LIFE SAVING CORPS.

It Will Exhibit at Reading During the Firemen's Convention.

Nay Aug Hose company yesterday received a copy of a letter sent by the fire commissioners of New York city to W. W. Winder, of Reading, secretary of the State Firemen's association of Pennsylvania. It is as follows:

New York City, Aug. 22.
"I am directed by the board of fire commissioners to inform you that your request under date of the 21st inst., to permit the participation of the life saving corps of the department in the proceedings at Reading, the annual meeting of your association on Oct. 14 next, has been granted upon the terms stated by you, and that the chief of department has been instructed to select the corps."

This will attract a large number of firemen from all parts of the state, and the hotel accommodation being somewhat limited owing to the large number of persons already assigned rooms, the members of the Nay Aug Hose company respectfully invite all firemen in Lackawanna county who have not already secured quarters to advise them immediately, and rooms will be furnished them at Woodvale hotel, where the Nay Aug boys will put up.

Twenty-five persons other than members of the company can be accommodated dated at "Woodvale," provided arrangements are made with the Nay Aug boys, as the entire hotel has been taken by them.

A VERY SAD DEATH.

Mrs. John J. Hatchford Died While Visiting Her Parents in Minooka.

At 4 o'clock yesterday morning after an excruciating illness of less than twenty-four hours, Mrs. John J. Hatchford, of 317 Seventeenth street, West Side, died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Murray, of Minooka.
She went to visit them Sunday morning and an hour or so afterward became violently ill.

Doctors were summoned and every recourse known to science was made, but to no avail. The funeral will take place tomorrow morning. The remains will be taken to St. Joseph's church, Minooka, at 8:30; requiem will be sung and interment will be made in Minooka Catholic cemetery.

The deceased was married a year ago to John J. Hatchford, who is a trainman on the Southern division of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad. Her maiden name was Maria Murray. For six years she taught school in Minooka, and after that went to Montana, becoming a governess in a prominent western family.

QUARTERLY RETURN DAY

Gave the Constables an Opportunity of Venting Their Suspicions.

DOWN IN THE SEVENTH WARD

Constable Roach Thinks There Are Sixteen Illegal Liquor Sellers in That Division of the City—Complains from Other Parts of County.

After a two months' vacation, the business of court was resumed yesterday.
The grand jury assembled to dispose of cases for the October term of quarter sessions court and the reports of constables of the county were heard.
Equity court was also in session in the main court room, Judge Archibald presiding. He addressed the grand jury appointed John T. Howe foreman. The jurors were advised to visit the jail, make an inspection of it, go through the court house and make reports on the way things were found and suggest any improvements that were deemed necessary. Outside of these remarks the court did not devote much time to the usual plan of instructions.
The jury retired to pass upon transcripts and the stories of the constables were heard in open court.

A singular freedom from Sabbath degradation was vouchsafed for among the liquor dealers of the city and county.
Constable J. W. Clark, of the Eighth ward, reported a gambling house run by John Pinko, alias Chalk. Pool is played there on Sunday and there is an infection of disorder around the premises. This thing is said about liquor. Mr. Clark says there is a defective sewer basin in his bailiwick on Seventh street and whenever a shower comes the basin blocks up and flows in on the street. Patrick O'Connor and James Noone, of Frank Holgate, of South Abington, complained of the tumbledown condition of the turnpike between Chinchilla and the town hall.

Constable Roach's Large Hatch.
Patrick Roach, of the Seventh ward, took the court by storm when he made the statement that he suspected there are sixteen places in his ward where liquor is sold without a license. Judge Archibald asked Mr. Roach to give the names to the district attorney and he did so. The names of the places were the court and are as follows: Henry Mc-Hale, Mary Malloy, Martin Dougherty, Bridget Biglieri, John Lynott, Mary Mulrairie, John Gordon, Mrs. McAndrew, Mrs. Munley, Mrs. Martin, Terence Rafferty, Mrs. Bridget Spier, Mary Ellen Billosh, Augustus Winters, Bernard Leuthner and Patrick Cannon.

Constable John C. Moran, of the Twelfth ward, told the court that he had a strong suspicion that Daniel Hayes and William Nealon sold the ardent without a license. The county defective will see if Mr. Moran's suspicions are correct. Constable Isaac Dolph, of the First ward of Dunmore, reported a sensational lack of propriety between himself and the authorities of the city. He said that he was arrested by the constable, Isaac Dolph, of the First ward of Dunmore, on the condition of the road between Dunmore and Throop. The street commissioner will not fix it because, as alleged by the constable, the council won't let him.

Rotten Bridge in Old Forge.
Constable Mathew Beam, of Old Forge, stated that that County Surveyor A. B. Dunning, Jr., condemned a bridge in that district, but the supervisors of the township are remiss in repairing it. The boards in it are rotten. He returned M. Dunsbury, Fred Stefano, and A. Gevano, as tippling house proprietors.

Constable Keegan, of the Third ward, has a suspicion that Anthony Knight sells without the privilege, and Bernard Davis, constable of the Second ward, thinks Patrick Henry is guilty of the same offense.

HEARD IN EQUITY COURT.
Considering the injunction proceedings against Vito Girardo.

In the afternoon Judge Archibald, presiding in equity court, ordered the suit of the borough of Dunmore against Vito Girardo to go forward. The plaintiff was represented by T. J. Dugan, and the defendant by Charles H. Welles.

Girardo some time in last April purchased lots on the west side of Elm street, Dunmore, from Susan Spencer, through one of which lots the water course or drain ran, caused to be erected an embankment of dirt, clay and stone on the inside of his front fence on Elm street and extended it outside of said fence line about five or six feet, completely stopping up and obstructing the drain, and thereby causing the water accustomed to flow therein to back up and collect in a large pool on Elm street, in consequence of which a large quantity of water was driven out of said street and on other public streets, lower down than Elm street, thereby doing great damage and injury to said public highways and to the abutting property owners thereon.

Divided Into Building Lots.
The land on both sides of Elm street, north of the old Pennsylvania company's line, has been plotted into building lots and streets laid out and about seven years ago Frank Wagner, in the employ of Frank Spencer, Susan Spencer and other heirs of the late Edward Spencer, constructed a new channel through the land on the east side of Elm street—a little to the south of the old water course and extended it across said street and continued it over and upon the land of Susan Spencer, widow of Edward Spencer, deceased, where said water continued to run until the month of April, 1895.

The borough fathers' restraining injunction proceedings to restrain Girardo from continuing to obstruct the water course or channel running through his land by the construction of an embankment therein, and that an order be made compelling the said defendant to remove the matter already placed in said water course so as to permit the water to flow in the course and direction it was accustomed to flow at the time the said defendant filed it up.

Proving It Was a Natural Course.
The afternoon was spent in proving the fact that the water course had a natural route through the lots owned by Girardo. That is admitted by the defendant, and it remains to be seen by what right he will justify his action in erecting the embankment and changing it.

RAILROAD NOTES.
Within the past few years nearly 75, 000 hand holders have been made at the Philadelphia and Reading blacksmith shop in Reading. They have been placed on all kinds of cars for the use and protection of trainmen.

The new Philadelphia and Reading locomotive No. 385, which has only one driving wheel, seven feet high, will be used on the New York division. The engineer contends she is capable of making a mile in thirty seconds.

Peter Stivers, who was to be the oldest locomotive engineer in the United States, died at his home in Bethlehem Thursday morning of gangrene hastened by paralysis. He ran a locomotive nearly forty-six years, and in all that time was never in a collision nor met with accident. During his career as engineer it is estimated that he traveled a distance equal to forty-one times around the globe.

In order to accommodate the crowds that will be in attendance at the Africans exposition, the managers have made arrangements with the Pullman company for 300 sleeping cars, which are to be placed on the railroad sidings in and near Atlanta. They will accommodate 7,000 people, and the berths will be rented at $1 per night.

William Russell, conductor of the Sag Harbor express on the Long Island railroad, was dismissed for refusing to obey directions given to him by Mrs. Austin Corbin. Conductor Russell received orders on Friday to bring President Corbin's private car to Babylon. Upon its arrival there, Mrs.
Corbin gave orders to the conductor to convey her to Easthampton. Russell informed her that he had no authority to take the car any further, and would be compelled to decline her request without orders to that effect. The result was that Mrs. Corbin was compelled to remain in Babylon. When Russell reported for duty yesterday morning he received notice of his dismissal. He had been in the employ of the company for a long time, and was one of the most popular men on the road.

IN THE THEATERS.
"Charles's Aunt," the new famous comedy, expressed on the Long Island railroad, was dismissed for re-
by Mrs. Austin Corbin. Conductor Russell received orders on Friday to
bring President Corbin's private car to
Babylon. Upon its arrival there, Mrs.
morning he received notice of his dis-
road.

Among the octette of newboys who travel with Rice's big company of entertainers in 1895, is Master William Dunlap, who is the possessor of a marvelous tenor voice, and his rendition of popular ballads created a perfect furore in New York. The original brother company will be at the Frothingham on Sept. 12.

In a recent interview with Frederick De Belleville, published in The Dramatic Mirror, that excellent actor refers to the fact that when he was undergoing his novitiate and playing small parts in the Theater Royal, Cambridge, England, Frederick, who was the stage manager and, De Belleville adds, "neither of us had our eye upon America as a future home at that time." Mr.
Wardle lived the novitiate for his present prominence by hard and exacting toil and study. Coming to America in 1871 he became leading man in the company at that time, and he has since which John McCullough was a member.
He was afterward in support of Charlotte Cushman, Edwin Booth, Lawrence Barrett and other great known legitimate stars, and was a member of the celebrated cast that produced Julius Caesar, playing Marc Antony, with E. L. Davenport as Brutus and Lawrence Barrett as Cassius. His first appearance as a star on his own account was made in 1881, and the succeeding years have brought him increasingly rich and certain laurels. Mr.
Wardle may be seen at the Frothingham, Friday and Saturday.

