MRS. JENKINS TALKS.

She indignantly denies the accusation that she poisoned her husband.

Upon calling at the home of Mrs. Jenkins yesterday a few facts were gleaned that may be of interest to the Tribune's readers.

Mrs. Jenkins was questioned as to the rumors concerning her husband, and denied them, saying that they were false and that the anonymous letter was probably written by some person who was prompted by a desire for revenge.

The letter received by the county authorities was printed in yesterday's Tribune. Mrs. Jenkins denied everything in it. She did not even know where it was written, and she said the letter said she would shortly move to.

She had always lived peacefully with her husband, and both were happy. They had no quarrels, and she said, except when he had come home slightly intoxicated, had never scolded him.

As to selling the furniture, that was an absurd idea, and one which would only originate with a person who would be guilty of writing an anonymous letter.

The people of Carbondale, and the neighbors especially, think that Mrs. Jenkins has been persecuted and are very indignant over the matter.

Officials who investigated the matter are, of course, not to blame for the part they have taken in it, as they were but their duty, and they hope that Mrs. Jenkins will be fully exonerated. Nothing can be done, however, until the analysis of the stomach is known.

SCHIVERA WILL COME.

Half of the Money Necessary Has Been Collected.

After prayer meeting Thursday evening the members of the Methodist Presbyterian and Baptist churches who are interested in the matter assembled in the lecture room of the Presbyterian church to consider the advisability of having the noted Evangelist Schivera hold a series of meetings here next week.

Those present were very enthusiastic over the matter. L. D. Wolfe was appointed chairman. Rev. J. A. Cran, of Scranton, was present and addressed the meeting. He told of the great work done by Mr. Schivera while in Scranton and said the expense of keeping the tent in that city for three weeks was $250. As the tent would be in this city but two weeks, the expense would be considerable less.

A committee of gentlemen was appointed to canvass the town and see if the necessary funds could be raised. The committee is as follows: Rev. J. A. Cran, Charles Avery, T. C. Robinson and P. H. Briggs.

The tent will be brought to this city today if sufficient money is guaranteed. It is quite large and has a seating capacity of 1,200 persons.

The tent will be erected on the vacant lot on Spring street, at the head of Garfield avenue. The probabilities now are that Schivera will come, as the committee is a hustler.

ANOTHER ADJOURNMENT.

The Traction Company Sale Has Been Postponed.

The sale of the Carbondale Traction company, which was scheduled for yesterday afternoon, has again been postponed. The sale has already been adjourned several times on the promise that everything should be settled up. They never have, however, and whether they will be this time is extremely doubtful.

The creditors are William May, of this city, who wants $500 for the injury done to his property by the culling down of the road in front of his house, and Horace E. Hand, of Scranton, who has claims amounting to $2,822.38. Mr. Aiken will say nothing on the proposed sale. It is said that Aiken has managed to get some money and thus had the sale postponed.

It was rumored that several Wilkes-Barre gentlemen, who had driven to this city in a carriage, were here for the purpose of viewing the road, but they denied this, saying that they were here on a pleasure trip.

Another rumor says that the Scranton Traction company has acquired control of the Carbondale Traction company, but this could not be verified.

MCQUADE SUSPENDED.

Must Play in the Carbondale Ball Club, or Not at All.

Left Fielder McQuade, who deserted the Carbondale Base Ball team a short time ago, has at last been suspended. McQuade had been playing with Syracuse ever since he left Carbondale and was playing good ball. Yesterday he did not put in his appearance on the ball field and the reason for it was because he had received notice from President Young, of the National league, announcing that he had been suspended and could not play with any other team, as he was under contract with the Carbondale club.

This will be somewhat of a surprise to McQuade's friends, who thought that Young hadn't the power. McQuade cannot play except with Carbondale, but as the season is nearly over, he will not lose much.

LAID AT REST.

BURIAL OF DAVID JENKINS.

Services Held at the Residence Yesterday Afternoon.

Yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock the services over the remains of David Jenkins, who died on Wednesday morning, were held at the late residence, on South Main street. Rev. Abram Jones, of the Congregational church, officiating.

The funeral cortege was unusually large and the scene in which Mr. Jenkins was shown thereby. A large number of Mr. Jenkins' fellow-workmen on the Gravity were present.

The pall-bearers were Charles Gory, S. A. Ditts, Henry Horsted, Albert Ames, John Murphy and James Wallace. Interment was made in Maplewood cemetery.

Street Committee Meets.

The joint street committee met in the select council rooms Thursday evening to talk over several matters pertaining to the streets. The business discussed did not amount to much, however. They did not think the city would be willing to pay $1,000 for right of way demanded by the Delaware and Hudson and thought that the sewer would have to be placed in the bed of the river.
