CITY NOTES.

Three vagrants were captured by the police early yesterday morning and sent to the county jail for thirty days.

William DeVere, the defaulting manager of Hotel Roma, was taken to the county jail yesterday in default of $500 bail.

Patrick Mangin, a workman at the car shop, sustained a painful contusion of the scalp yesterday morning by being struck by a hammer, which fell from the top of a car.

The judicial committee of select council and the special committee of the same branch appointed to revise the fire limits ordinance, will meet tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock.

A. C. Spring, proprietor of one of the night lunch wagons, was fined in police court yesterday morning for creating a disturbance in a Lackawanna avenue saloon and resisting arrest.

Marriage licenses were granted yesterday by the clerk of the courts to William G. Graves and Emily S. Griffiths, Jersey City; Mark Milton and Catherine Dougherty, Archbald.

Matthew, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Brien, of South Washington avenue, died yesterday morning. This is the second death in the family in a week. Funeral tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment in Hyde Park cemetery.

Attorney John P. Quinnan, representing the estate of Agnes Kane, yesterday brought suit for the recovery of $10 insurance money from the Prudential Life Insurance company. Alderman Wright, before whom the case was tried, reserved his decision until today.

At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon a team of horses owned by John Phillips, of the South Side, ran away on the Cedar avenue bridge and ran against a pole on the other end of the bridge. The off horse struck its leg against the pole and sustained a compound fracture. It had to be shot.

In the estate of Michael Krupar, late of Carbondale, letters of administration were granted yesterday to the widow, Mary Krupar, by Register of Wills Hopkins.

The will of Mary E. Thomas, of this city, was admitted to probate, and letters testamentary granted to Arthur and Alice Thomas, children of the deceased.

John Dreck, who has been serving a four-months' sentence in the county jail for an assault committed by him, will be released today, but will at once be arrested at the instance of Mr. Hamilton, of Troop, whose eye Dreck is charged with having cut out in the assault, for participation in which Dreck has been confined in the county jail. John wharfed is now in jail awaiting sentence for participation in the same affray.

STOPPED THE PAVING.

Barber Asphalt Company Did Not Take Proper Precautions.

The Barber Asphalt company began the work of paving the Linden street bridge yesterday morning, but because they did not heed the behests of City Engineer Phillips the work was stopped by that official.

The asphalt company wanted to drive the material on the bridge in order to carry the material to the point of operations as the work progressed further and further, but this City Engineer Phillips would not allow, because the bridge planks which at present form the only flooring, are newly painted. He, however, granted them permission to use a space of about sixty feet on the concrete, making the provision that they should plank the whole bridge with two-inch planks. The company accepted the offer and laid the planks on the concrete, but failed to live up to it.

Instead of using two-inch planks they used one-inch boards, some of which were rotten and some of which afforded proper protection to the plates. When the city engineer learned of the company's action he immediately stopped the work and told them they could not proceed until they complied with his stipulations.

During the afternoon the company sent word that the proper planking would be laid and operations re-commenced today.

It is expected that the paving, hand rails and other work will be completed before Sept. 15.

Survivors of the Pennsylvania Second Heavy Artillery Meet.

THEIR NINTH ANNUAL REUNION
Over 200 in Attendance—Election of Officers—Camp Fire Last Night—Visit of Veterans to Mines and Steel Mills—To Homesdale Today.

The ninth annual reunion of the Survivors' association of the Second Pennsylvania Heavy artillery, One Hundred and Twelfth regiment, began yesterday morning in the hall of Lieutenant Ezra S. Griffin post, No. 139, Grand Army of the Republic, on Lackawanna avenue. The morning was spent enrolling the veterans and their wives as they arrived, and the afternoon was devoted to business. In the evening a camp-fire was held. After the meeting the members boarded special cars at Lackawanna and Wyoming avenues and had the pleasure of a trip over the line of interest in the city. Many of the veterans and their wives went down the Pine Brook shaft and saw the mines, others went to the steel mill. Today will be spent at Homesdale, the train leaving the Delaware and Hudson station at 8:25 this morning.

The Survivors' association has a membership of about 200, and a large majority of them are attending the ninth reunion. It is by far the most successful that has been held since the organization, excepting the one held a few years ago in Philadelphia. The veterans are enthusiastically prepared to grant that Scranton is a bustling city and without a superior and few peers in the spirit of hospitality.

The rallying cry sent out to all the comrades prior to the present reunion was: "Boys, we are growing old; soon all will be called to the eternal camping ground. Many of us will not be here when the next reunion call is sounded. Don't neglect this opportunity to meet old comrades in arms at Scranton. Possibly never again will the chance be so favorable."

The Regiment's Brilliant Record.

