THE SCRANTON TRIBUNE---WEDNESDAY MORNING, AUGUST 28, 1895.

[Copyright 1885, by Irving Bacheller.]

The hut was built of pieces of rock at first I could discover no means of in-vestigating the interior from where I stood. Just then I heard the door open, and I crept behind a rock. Peering from my retreat I saw the woman go to-yard the grove with a pail. There was spring of fresh water there. I again approached the house and finding a large crack at one place between the edges of the stones. I took out my knife and chipped briskiy away at the clay yourself to discover this theft of your diamonds. How much I know I shall not at present tell, but I warn you to be careful what you say if you would not have the whole world, as well as your brother, know the truth" He controlled himself with an effort; I could say this face was number with and chipped briskly away at the clay until 1 beard a clatter inside which warned me that L had penetrated the wall. The dusk had now fallen and it was nearly dark. Mother Videaux re-turned and lit a candle, after first clos-ing the door carefully behind her. With

I could see his face was purple with rage and his hands clinched tightly to-gether; but he turned on his heel with-out another word and marched down the path to the enclosure. I followed as silently, already regretting that I had shown him my hand so soon. my eye to the chink in the wall I could see the interior of the one room fairly well. It contained a rude table, one chair, a bed of cocoa leaves in a corner, a few old baskets and household utensils and a barrel.

had shown him my hand so soon. Thank heaven, the ship was due in three days! He shut himself up in his room with-Mother Videaux made her tea and then turned to the basket of food she out even a glance at me, and I went to my own, and wrote a full account of the scene I had witnessed at the cothad brought from the enclosure. She laid each article circlessiv on the table, but when she came to the loaf For-gythe had given her, she turned it over tage. Then I knocked at Herr Schiltz's door. "Well?" he cried. "Come in!" I ensythe had given her, she turned it over and over in her hands, chuckling in a low, cracked tone, as though its ap-pearance amused her. Then she laid it carefully by and ate her supper with apparent appetite.

I need not say that I was intensely interested, and watched every motion as she cleared away the table, lit a short clay pipe, and then, as I guessed she would, took up the loaf again. She leaned over the table and crumbled it carefully with her fingers, morsel by morsel. Soon she uttered an ejacula-tion. Something had fallen upon the table from the crumbs. She picked it up and held it to the light, which caught one point of it and sent out an oblique prismatic ray; it was a rough diamond! My heart gave a great bound of de-light-I had found my clew at last.

She went through the whole loaf, and me laid nine diamonds in a little heap on the table. Then, satisfied there were no more, she gathered up the crumbs, put them away, and reaching in the barrel brought out a cocoanut. The husk was rimmed and it was ready for shipping. She took a knife and dug out one of the away. "eyes" and put the diamonds through the opening into the nut. Next she filled the "eye" with pitch, as is the custom to preserve the nuts, and holding it to her ear, shock it violently. It made no sound I could hear, the milk in the nut probably preventing the stones from striking together. Mother Videaux laughed gleefully and tossed the nut back into the barrel. She sat down in her chair again. smoking contentedly, and I was about to beat a retreat, satisfied that I had learned all I had hoped to, when my at-tention was arrested by seeing her reach suddenly forward and take a small round basket upon her knee. It was a native basket, made of woven rocco-leaves and covered over the top back into the barrel. was a native basket, made of woven cocoa-leaves, and covered over the top by a course cloth. She untied one end of this and lifted it up. Intantly there glided over her arm a glender, sliver-gray snake, and a shudder went over me as I recognized the deadly asp. It rested upon her shoulder and thrust its flat head before her face. Mother Videaux laughed and patted Wother videaux laughed and patted the head and stroked its shining neck. "Glad to get out, Poison?" she crooned, tenderly, as a mother would talk to a child; "glad to stir about a bit, is you? Hard life, Poison, to be cooped up all day in a basket, wi' nothing to stick those pretty fangs into! Take care, deary?" as the snake made a sudcare, deary" as the snake made a sud-den motion with its graceful head, "mush't strike at mammy, you know. It'll be worze for you if you acts ucly wi' mammy. There! I'll let you stay out tonight. You can be my watch dog and keep the niggers away. Ha, ha, ha! No one likes to bother Mother Vi-deaux when her pets are loose. Run away, now, Polson, and we'll go to bed."

re of Interest to the Staple Trades and Particularly to the Trade in Iron, Steel and Authrasite Cost.

The Pennsylvania Steel company's semi-monthly pay of the employes of the company, disbursed on Saturday, amounted to $105,205, over $10,000 larger than any previous payment in the his-tory of the company. Officials of the Pennsylvania Rail-road company deny the report that passenger rates east from Chicago are being cut, and say the announcement that the company will make a flat rate that the company will make a flat rate of $9 from New York to Chicago is un-founded.

founded. A recent important discovery re-grading the use of aluminum is that it can be readily soldered by first cop-perplating the surfaces to be joined. It can then be soldered in the ordinary way, and with ordinary solder; and, if afterward dipped in potash, the sur-plus solder (that is, that which is out-side the joint) is cleaned off; and the process is said to be a complete suc-cess.

process is said to be a complete suc-cess. Electricity is relieving city horses of drudgery and the agricultural journals are looking forward to the time when electric feed wires will reach out to the farms to do the pumping, thresh-ing, churning, chopping, lighting and eventually the plowing and hoeing. Already an electric plow has been test-ed in Germany, and is found to per-form its work well, though not quite so cheaply in the first experiment as a man and horse. The farmer in the course of time will probably have the choice of getting his electric power from central stations, neighboring streams or wind mills. When this happens it is likely that there will be a return drift of population from the cities to the country.

HUNTINGTON, Mess., March 18, 1895. THE NARCOTI CREMICAL CO., Springfield, Mass. Gentlemen:-I have used tobacso for over twenty-five years, chewing and smoking every day from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. stopping only for meals. Stop using tobacco, but stop the right way! Drive the nicotine from your system by the use of this wonderful remedy.

on Monday, Fub. 4, I called at your office in Springfield, and bought a bottle of the CURR which I used as directed, and on the tenth day the desire for to-bacco had left me and it has not re-turned. I did not loss a meal while tak-ing the CURR. My appetita has improved and I consider NARCOTI-CURN a grand thing. Very respectfully, CHAS, I LINCOLN. NARCOTI-CURE is warranted to remove all desire for tobacco in every form, including Cigar, Cigar-ette and Pipe Smoking, Chewing and Snuff Taking.

Use all the tobacco you want while under treatment, and in from four to ten days your "hank-ering" and "craving" will disap-pear--the weed won't taste good. Then throw away tobacco for-

When I left them it was already dark, and as the office building seemed de-serted I decided to go to bed. Going to my room I wrote up my diary, partially packed my valise, and then, not feeling sleepy, I read for an hour in an old novel I had found at the office. Even after putting out the lamp and crawling into bed I felt nervous and wakeful, and it was a long time before I fell into a doze. The moonlight shone full through the curtainless window and fell upon the door opposite me. I could discern all obects within the little room nearly as well as by day, for the bed was be-side the window and therefore in shade, while the soft light flooded the space beyond and rendered me invisible to anyone standing in the doorway. Someone was standing there now, for I saw his form darkly outlined against the frame, and the door stood half open. While I was debating whether or not to cry out, the form disappeared a moment, and then, returning, ad-vanced a step and pixed some object upon the floor. My eyes followed each motion, and as he stepped back I was horrified to recognize in the object a small round native basket similar to Mother Videaux's. This one also was covered with a course cloth, and my hair arose with terror when I saw the intruder reach out his arm and fumble with the knots at the side. (To be continued.)
