INJURED AT ERIE MINES.

Mark Scott Narrowly Escapes Death in Terrible Form.

Yesterday morning Mark Scott, a resident of Scott street, was quite seriously injured at the Erie mines, and he is indeed fortunate that he escaped with his life.

Mr. Scott was, with the assistance of a fellow workman, pushing a car along the tracks in the mines. As they rounded a curve a runaway car came down upon them with terrific speed. The men did not see the car until it was upon them. Gallagher just managed to jump from the track when the collision occurred. As it was, he barely escaped. Mr. Scott was not so fortunate, however, and was crushed to the ground by the car. He was beneath the car, and not being able to release him, Gallagher went for assistance. It soon arrived, and after much trouble the car was lifted from the man. It was expected that he would be dead. However, he was still alive and was soon carried to the mouth of the mine, where an ambulance was taken to the company's ambulance to his home.

A physician was summoned and soon arrived. An examination was made and no bones were broken. He was terribly cut and bruised, however. It is not known yet whether Mr. Scott is injured internally or not. He suffers much pain, but his injuries are such that he will be able to be out in a few weeks.

RACES AT THE PARK.

The Events Will Be Held September 17, 18 and 19.

On Sept. 17, 18 and 19, there will be held a trotting match at Anthracite park, which will be the first of a series to be held at this same place. A circuit consisting of Middletown and Goshen, N. Y., and Honesdale and Carbondale has been formed.

There are many admirers of horse flesh in this city and there is no doubt but what the races would be well patronized. There has never been but one race meet of the kind in the city and this circuit will probably be the best three out of five. Ten per cent. of the purses will be charged for each entrance fee.
