"I'm not mystifying you at all. The clock took the pictures automatically. I'll show you how," Paul returned, getting up from his chair and going to the corner of the office. Taking a key from his pocket he opened the case of the clock and revealed a small photographic apparatus inside with the tube of the objective opposite the round glass panel in the door of the case. At the bottom of the case was a small electrical batery and on a small shelf over this was an electro-magnet.

"I begin to see how you did it." Mr. Whittier remarked, "but I'm not an expert in photography, Paul, and I'd like a full explanation. And make it as simple as you can."

"It's a very simple thing, indeed," said his son. "One day while I was wondering how we could best catch the man who was getting at the books.

wondering how we could best catch the man who was getting at the books, that clock happened to strike, and somehow it reminded me that in our photographic society at college we had once suggested that it would be amusing to attach a detective camera to a timepiece and take snap shots every few minutes all through the day. I saw that this clock of ours faced the safe and that it couldn't be better placed for the purpose. So when I had

"There," Paul continued, handing his father a second azure square, "there is a photograph taken here ten minutes after the first—at three-twenty yester-day afternoon. That shows the safe open and the same young man standing before it with the private letter-book in his hand. As his head is bent over the pages of the book, the view of the face is not so good. But there can be no see that, don't you. Mr. Wheatcroft' "I see that, of course," returned Mr. Wheatcroft, forcibly; "what I don't see is why the Major here should confess if

"I think I know the reason for that."

"It is what I wanted everybody to understand at the time," said the old bookkeeper, breaking silence at last. "But it wasn't so. The boy was shot, but he was not killed. I hoped that it would be a warning to him, and that he would make a fresh start. Friends of mine got him a place in Mexico—but fuck was against him, so he wrote me, and he lost that. Then an old comrade of mine gave him another chance out in Denver, and for a while he kept straight and did his work well. Then he broke down once more and he was discharged. "That's it, precisely," the young man responded. "Of oourse, I wasn't quite sure how it would work, so I thought I'd try it first on a week day when we were all here. "I told you I had an eye on you. It was the lone eye of the camera. And on Sunday it kept watch for us here, winking every ten minutes. From six o'clock in the morning to three in the afternoon it winked ninety times and all it saw was the same seen, the all it saw was the same scene, the empty corner of the room here, with the safe in the shadow at first and at last in the full light that poured down from the glass roof over us. But a little after three a man came into the office and made ready to open the safe. At ten minutes past three the clock and the camera took his photograph in the twinkling of an eye. At twenty minutes past three a second record was made. Before half past three the man was gone and the camera winked every ten minutes until seven o'clock this morning and got the roll of negatives. Mr. Wheatcroft rose to his feet to close the conversation.
"I am glad we know the truth, any how," he asserted, emphatically. And then as though to relieve the strain on the old bookkeeper he added, with a loud laugh, at his own joke: "That clock had its hands before its face all the time-but it kept its eyes open for all that!"

I walked in and found him just closing the safe here. I talked to him and he refused to listen to me. I tried to get him to give up his idea—and he struck me. ## THE WORLD OF BUSINESS STOCKS AND BONDS.

New York, Sept. 10.—Greater interest was evinced in the international yacht race by the comparatively few remaining members of the Stock Exchange than in the market itself. Total sales were only 219,000 shares. The tendency of prices was downward during the early part of the session. The early decine was equal to 1½ per cent. in Missouri Pacific, and ¼ to 1½ in the general list. Most of these losses were made up during the afternoon, but the volume of business continued light, but speculation ruled firm. The executive committee of the Western Union recommended a quarterly dividend on their stock, which had a strengthening effect. The dealings were confined their stock, which had a strengthening effect. The dealings were confined mainly to the room traders and were therefore without special significance. The market closed firm in tone.

The range of today's prices for the active stocks of the New York stock market are given below. The quotations are furnished The Tribune by G. du B. Dimmick, manager for William Linn, Allen & Co., stock brokers, 412 Spruce street, Scranton.

CURES THE TOBACCO HABIT IN 4 TO 10 DAYS OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Use All the Tobacco You Want Till Your "Craving" Is Gone.

NARCOTI-CURE is the only remedy in the world that acts directly on the nerves and drives the nicotine from the system tn from four to ten day. It leaves the patient in better health than before taking, and is warranted free from any injurious ingredients.

NARCOTI-CURE is popular because it allows the patient to use all the tobacco he wants while under treatment, or until the "craving" and "hankering" are gone. It is then no sacriffce to throw away tobacco forever.

NARCOTI-CURE is sold at the uniform price of $5.00 a bottle and one bottle cures. Money refunded if a cure is not effected when taken according to directions.

Gentlemen:—Replying to yours of the lat, would say that I have used tobacce for 46 years, and of late have consumed a 10-cent plug a day, besides smoking considerably. I commenced to use tobacce when I was II years old, and have never been able to give up the habit until I took Narcott-Cure, although I have tried other so-called remedies without effect. Alter using your remedy four days all "hankering" for chewing disappeared, and in four days more smoking became unpleasant. I have no further desire for the weed, and experienced no bad effects, whatever. I am saining in flesh, and feel better than I save for a long time. To all who wish to be free from the tobacce habit I would say, use NARCOTI-CURE.

Yours truly,

W. N. WAITE.
