scranton can furnish you the cheapest horse power known, water excepted. Here are the proofs. Now, give us a proper guarantee that you will locate here and conduct your industry after it is built, and we will give you the land. We want you here; but we don't want any of the profits of your business."

profits of your business."

If anybody has any doubts of the amount of work involved in legitimately booming Scranton and being at the beck and call of scores of out-of-town beck and call of scores of out-or-town visitors daily—such a person could pro-fitably spend a few hours in the board of trade rooms, where the voluminous correspondence and the bustle of an all-around, full-blooded information bureau would convince him that Scran-ton is being investigated.