The Second artillery was organized at Philadelphia Dec. 17, 1861, and after camping at Camden, N. J., and garrisoning Fort Delaware until the spring of 1862, it was called to Washington, D. C., where it built impregnable forts and did garrison duty until 1864. It is third in rank in the highest number of its enlistment killed, wounded and taken prisoners of any regiment of the state in the civil war.

The number of men who enlisted originally was about 1,400 in excess of the number desired, and these mustered themselves separately into a Provisional regiment that joined the Army of the Potomac to take part in all engagements, including Culpepper, the Wilderness, Spottsylvania, North Anna, Bethesda, Church, Cold Harbor, Gettysburg, Mine Run, Petersburg, Weldon Railroad. In these battles the Provisionals lost 1,000 men and returned to the Old Second in September.

The Provisional regiment, of the 400 that was left of it, united with the old guard and they participated together in the final battle in April, 1865. After serving over nine months in the Freedman's bureau they were ordered out for bivouac at City Point, Va., Jan. 29, 1865, receiving a final discharge at Camp Cadwalader, Philadelphia, Feb. 6, following. There were five batteries, A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, I, K, L, and M.

Officers for Next Year.

In the afternoon a short business session relating to the finances of the association was held and then the election of officers for the ensuing year took place. The results are as follows: President, L. H. Wint, of Scranton; first vice-president, Harry Cornish, of Philadelphia; second vice-president, W. H. Gibson, of Watonsontown; third vice-president, Richard J. Egger, of Danville; general secretary, G. W. Ward, of Philadelphia; corresponding secretary, C. F. Pomeroy, of Watonsontown; Seth Bower, of Milton; C. W. Wise, of Lancaster; treasurer, Samuel S. Wint, of Scranton.

After the election of the tenth, will be held in Philadelphia; the date of which will be decided upon by the executive committee, which consists of two members from each battery. The badge that has heretofore been worn is a red ribbon, and that has been laid aside; henceforth the badge will be metal and can be worn on the coat lapel at all times the same as the Grand Army veterans wear theirs. After giving a vote of thanks to Griffin Post, the reunion adjourned to take possession of the trolley cars in waiting on the avenue.

The camp fire in the evening was called to order by President Wirt. He introduced Captain Fred J. Ameson, of Griffin post, and the speaker responded with an address of welcome on behalf of the veterans of Scranton. He testified to the bravery and heroism of the members of the Second Artillery.

Retiring President Honored.

Lieutenant Porterfield, of Philadelphia, was listened to with rapt attention for a short time. He treated his subject in an eloquent and most interesting manner, and the address of the retiring president was greeted with the loudest applause at the national capital during the trying days of the rebellion.

Lieutenant Gramlich, of Philadelphia, was next introduced, and he led his remarks up to a presentation speech on behalf of the members of the Second Artillery, who wished to show their esteem and regard for the retiring president, William H. Berger, of Philadelphia. Lieutenant Gramlich presented a gold association badge to Mr. Berger, and that gentleman accepted it with words of deep gratitude.

Letters of regret were read from prominent members of the Artillery association. H. E. Paine, of this city, made a brief address and wound up by reading an amusing poem, entitled "The Copperhead." The speaker, W. L. Baker, of Watonsontown, was the next speaker. He is very humorous and kept his audience in roars of laughter. Other jokes and amusing stories, concluding numbers was the rendition of the song "The Ship I Love," by M. J. Coyne, the well-known Scranton vocalist. His voice was charming and his clear, sweet notes won long continued applause.

NOTES OF THE REUNION.

H. F. Rutledge, of Elmira, is present. He is close bearer of the Provisional regiment.

Allen Erdleston, of Pittston, one of the defendants in the famous Anna Dickinson damage suit, is a member of the association.

A piece of information furnished to the veterans and which many others will be interested in is that Scranton is the Delaware and Hudson station is 70 feet above sidewater; Carbondale, foot of plane No.

DO NOT WANT TO LOSE IT
Suburban Railway Company to Connect Franklin Avenue Rails.

MUST REIMBURSE THE CITY
That is the declaration that Mayor Connell Makes—Commissioner Kinsey Reiterates His Determination to Have Caused Tracks Taken Up.

First in the matters considered in the consultation between Mayor Connell and Street Commissioner Kinsey yesterday was the effort which the Pennsylvania Electric Railway company is making to reclaim Franklin avenue, which was abandoned by them over a year ago.

When the company abandoned Franklin avenue they disconnected the tracks at the corner of Spruce intersection. The city soon afterwards spent $500 in paying the portion of the street between the end of the rails and Spruce street. Mayor Connell says now that the company will have to reimburse the city for this expense before they can lay their tracks there. This the company has agreed to do, and before many days cars will be again run on Franklin avenue.

Regarding the forfeiture of streets upon which the company has unimproved streets, Mayor Connell said yesterday that he would adopt no extreme measures as long as the company showed a tendency to do the right thing. He reiterated his determination to prevent the street car company from making a buying ground of the city streets for their rails and ties.

If he becomes satisfied that the company has no present intention of using a piece of track, that track must come up.

MORE ARRESTS SCHEDULED.
Parties Who Bought the Stolen Goods From the Boy Thieves Will Be Prosecuted.

P. B. Finley, J. R. Cohen and John H. Ludwik, proprietors of the three stores which were robbed by the young thieves quartette, will be named as prosecutors in warrants which will be issued today for the arrest of a dozen or more Hungarian men and women on Washington avenue flats, who have been buying the stolen goods from the young thieves.

The warrants will be issued at the instance of Chief Simpson by Alderman Miller, and it is expected that all the warrants will be executed at once by court before the end of the present week. It is thought that it will be no difficult job to convict them, as the boys are ready and willing to give evidence against them and the police who recovered the stolen goods could of themselves, it is believed, furnish evidence sufficient to secure a conviction.

That these parties knew full well the goods were come by dishonestly there is no doubt. They will undoubtedly be wadded to suffer for it as they are encouraged to do by the police.

At the hearing yesterday morning the four boys told straightforward stories of their operations from the beginning to end. The diminutive 9-year-old Joldivrie, on account of his small proportions, used when it was necessary to make an entrance through window bars.

Baricowski and Smith and Scholtz did the heavy work, such as carrying off the goods and holding the door. When the Four Cent store was visited the door was opened and the two big boys made the entrance. The store was entered three times in succession.

Altogether they made ten or twelve distinct visits to the different stores. The Washington avenue store was entered and stolen down Railroad alley and began operations at one of the other of the stores. Several times they were interrupted by the police, but they went on their way. One night they entered two stores simultaneously, dividing the party into pairs.

After the hearing it was decided to hold Scholtz and Smith and to release the two little fellows in custody of their parents. Scholtz's father is an honest man and is appearing in court, he asked that his boy be sent to a reformatory, as he could not do anything with him. Smith has no parents living. He lived with a man on the flats, who kept him out of charity, but now refuses to have anything to do with him.

FRED PHILLIPS' CRAZY ACT.
He Strikes an Unoffending Stranger and Lays Him Senseless on the Sidewalk.

A. D. Egleson, a traveling man from Schenectady, N. Y., while walking along Center street at 3:30 o'clock last evening, was struck every day by a man who, without any provocation, approached the stranger and, after a few words, laid him senseless on the pavement.

In falling he cut a gash in his head and fainted twice in the station house from loss of blood, when he went there to enter complaint against his assailant.

Phillips was arrested by Officer John Thomas and locked up to await a hearing. He was crazy drunk and did not know an officer from a policeman. He struck anybody. Yesterday he lost a valuable horse and was about town last night drowning his sorrow in drink.

Phillips will be prosecuted by the city and he is called home last night by the serious illness of his wife, and had arranged to leave for home at 5 o'clock this morning.

SCAFFOLDING FALLS.
Two Men Hurled to the Ground and Another Left Hanging in Mid-Air.

A scaffold, on which three bricklayers were at work, collapsed yesterday at the new blacksmith shop which the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company is building, and fell twenty-five feet, carrying two of the men with it and leaving a third suspended in the air, clinging to the eaves.

Samuel Seward, superintendent of the bricklayers and helper, William Berger, the men who fell with the scaffolding, were badly bruised, but none of them suffered any broken bones.

John Hanlon, the third bricklayer, was rescued by a fellow workman named Frank Grady, who secured a ladder and liberated him from his perilous position.

HITZROTH INVESTIGATION.
Hearing Will Be Held on Saturday Next Before the Mayor.

William Hitzroth, the suspected peddler, will be given a hearing Saturday, when the Robbins woman, who is his accuser, will testify before the mayor as to the occurrence in which she alleges that the officer was guilty.

It could not be learned whether or not the councilmen police committee will participate in the investigation, but this will probably come to light at tonight's council meeting.

Nedler Bookkeeping.
The Nedler system of bookkeeping fully vindicated its right to the claim of "the best" in the opening day at Wood's Business college. The method of the instructor, guided and instructed, yet taught to investigate and think.

Intelligence marks every step and the pupil in a day's time has more knowledge of bookkeeping than he could gain in a week by some of the old and obsolete methods clung to by schools who pride themselves on their antiquity.

The Nedler system is the latest—the best—the simplest.

The Pollard Method of teaching reading has been adopted by the Normal department and teachers of Scranton and vicinity can now add a knowledge of this method to their teaching qualifications.

The Pollard teachers command better wages and secure better results than any other. It is taught in both secondary and normal colleges. The method of the instructor shall be pleased to explain the system to any one interested.

