Carbondale News.

IT WAS A GREAT GAME. And the Best Part of It Was That Car bondale Won.

Every game that Carbondele wins is a good game, but yesterday's contest had an intrinsic merit apart from that bestowed upon it by the incident of victory. It was, without a doubt, the most sensational game ever played in Carbondale. By this I mean that more hair-lifting, paralyzing field plays occurred than in any other exhibition of the gr-r-reat and gl-l-lorious national mastime.

According to the schedule, no game was to have been played between Lancaster and Carbondale. A game had, however, been postponed because of rain and George Francis Train Leidy opined that vesterday was a good time to the that yesterday was a good time to play that game off. He was impelled to this that game off. He was impelled to this opining by his thought that the Carbondale team is weak just at present. He had his think box repaired last evening. It was about two days behind the times. George Francis and his band of freshly-kaundried Lancasterians had at the impelled to the street of another incentive toward the playing and winning of that game. In the event of a victory each man was to receive $5 in addition to his regular salary, and every mother's son of them kicked holes through the baggiest portions of their parallettes. tion of their nice white pantalettes when the game was over. "Chorch" Staltz was the three rings chorch statiz was the three rings in one, the menagerie, the grand con-cert and the side show all in one. He got to first base five times, secored two runs, reached third base twice, made two corking hits and pulled down six flies, every one of which was a difficult chance. His catch in the fourth inning was a "loo loo," at least that is Eddie Sales' definition of it.

Eddie Sales' definition of it.

Danny Shields was also very much in the games, Every one of his nine chances were hard and he negotiated them all like a past master in the art of legerdemain. His jump and catch of a high line drive in the ninth was thing of beauty and a joy for some

Eddie Sales also got in front of several cannon drives with great dis-aster to the drives. Wetzel and Massey figured in two slick double plays. Mc-Quade made three beautiful catches. Westlake accepted his single chance with grace and aplomb. Peter Ander-son pitched pennant winning ball. He had terrific speed and good control. And "Patch, old boy" do you ask? Why bless your soul! did you ever see or hear of a game in which Patch was not in the good playing right up to the neck? I should say several kinds of not. He has played steady, honest ball, and does more for his team's success than any man in the league. Today comes the Hazletons, Today comes the Hazletons, and a crowd of 2,000 at least should turn out to see the game. Upon the three games which they will play this week will, in large measures, depend the abiding place of the pennant of '95. Every Carbondalion with an item of pride for this city in his or her composition, should be present at these games to cheer our boys on to victory. Following is the score:
