TIMORE BEATS CLEVELAND

ich Makes It Reasonably Certain the Orioles Will Win the Pennant-Scranton Returns Today for Three Games with Springfield.

All the National league games schedalthough only one change in position resulted, the point seems passed which assures for Baltimore the pennant. The Orioles are 33 points in advance of Cleveland, and all things considered it does not seem probable that Baltimore will play so poorly or Cleve-land so well that the latter will finish in front. On the contrary Cleveland may not be expected to go much higher and the despised Phillies seem to have a fighting chance to overcome the 25-pound lead of Cleveland and go into Yesterday Baltimore beat Cleveland 4 to 1, and the Phillies lost a point by splitting even with the Louisville colonels. New York won from Cinclimati and jogs along two points ahead of the Pittsburgs, who so pdly thrashed the Senators. Bostor won from St. Louis and goes from fifth to fourth position ahead of the Brooklyns, who lost to Chicago.

In the Eastern league all the games scheduled were prevented by rain c wet grounds. The Scranton club turns home today to do battle with the Springfield today begins a three-day se Manager Barnie was in the city yester-day and endeavored to secure Jimmy Dean, the Young Men's Christian associa-tion pitcher, for one of the games this week against Springfield or Providence. Dean has not given a definite answer. Amateur Ball Notes.

The Taylor Reds and the Green Ridge Senators will play this afternoon on Tay-lor grounds.

The Morning Glories, of Dunmore, chal-lenge the Young Men's Christian associa-tion, of Scranton, to a game of base ball any day this week.

The Trojans, of the West Side, challenge the Union Stars, of Dunmore, to a game of ball to be played on Gammon's hill next Saturday afternoon. They also challenge the Actives, of the North End, to a game of ball Thursday on the Actives' grounds. Answer through The Tribune.

DEFENDER AND VALKYRIE.

They Will Enter the Second Contest o the Series-The Britons Are Hopefu', but

New York, Sept. 9.—Lord Dunraven will make his second try for the Americas cup tomorrow. His fleet-footed Valkyrie will meet America's champion Defender in a thirty mile race over a triangular course. It will be the second in the series of international races, and it will take three winnings to decide whether the blue ribbon of the sea remains here or goes to England. Unlike Saturday's contest, which tested the qualities of the yachts on two points of sailing only, the race tomorrow will require them to show their New York, Sept. 9 .- Lord Dunraven points of saining only, the race tomorrow will require them to show their ability on almost every point. If possible one leg of the course will be to windward, so that the yachts may have beating to windward, running free and reaching with the wind on the guarter.

Should the sea be smooth and the wind six to eight miles an hour as the weather prophet says, there may be less hilarity in the crowd of sightseers than on Saturday. Judging from what has been seen of the two boats when they have been near each other, the Defender has no welkover, and unless there are good stiff breezes towarrow. Defender has no walkover, and unless there are good stiff breezes tomorrow and Thursday the American boat will not win three straight races this year. There was a good salling breeze today, and the wind tomorrow may prove much stronger than Farmer Dunn has mapped out. The Britons are by no means discoursed.

mapped out. The Britons are by no means discouraged.

The start tomorrow is to be made from the Sandy Hook Lightship, unless the committee decides to change to another location at the last moment.

Betting on tomorrow's race was at a low ebb today, American money was offered at two to one, but Britishers were shy. Defender and Valkyrie was to for a sall stretching spin this afternoon, crussing about in the narrows and lower bay for three hours. Valkyrie was the first to get under way at about 2vo'clock; Defender followed half an hour later. There was no brush between them, though at one time standing on even tacks down the narrows and past the Quarantine islands it looked as though there might be a little impromptu contest.

FOOT BALL SEASON HERE.

First Practice Play at the Base Ball Park Yesterday - Drafting 'to Eleven to Play Under the Scranton Leyele Club Colors.

The opening wedge of practice play which will develop the Scranton Bi-cycle club foot ball eleven was begun yesterday afternoon at the base ball park. Out of possibly a score of prom-ising candidates over a dozen particlpated in an hour's play and several others who will begin training today or tomorrow were present on the grounds. In addition there were present President Bolph B. Atherton, of the Blcycle club; Ernest Gilmore, F. J. Leonard and Billy Pearce, bicycle club members of the committee, and Thayer and Decker, the two committeemen from outside the club. No regular positions have been as-No regular positions have been as-signed the players, nor will such be the case until possibly two weeks of daily practice and training. They will be coached by F. J. Leonard, of George-town university, and Will Kingsbury, of Pennsylvania, who were on the grounds yesterday; Edward Moffatt and John Brooks, of Princeton, and possibly John Murrhy of Caracterists. possibly John Murphy, of Georgetown university.

