JUDGE SMITH NOMINATED

Lackawanna Now Has Another Candidate for the Superior Court.

CHOICE OF STATE CONVENTION

Democratic Leaders at Williamsport Nominate a Full Ticket--Verkes, Moorehead, Noyes, Bechtel and Magee the Other Candidates.

Williamsport, Pa., Sept. 11--The Democratic state convention, which nominated six candidates for judges of the Superior court, a tribunal created by the last legislature, and also selected a candidate for state treasurer, began here this morning and ended tonight. The convention, abandoned in exciting scenes. The nominees are:

HON. PETER P. SMITH.

For judges of the Superior court: Judge Harmon Verkes, of Bucks; James S. Moorehead, Westmoreland; Peter P. Smith, Lackawanna; Charles H. Noyes, Warren; Judge O. P. Bechtel, Schuylkill; Judge Christopher Magee, of Allegheny. For state treasurer--B. F. Meyers, of Harrisburg.

There were seventeen candidates for the judicial nominations, and it took just three hours and twenty minutes to select a half dozen of the number. In addition, speeches placing these aspirants before the convention occupied over two hours. Mr. Meyers, who was nominated by William M. Singlerly, of Philadelphia, the late Democratic gubernatorial candidate, was chosen by acclamation. On the first ballot for the judgeship nominations Verkes, Moorehead, Smith, Noyes and Bechtel were chosen, each receiving more than the necessary 27 votes.

After considerable trouble, another ballot was taken to nominate a sixth candidate, and it resulted: Magee 170, Bower 142, all the other candidates with the exception of Rose, announcing their withdrawal. As many of the delegates left the hall after the announcement of the first ballot, the chairman refusing to accept the proxies of absent members, the vote of neither Magee nor Bower reached a majority of the convention (227). Chairman Garnham, however, recognized the election of Magee, and declared him to be the sixth nominee.

The Philadelphia Contest. The full list of convention delegates was 454, but there being a contest in the first district of Philadelphia, a committee on credentials seated only four of the five delegates from that district, making the total number of delegates in attendance 454.

Otherwise the vote necessary to a choice would have been 228. The convention assembled at 11:10 a. m. and adjourned, sine die, at 8:22 p. m., only intermission being a recess from 12:05 o'clock until 1:50 o'clock.

In order to expedite matters, it was arranged to call the convention to order at 10 o'clock this morning, instead of 11 o'clock, the hour originally agreed upon. The change, however, was not generally known among the delegates and at the former hour there were but 18 persons in the opera house. The auditorium was prettily decorated with flags and bunting, and in the gallery, and directly facing the stage, was a large band, which did the honors of the morning. It was 11:10 o'clock when State Chairman Robert E. Wright, of Allentown, called the convention to order, the hall at this time being crowded. The call for the convention was formally read and then the state chairman announced the temporary officers, who had been selected by the state executive committee.

An Exciting Episode. One of the most exciting scenes of the convention occurred while Mr. Maloney, of Philadelphia, was seconding the nomination of Judge McCarthy, Maloney, who is allied with the Pennsylvania Democracy wing of the party, declared that he preferred the Democracy of Mr. Sellers to that of Mr. Singlerly, the latter whom he characterized as the "white-bearded man in Philadelphia." This reflection upon Mr. Singlerly's defeat for governor by General Hastings last November was particularly offensive to the chairman, Mr. Maloney, who was given for Mr. Singlerly. There were repeated calls for Maloney to "sit down" and "put him out." A regular pandemonium prevailed and when quiet was partially restored the chairman notified Mr. Maloney to omit personalities from his address.

Maloney continued, and when he again referred to Singlerly, saying that the Philadelphia Record (Mr. Singlerly's paper) and the Philadelphia Times (Democrat) had opposed Robert S. Patton when the latter ran for register of wills on the Democratic ticket in Philadelphia and had favored the Quay candidate, Mr. Singlerly arose from his seat, it being but a few rows ahead of that occupied by Maloney, and said: "That is false." This started another sensational scene, but which Mr. Singlerly partially allayed by asking that the gentleman (Maloney) be allowed to proceed. Maloney's speech was brief after this episode.