"A Green Goods Man." W. E. Gorman's great farce, with its keen satiric catchy music, uproarious fun, beautiful women and clever comedians, will appear at the Academy of Music Friday and Saturday nights, and on Saturday, Sept. 13 and 14. This will be the only visit of this farce to this city this year.
As it will appear shortly in rapid succession in Chicago, New York, and other four weeks and New York city for an indefinite period.

deavors expect to attend the Chris-and her guests from Honesdale visited the steel mills last evening.

Evangelists G. D. Moore and Rev.
Lewis Shelhorn and wife began the tent meetings at Green Ridge and Ross streets, near the glass works, Sunday morning, and thereby caus-
thereon.

Grand Jury Photographed.
Business at court was stopped for about twenty minutes yesterday, when the members of the grand jury were photographed by the Standard artist. The rooms were darkened and excellent flashlight shots were secured. The group, which will appear in the Standard, will include Jones and County Detective Thomas Leyshon, and in most cases remove the collection of faces that was ever caught at one sitting.

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.
Symptoms—Moisture; intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by

HOLD TWO INSTITUTES

County and City Teachers Will Not Meet Together This Year.

COUNTY INSTRUCTORS NAMED

Dr. J. P. Gordy, of Ohio, Will Be One of Them—Professor Eppstein, of Chicago, to Have Charge of the Music.

County Superintendent of Schools J.
C. Taylor has completed all arrangements for the annual institute of the county teachers for the week beginning Monday, Oct. 28. The principal instructors will be Dr. J. P. Gordy, of Ohio, an author of national reputation on psychology; Professor George W.
Twitmyer, principal of the Honesdale high school, will lecture on different subjects, Dr. O. M. Phillips, principal of Westchester State Normal school, will be another lecturer, and Professor Eppstein, of Chicago, will have charge of the music. Miss Gertrude Edmund, of Stroudsburg State Normal school, and Miss Margaret McCloskey, of Lock Haven State Normal school, will be the women who will lecture.

As yet Superintendent Taylor has decided to have but one evening session, yet he may conclude within the next two weeks, before the programme is printed, to add another evening session. Rev. John A. Harris, of Bucknell university, will lecture on the "Fall of Richmond." This will be on probably Thursday evening of institute week. Dr. Harris gave the lecture before the senators and representatives of the last legislature, receiving widespread praise for its excellence.

The reason there will be so few evening sessions is that the teachers feel better satisfied to have some time to spend while they are here besides the institute sessions. County Superintendent Taylor says the idea has become popular in many counties of the state.

The institute of the city teachers will not be held with that of the county institute. Superintendent Phillips has decided that he will fix the week of Oct. 28 or not.

Mrs. Phillips expects to have a school exhibit, and until he sees how suitable a time can be fixed so as to give the pupils ample opportunity to prepare their work, he will make no move toward setting apart a week for institute just yet.

BISHOP NEEDS NO MOVIE.
After skipping from custody he asks Another Opportunity to Do So.

After a chase lasting since Aug. 19, Alderman Miller yesterday succeeded in recapturing E. J. Bishop, who had betrayed his confidence by vouching when allowed to go for his lawyer to help him in his defense of a case which was on before the alderman. Bishop went to Hawley, and while there wrote an intimidating letter to the alderman, the burden of which was that he would increase his bail to $500, and that he would himself shoot and kill him. Mr.
Wardle of the magistrate's office providing he would drop the case against him.

This only increased the alderman's determination to capture Bishop, and his officers have been constantly on the lookout for him. It was learned that he returned to this city recently, but he kept himself shady and it was only yesterday morning that his arrest was effected.

He was given a hearing and held in $500 bail for court, in default of which he was committed. Of this amount $500 was required as security to answer the original charge of assaulting Annie Anthony, and $500 for contempt of court. Bishop had the nerve to ask the alderman to be allowed to go out and look for bail.

Alderman Miller will also prosecute Bishop for attempted bribery. He says that about a month ago Bishop offered him $10 to raid Annie Anthony's place.

DUNMORE.
Miss Bertha Bold, of Waverly, was the guest of Miss Lizzie Krause, of Brook street, Sunday.

Howard M. Bone, of North Blakely street, spent Sunday and Monday with friends in Honesdale.

The council and school board will hold meetings at their respective places tonight.

The funeral of Andrew Derby, who died on Saturday, will take place from the Presbyterian church this afternoon at 2 o'clock, leaving the house at 1:30.

The Epworth league of the Methodist church will hold a social at the home of Mrs. Frank Manary, on Cherry street, tomorrow evening, to which everybody is invited.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Presbyterian church will hold their regular monthly meeting at Lake Ariel on Thursday, leaving Dunmore on the 9:45 train.

Henry Ware, of Waverly, spent Sunday with friends in this borough.
