FOUR MEN ARRESTED. They Are Charged With Having Robbed Four men, undoubtedly the burglars who bound and robbed Rev. William Cochrane and his wife at Rendham, early Thursday morning, were landed in the county jail last night by Constable Edmund W. Carter and Edwin Allen, of Rendham. The prisoners are William J. Van Dyke, John Moran, Elias Thomas and John Jims, all residents of Rendham or thereabouts.

The detection and summary arrest of these desperate men reflects great credit upon the officers and the clitzens of that locality in general who aided in bringing about the arrest. Van Dyke, who is the same crook that robbed Wolfe's clothing and tobacco store on Penn avenue and Protheroe & Watkins' store on Main avenue, West Side, and who has also served a term for horse stealing, was suspected of the crime by those of the town who knew his record, and were aware that he was about his home, which is at present in Rendham. He was located in a saloon in Mudtown and thither Rev. Mr. Rendham. He was located in a saloon in Mudtown and thither Rev. Mr. Cochrane was brought with all dispatch. The clergyman was secreted in a side room and then the door was opened in order that he might hear the conversation in the bar room. Without seeing or knowing any of the men who were present Mr. Cochrane picked out one certain voice and afpicked out one certain voice and af-firmed positively that it was the voice of the man who led the gang that rob-bed him.

It Was the Voice of Van Dyke. The man to whom the voice belonged was none other than the notorious Ven Dyke. In order not to arouse suspicion, Mr. Cochrane and the officers left quietly by a rear door and had a warrant sworn out for Van Dyke's arrest. Constables Carter, Allen, Genkie and Powell and Chief of Police John Evans, of Taylor, surrounded his house at 4 o'clock yesterday morning and placed him under arrest. When the officers called him to come out he appeared with a gun in to come out he appeared with a gun in his hand, but seeing the strong force that confronted him quietly submitted.

John Moran, a pal of Van Dyke, and a worthless character in general, was also secured. Later it was learned that two more suspects, Elias Thomas and John Jims had disappeared from the town, having evidently taken the alarm from the arrest of Van Dyke and Moran. About 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon the ticket agent at Lackawanna sent word that men answering their description were there walking along the track in the direction of Speak-Eastes Has Begun.

The war against proprietors of speak-easies has begun. Yesterday T. F. Mc-Dermott, John Kelly and Michael Corcoran, of Jessup, were arraigned be-fore Alderman Miller on a charge of selling liquor without a license. Corcoran waived a hearing and en-tered bail fr his appearance at court. In the cases against Kelly and Mc-Dermott, Detectives Edward Mott and James Reynolds swore that they had purchased and drank ale and beer in places conducted by McDermott and Kelly. Warrants have also been issue for ten other men residing at Jessup, who are likewise charged with the unlawful sale of liquor.

The detectives have been about Jessup for a week securing evidence agianst the speak-easy proprietors.

Mrs. Prances E. Hackley Decides to Establish Two Kindergartens.

LOCATION SELECTED FOR THEM One is to Be Opened at Archbald and the Other in This City-They Will Be Under the Control of Screnton Association.

Mrs. Frances A. Hackley, of New York, has given new evidence of her generosity, public spirit and humans sentiments by furnishing the money to establish two kindergartens, one at Archbald and the other in this city. Each will accommodate fifty pupils. Mrs. Hackley is the lady who a short time ago gave $25,000 to the Young Men' Christian association to be used in the establishment of the Raymond institute, the object of which is to educate young people along manual training lines.

Mrs. Hackley has taken a great interest in kindergarten work, but as she has not the time to personally supervise the management of those she will found she has placed them under the charge of the Scranton Free Kindergarten association.

She has located one of them at Archoald, because there are located coal works of extensive Colonel Hackley. husband. The Scranton association has the locating of the kindergarten for the city. It will probably be established on West Side. The association now has two kindergartens on Washington avenue, one at Green Ridge and the other in the central city. A third is located in the Jewish synagogue on Linden street. It will require an outlay of about $2,000 a year to support the two kindergartens that Mrs. Hackey will establish.

The Scranton Free Kindergarten association, under whose auspicies the kindergarten work was un-dertaken in this city, has devoted much time and atten-tion to promoting this important work: President, A. D. Holland; advisory board, Colonel E. H. Ripple, Rev. Wanten G. Partridge and Mrs. Alfred Hand; executive committee, Mrs. L. B. Powell, Mrs. J. A. Price, Mrs. T. H. Watkins, Mrs. C. D. Simpson and Miss Lizzie Howell. Mrs. E. L. Fuller is treasurer of the association, and to her contributions for maintaining the kindergartens conducted by the association can be sent. Assistance for the work is earnestly desired.

The kindergartens and school for kindergarteners will open in September and be in charge of Miss Kathrine H. Clark, of Boston.

"POOR RICHARD."

inique Cause of the Naming of Dr Houser's Awkward Horse.

Dr. Houser, of Taylor, the well known horseman owns a valuable tratter in an awkward looking horse, "Poor Richard" by name. The doctor relates to his friends how the animal was given this Benjamin Franklin appellation. A few seasons ago the doctor purchased "Poor Richard" from Dr. Allen, the Scranton physician. At the time the horse was a poke in appearance and speed. But the Taylor sport saw action in those lumbering limbs and a deal made.

Then came a racing meet at the Driving Park, and Dr. Houser put the animal in training for the event. The day came and the Taylor physician was friving the horse to the park, wondering under what name he would enter the "poke" by. "Dick," he was called at that time, and as the journey was progressing, the horseman met Dr. Allen, the former owner.

Where are you going?" yelled Dr. 'Up to the park-going to enter 'Dick.' for the races. for the races."

Dr. Allen laughed at the awkward looking animal, murmuring in a distinct undertone, "Poor Richard!"

Dr. Houser saw the name for his horse right there and "Poor Richard" was the name put down at the park. The horse made a splendid showing and the next day was known among the gentlemen drivers from Carbondale to Duryea. Since that time the horse has been a gold mine and the doctor prizes the name as greatly as he does the "old poke" that

The arrest of Mr. Bishop had nothing to do with the alleged exposure in the Republican, and could not from the fact that the warrant for his arrest was sworn out by Miss Annie Anthony on Aug. 19. The constable was not able to arrest Bishop until yesterday. A newspaper should not seek to bolster up its position by misstating facts."