Walsh Mentioned for Captain

A captain for the eleven has not been elected, but indications point that selected, but indications point that John Walsh will be chosen, Judging from his record, personality and ability the giving of the captaincy to him would probably meet with the approval from the majority of those interested in the success of the eleven. At all events the choice will be announced after a few days of practice at Schwenk's park on the South Side, where the players will meet daily at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, beginning today.

Those who figured in yesterday's practice were Decker, John and Owen Walsh, Thayer, Connery, Noakes, Owens, Cleveland, Pearce and Cusick, The other available men are Dan and Scranton never had a real good foot ball eleven, though the fault can hardly be laid to the door of the players, as last year they showed themselves lack-ing only in the coaching and training necessary to make a good team, and under the management of the Scran-ton Bicycle club and control of the coaches should at least make a showng against all the teams they play.

A Word About the Players. Cleveland is a young man well known among the lovers of foot ball, weigh-ing 195 pounds, and has played for the last seven years, beginning his ex-perience on the Wyoming Seminary team of 88. He has played every year team of St. He has played every year since, and is known throughout this part of the state as a very good center.

Connery has had but one year's experience, is six feet two inches and weighs 220 pounds. In the Pennsylvania-Scranton game last fall he showed up splendidly against the mighty Woodruff, making openings for the back to go through whenever called upon.

Thayer has played three years on the Scrantoan team. In '93 and '94 he played left and last year he played at fullback.

Decker, last year's captain and quarter-back, is an old player, having played end of the Scranton team for played end of the Scranton team for four years. Last fall, compelled to play out of position, he made a very enviable reputation as a quarter-back.

Allen may this year be guard, his last position. Allen's fine point is opening the line for the backs, he being very successful last year in breaking through the line.

Owen Walsh is a fine player on the offensive, running well with the ball and following his interference closely.

The Gelberts Are in It. Dan Gelbert, as a left half-back, is well-known player. He is a small man, but a great ground gainer. He plays much after the style of Osgood, and, strange to say, resembles him in appearance.

Fred Gelbert, a brother of Dan, is a Fred Gelbert, a brother of Dan, is a very valuable man, runs well and tackles hard. Last year he was very unfortunate in being hurt, being compelled to go out of training for three weeks in the middle of the season. He Rickaby and Dove Challenge Handball Champion Casey and Partner.

MAY PLAY FOR $1,000 A SIDE

Casey Gives Assurance That the Challenge Will Be Accepted - Will Play 100 Aces Here and 100

in Brooklyn.

The sporting fraternity was set on edge last night by the announcement that John Ricaby and Thomas Dove, the two Scranton men who recently d feated Jim and Joe Corbett in a hand-ball contest in this city, had issued a challenge to Phil Casey, of Brooklyn, he handball champion, and James Ounn, Jr., or any other partner that Casey may select. Martin Flynn, of Short & Flynn, the Martin Flynn, of Short & Flynn, the Lackawanna avenue tobacconists, was in Brooklyn last Thursday and then secured Casey's assurance that the formal challenge, which was mailed at noon yesterday, would be accepted. The challenge contains the following provisions: That the games shall be for $1,000 a side; that 100 aces shall be played in Scranton and 100 aces on played in Scranton and 100 aces on played in Scranton and 100 aces on Casey's Brooklyn court; that the stake shall go to the pair making the best score out of the 200 aces; that the Scranton gate receipts shall go to Rickaby and Dove and the Brooklyn receipts to Casey and partner, or that the receipts shall be lumped and equally divided, or that the winners shall take all; that a soft ball shall be used in the Scranton games and that the in the Scranton games and that the regulation hard ball shall be used on Casey's court. The matter of referee, dates, forfeit money and other details were n * mentioned in the challenge, but will be speedily arranged when Casey's reply is received.

Scranton Fair Confident. Rickaby and Dove will themselves furnish the greater portion of their stake, and the remainder will be sup-plied by friends who are anxious for a slice of the money and who firmly be-slice of the money and who firmly be-lieve the Scranton men will win.

Whatever may be the ability of the Scranton pair and their proficiency with a soft ball they will be seriously handicapped on the regulation court in Brooklyn, which is completely enclosed and on which the small hard ball will be used. They recognize this feature of the match, but believe they can win by a sufficient margin in this city to offset a sufficient margin in this city to offset the advantage Casey and his partner will have at their style of play in will have at their style of play in Brocklyn.

Casey's court is sixty feet long and completely enclosed. The head wall is of solid marble slabs for a distance of twenty feet from the floor, the upper portion of the wall being built of cut stone. The side walls are of cemented brick, while the rear wall is built of heavy planking. The floor is of heavy, narrow matched boards. A glass dome covers the whole enclosure and admits plenty of light during the day, and at plenty of light during the day, and at night the light is furnished by several large electric and gas chandellers.