After considerable wrangling it was decided that delegates be allowed to vote for Superior Judge nominees, either individually or through the chairman of delegations. The taking of the vote began at 4:55 o'clock, and the first ballot was concluded at 6:30. It was announced a half hour later as follows:

The Vote in Detail. Judge Christopher Magee, Allegheny, 183; Judge James N. Ermentrout, Berks, 201; Judge Augustus S. Landis, Blair, 98; Judge Harmon Verkes, Bucks, 348; W. Horace Rose, Cambria, 39; Calvin M. Bower, Centre, 148; Charles S. McCormick, Clinton, 32; Roger Sherman Crawford, 68; Levi B. Aarlock, Dauphin, 33; Charles H. Noyes, Warren, 293; James S. Moorehead, Westmoreland, 612; Roger McKeen, Juniata, 89; Peter P. Smith, Lackawanna, 32; Judge Henry J. McCarthy, Philadelphia, 110; ex-Judge Theodore F. Jenkins, Philadelphia, 77; Judge O. P. Bechtel, Schuylkill, 340; Joseph C. Busher, Union, 118; ex-Supreme Court Justice Samuel Gustine Thompson, Philadelphia, 1. Messrs. Verkes, Moorehead, Smith, Noyes and Bechtel were declared to be nominated, and another ballot was taken to select the sixth nominee. Chairman Garnham had much difficulty in convincing the delegates while the additional ballot was being taken and Judge Magee's nomination was announced at 8:20 o'clock. Two minutes afterward the convention adjourned sine die.

NO CHANGE IN WAGES.

Pittsburg Iron Workers Will Wait Until October for an Increase.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 11--The conference between Secretary Jarret, of the Iron and Steel Sheet Manufacturers' association, and President Garland, of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers, was held this morning. No change in the wages of the sheet mill workers for September and October has been made. Wages will be substantially advanced in October if present prices are maintained for sixty days preceding the time for settlement.

PURPOSE OF STATE MILLERS.

They Will Combine and Protect Themselves Against the Mammoth Mills of the Country.

Philadelphia, Sept. 11--The Pennsylvania State Millers' association got down to business immediately after the opening of its session this morning. William G. Gorman, president of the Pennsylvania Milling and Export company, an association of a score of mills of the state designed to secure better freight facilities for grain in place of the mammoth mills in the open market, read a paper in which he urged the millers to combine together for protection against the big mills, which he contended are practically trusts and are operated to the disadvantage of the small miller. It was stated to the meeting that the question of the railroad companies granting to the Pennsylvania millers "millers' privilege" in transporting the products of their mills was being considered by the Reading railroad. A resolution was adopted that the commercial exchanges of the country be requested to substitute after July 1, 1896, the cental measure of 100 pounds for the bushel measure now used. Another resolution was adopted condemning the Belgian, French and German governments for placing an import duty upon American flour and requesting the president and congress to take retaliatory measures. Secretary Richardson and Treasurer Landis Levan, of Lancaster, were elected to the following year.

President, Colonel Asher Miner, of Wilkes-Barre; vice-presidents, Jacob V. Dodge, of Downingtown, and Nathaniel Sellers, of Philadelphia; directors, B. F. Isenberg, Judge Cyrus Hoffa, George T. Ingleman and E. R. Freed. After the election of officers the convention adjourned for today.

This morning's session practically winds up the business of the millers. This afternoon they visited various places of interest about the city, and tomorrow they will go to Atlantic City.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

Proceedings of Second Day's Session of Convention at Allentown.

Allentown, Sept. 11--The second day's session of the National Council Order of United American Mechanics, was held in Independence Hall this morning. The principal business of the day was the annual election of officers. National Councillor Simon gave up his seat, and Vice-Councillor Dittres, elected in his place.

The election was spirited, as there were several candidates for most of the offices. The following were the successful ones: Councillor, Charles J. Dittres, Philadelphia; vice-councillor, Maurice Bauer, New Brunswick, N. J.; secretary, John Server, Philadelphia; treasurer, Joseph Shinn, of Camden, N. J.; marshal, Ira D. Coff, of Worcester, Mass. The council decided to hold their next session in 1896 at Worcester, Mass. This afternoon the visiting delegates were given a trip on the Delaware river.

TRIAL OF DURANT.

More Damaging Evidence is Produced Against the Defendant.