Miss Ella Simpson, of North Clarendon, Pa., will assist in the Normal department. Miss Simpson stood at the head of a class of 70 children in the Central State Normal school, and is one of the best teachers in Pennsylvania.

CAUSED LOTS OF BOTHER.
Simpson Was in Too Great a Hurry for His Money and Got Into Trouble.

The police authorities of Dunmore were given no end of trouble yesterday by Smith Simpson, who, until recently, was employed as a carpenter by the Pennsylvania Coal company.

Simpson wanted to draw his time in order to go to Port Jervis, and being unsuccessful in this, forged the former's name to an order, which he induced John J. McDonald to cash.

When the forgery was discovered Chief Healey, armed with a warrant from Squire Cooney, chased his man to Olyphant and back and then to Scranton, and finally caught him in Dunmore. Simpson evinced a desire to settle, but when Officer Warner was escorting him over to the Pennsylvania police office he broke away, boarded an Erie and Wyoming train which was just pulling out and could not be overtaken.

A telegram was sent to Hawley to have him held there.

CEREMONY TWICE PERFORMED.
Second Not Necessary, as Miss Lilly and Mr. Smith Were Married Last April.

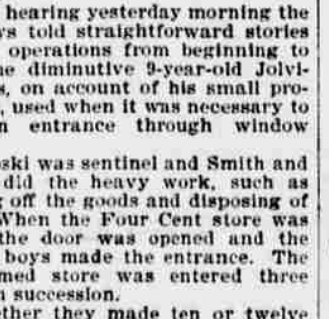

Public announcement was made yesterday that Miss Lulu S. Lilly, daughter of Mrs. John Lilly, of West Lackawanna avenue, would be married to Charles Christopher Smith, proprietor of the restaurant at 217 Lackawanna avenue. The ceremony was performed but there was no reason why it should be for the young people were secretly united for life on April 29.

Mrs. Smith's father, John Lilly, was one of the best known colored men in the city. Before coming to this city he served in the South Carolina legislature and was a man of no little education and business ability. He died a few years ago, leaving his family in comfortable circumstances.

His daughter, Lulu, is almost white, as is the man with whom she has joined her fortunes for life, Charles Christopher was for some time an ardent suitor for the hand of Miss Lulu, but he was not looked upon with much favor by Mrs. Lilly. The young people resolved to end the difficulty by taking the matter into their own hands. Miss Lilly had just reached her majority and Smith is 25 years of age. On April 19 they presented themselves before the clerk of the courts and were granted a marriage license and on the following day were married by Rev. W. G. Partridge, pastor of the Penn Avenue Baptist church.

They kept their own counsel, and it was not until three weeks ago that the news of the marriage leaked out. Mrs. Lilly thereupon made an investigation and learned from the records in the clerk of the courts office that her daughter had been a wife since April 20. She sensibly resolved to let the dead past bury its dead, and yesterday the fatted calf was served at the Lilly residence for the entertainment of Mr. and Mrs. Smith and their many friends. During the day the young people were again married by Rev. Mr. Metcalf, of the African Methodist Episcopal church, and in the afternoon departed on a wedding tour. They will be "at home" on Tuesday.

SCULLERS FOR THE REGATTA
All the Best Looking Clubs Will Take Part

Although a heavy rain came before the entries for the Lake Ariel regatta, which will be held on Saturday, Sept. 7, the Pennsylvania Labor party is going to give a party promoting this year's event to be able to announce that no regatta held anywhere in the country this year will have as many entries as the regatta of the National association of Amateur Scullers will take part.

Among the clubs mentioned in the Institutes of Newark, which will send fourteen oarsmen, among them the champion senior four-shell crew of the University of Pennsylvania, of New York, senior four who won the championship at the Middle States regatta championship on the Harlem river on Aug. 10, the Pennsylvania Barge club's senior four, who won in the Potomac river regatta at Washington, last Saturday. There will also be entries from the Fairmounts of Philadelphia; the Quaker City Barge club, of Philadelphia, will also have entries, and so will the Erie, of Erie, Pa., the Erie and Unions, of New York.

The Nonpareils and the Atlatlas, of New York, and the Erie, of Newark, are also figuring on entries, but what they will be cannot yet be determined. The Vespers held a meeting in Philadelphia on Monday night and decided to enter in seven of the nine races, and left it to Captain De Burlo's judgment as to filling in the other two. There is also the expectation of entries from two Toronto clubs, and the great sculler, Edward Harlan, also writes that he expects to be on hand for the races and will exhibit an exhibition. It is also likely that, independent of the amateur rowing races, Hamilton may row a race with another team, Capt. Carruth's senior named Rice. Nothing so fine in the way of sport promises like the regatta, and it will attract many people.