Casey has become so proficent on his own court that he can stand near the wooden back wall, serve the ball so that it will return from the head wall with one bound to the back wall, a distance of sixty feet, and as the ball bounds back toward the court the champion will send it again the whole sixty feet with such accuracy and sixty feet with such accuracy and force that it strikes the head wall not over three inches from the floor. This feat he will repeat twenty times without a miss New York Sun Rules to Govern.

The challenge provides that the New York Sun rules shall govern the Brooklyn play. The most important feature of these rules, as far as the present match is concerned, is that the ball shall be served from a point be-tween the ace line, which is thirty feet from each of the two end walls, and the serving line which is four feet and the serving line, which is four feet from the ace line toward the head wall. The conditions mentioned in the challenge were each discussed by Mr. Flynn and Champion Casey last week and all were informally agreed upon. So it only remains for Casey to send his for-mal acceptance. This will probably be done tomorrow and then representa-tives of the parties to the match will sign the detailed articles of agreement which will likely stipulate that the Scranton games shall be played first and that the games shall be played be-

The Postor of the Scranton Street Baptist Church Will Probably Locate at Salt Lake City - Personal and Other News Notes.

[The West Side interests of The Tribune have been placed in the hands of Emer-son Owen, to whom all news announcements and complaints may be addressed.]

Rev. T. J. Collins, who has held the pastorate of the Scranton Street Bap-tist church for the past eight years, has resigned, the resignation to take effect on Oct. I. The action was necessitated by failing health, and Mr. Collins' doctor advised him to seek the invigorating climate of the west. He was compelled to either leave for another problems of the compelled to either leave for another problems. other place or remain here at the risk of an utter collapse of bodily health. Mr. Collins decided to enter the ministry beyond the Mississippi, and soon afterward received a call from a Milwaukee church. He at first decided to accept this invitation, but a call from Washington state, and finally another from Salt Lake City, induced him to go farther west. Mr. Collins has not finally accepted either of the three calls but will likely go to Salt Lake City. The resignation was read at Sunday morning's services. In it he regretted that he was compelled to sever the relations with his present church, which have been kindly and all that could be desired. Two years ago he decided to leave the church but was finally enjoined to stay. He is very popular with the masses especially, his large heart and unbounded religious generosity, winning the best re-gard of all. He has many friends who regret his departure, but hope that with the new field of work will come a harvest of good health and further suc-

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Walsh.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Walsh.

Rev. Father Burke preached the sermon at St. John's church last night. Father Cullen gave the religious instruction and said the rosary. The instruction was on faith. The sermon was on mortal sin, taken from the text "Thou hast forsaken me, said the Lord, thou art gone backward; therefore I will stretch out my hand against thee and destroy thee; I am weary with repenting," the prophet Jeremia, xy, 6. Father Burke pictured to his hearers the affection, the love, and the endearment a mother bestowes upon her child; how she makes sacrifices, toils, deprives herself of comforts, that she deprives herself of comforts, that she may lavish every possible care upon that child, hoping in old age to have one to lean upon, a staff of life, a sup-port for her declining years. The child repays her mother's love with base in repays her mother's love with base in-gratitude, for a smile gives a tear, for a comfort, pain, and aims to leave nothing undone that will cause her heart to bleed and make her wish that the child had never been born.

This picture, said the speaker, is not altogether unlike the way of humanity

This picture, said the speaker, is not altogether unlike the way of humanity toward Almighty God. He gave Christ, His only begotten Son, to die on the cross, and the repayment is insult and effrontery. There is but one way to forsake God and that is by sin. Here the priest gave a plain definition of mortal sin. Three things are necessary to commit sin; the knowledge that it is to commit sin: the knowledge that it is a sin, the consciousness of committing it, and the gravity of the offense. When a person knows an act is wrong, will-ingly commits it, that constitutes a sin, and, the speaker said, there are tens of thousands of them committed in a of thousands of them committed in a lifetime by each human being. The ef-fect of mortal sin on the soul is to strike it dead, not like the lightning strikes a tree that dies and withers day by day, but it strikes it dead, and sanctifying grace is the only thing that can revivify the soul. Father Burke said that the occasions of sin must be avoided, and in this con-cluding part of his discourse he characterized the grog seller as the worst enemy of the Catholic church. The rum element is the recruiting sergeant of the devil. He advised those, if any listening, who are engaged in the traf-fic, to forsake it, for there are souls beyond number in hell that were driven there through the instrumentality the liquor seller.