San Francisco, Sept. 11--John Curran, who, it was stated in the morning papers, had seen Blanche Lamont on a street car with Durant on the day of her disappearance, went to Curran's trial this morning to the effect that he had seen a girl with school books on her arm, but was not yet certain that it was Miss Lamont. Neither he nor the other witnesses could identify her.

When the case was resumed today, Mrs. Noble, aunt of the murdered girl, again took the stand. She testified that Durant had been twice and asked about her niece. He particularly mentioned that she might have been made away with. Dr. Vogel, Clarence Wolf and others also called and Dr. Gleason came twice.

No one else suffered anything more than slight injuries, so far as is known.

DEFENDER THE WINNER

Mr. Iselin's Protest is Sustained by the Yacht Committee.

NO NEED OF ANOTHER TRIAL

The Valkyrie is Made to Pay the Penalty of Defeat for Violation of the Rules Governing Yachting--Next Race.

New York, Sept. 11--The regatta committee of the New York Yacht club rendered a decision late this afternoon sustaining Mr. Iselin's protest against the Valkyrie, and awarding yesterday's race to Defender. This result was reached after deliberations and conferences lasting practically all day. The committee was directly under the eyes of the committee, and was also witnessed by thousands of spectators, there was only one decision possible. Every club house and the sailing of yachts and rules of the road at sea agreed that the British yacht was at fault. Lord Dunraven and his friends, however, held that his boat was crowded by Defender, and that the accident was unavoidable. The committee gave each side ample opportunity to state their case, and took the testimony of the captains of each yacht and of others who were on board. David Henderson, who sailed on the Defender as the representative of Lord Dunraven, and R. Rusk, who represented the New York Yacht club on the Valkyrie, each reported on the occurrence. All the interested parties were present when the decision was rendered. With Lord Dunraven were Rear Commodore Arthur Glennie, of the Royal Clyde Yacht club; Saltmaker J. J. Mailand, of the New York Yacht club; Cranfield and Sycamore. In Mr. Iselin's party were Woodbury Kane, Mr. Thorne and Herbert C. Leeds. It was his contention that the Valkyrie was crowded by Defender, and reads as follows:

We had to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of yesterday, protesting Valkyrie. We have given the matter our best consideration, and find that the foul occurred through the miscalculation of the distance between the two yachts at a critical moment. It is our opinion that the protest is not sustained by those of us who were in good position to see, and that the Valkyrie is to be held to have fouled Defender, and that the latter is to be held to have won the race. Your protest is, therefore, sustained.

RULES OF THE RACE.

The racing rule referred to is the following:

A yacht shall not bear away out of her course so as to prevent another yacht in passing to leeward. Section 2 of the same rule says: A yacht free shall keep clear of one abeam and astern of another.

The rule covering disqualifications: If a yacht in consequence of her neglect of any of these rules shall foul another yacht or compel another yacht to foul any other yacht, she shall be disqualified and shall pay all damages.

As stated in these dispatches yesterday, the Defender gave the Valkyrie plenty of room to cross the line, and it was only by the Valkyrie's bearing away to prevent crossing before the line that the latter fouled the Defender. The latter bore up to the Valkyrie to windward and close to the committee boat end of the line. She was running free to Defender and was leading slightly. She was applying the committee boat end of the line at a pace that would have carried her over before the signal. To avoid this she bore away to leeward and lay on her side, and in doing so she spoiled the wind and checked her headway.

The change, of course, brought her within biscuit toes of the American trophy. The latter held up to the British skipper, to avoid a collision which seemed inevitable, luffed up and the Valkyrie's boom did the damage to Defender. He violated the rules by bearing away, and by failing to keep clear of the Defender, a yacht close hauled. Such is the verdict of the committee, and also of all competent judges on the subject.

CAPTAIN CRANFIELD, OF THE VALKYRIE, HOLDS THAT THE FAULT LAY WITH CAPTAIN HART, OF THE DEFENDER, AND INSISTS THAT HE COULD NOT DO OTHERWISE AT THE END OF THE LINE.

Lord Dunraven accepts the decision and will have the Valkyrie at the line tomorrow for the third of the international race.

The regatta committee posted the following notice at the house of the New York Yacht club this evening: To the Members of the New York Yacht Club: Your committee begs to state that before arriving at a decision in Defender's protest against the Valkyrie, a gentlemanly and friendly agreement between the respective yachts to re-sail yesterday's race, but each forfeit that the committee should pass judgment on the protest. (Signed) The Regatta Committee.

AFTER THREE YEARS.

Arrest of David Roll, Charged with Swindling a Camparator.

Elizabeth, Sept. 11--David E. Roll was committed to the Union county jail this morning for thirty days to await requisition papers for his removal to New York. Joseph Petrosino, a private detective of New York, called yesterday in Roelle, near here, and brought him to this city. He is accused of stealing $400 in Italian money from Dominick Marzello, of No. 230 John street, this city. The crime was committed in New York city in 1892 and a warrant was issued for the arrest of Roll. The latter skipped to Roelle and it was not until yesterday that he was captured.

TALKS AGAINST BLOOMERS.

Waterloo Minister Thinks Women Should Not Wear Man's Clothes.

Waterloo, Iowa, Sept. 11--Rev. G. E. Scott, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church in this city, preached a sermon against the wearing of bloomers last night. He took as his text that part of the law of Moses which declares that the woman who wears that which pertaineth to a man is an abomination to the Lord. This law, he thought, was given because God could look down the centuries and see the women of today dressed in men's clothes, with trousers scant of cloth and tied with a string, leading along on a wheel, and showing a man to God, and to the infinite disgust of man. The evil of bloomers, he said, was that they tended to break down the outward distinction between woman and man.

They caused women to lose their modesty and compelled men to lose respect for their wives. He said that the women who persisted in wearing male attire were those who did not hope to marry, or married, acted as though their husbands realized they had made a mistake on their wedding day.

CAVALRY FOR CUBA.

A Troop Said to be Forming at Englewood, Near Chicago.

Chicago, Sept. 11--A local paper says: Out in Englewood is forming a troop of cavalry, which, as soon as it has been organized, will be sent to a regiment of foot, is to proceed to Cuba, under the command of L. G. Andrews, and there join the insurgents. Mr. Andrews, who is recruiting the cavalrymen, says that he has 400 Chicago men who are pledged to go to Cuba, and that $75,000 has been subscribed by three wealthy residents of this city for the fitting out of the expedition, the payment of the recruits and the leading of them in the struggling island. These men, Mr. Andrews says, have been in communication with wealthy Cuban patriots, who have agreed, in payment for the aid furnished, to deed valuable lands to the Chicagoans who extend the aid. According to Mr. Andrews, the men will be drilled when they reach the south. The batteries and the infantry, he says, will be recruited in Kansas City, Mo.

Chinamen Were Killed by Poisonous Food Eaten at a Feast.

Auckland, New Zealand, Sept. 11--The British steamer Mariposa, which left San Francisco on Aug. 22 for Honolulu, Auckland, and Sydney, arrived here today. A captain reported that at Honolulu he learned that the cholera alarm which prevailed here, and which was the subject of a despatch from Mr. Mills, the United States Consul-general at Honolulu, to the state department at Washington, had passed over. The deaths which had been attributed to cholera were traced to poisonous food eaten at a feast. The Chinese emigrants who reached the island of Hawaii by the steamer Belgic from Hong Kong, and who had been quarantined at Honolulu, were released from quarantine before the departure of the Mariposa from Honolulu.

Upon returning from a hunting trip he found the bodies of his murdered family in camp. Shiles, who has recently committed many crimes in the northern part of San Diego county.

FATALLY SHOT BY HIS SON.

Crippled Frank Kemp Gives His Father a Death Wound.

Kokomo, Ind., Sept. 11--Daniel Kemp, a justice of the peace at Galveston, died at his home here today. He was shot and fatally wounded by his son, Frank, at noon today. The shooting is the outcome of a quarrel, about which Frank Kemp will not talk. Neighbors found the old man sitting in a rocking chair with a hole in his breast. The son was in another chair, holding a revolver. Mr. Kemp is a highly respected and wealthy citizen, and is now having a large family, Frank being the youngest, aged 21. Ten years ago Frank ran away, riding to St. Louis on a car truck. He fell asleep, rolled off and lost both legs. The general opinion is that he shot his father while in a passion over some disagreement.

TWO MONUMENTS.

Memory of General Lafayette and Colonel McClelland Perpetuated.

West Chester, Pa., Sept. 11--One hundred and eighty years ago today the British won a hollow victory over the raw levies of Washington at the battle of Brandywine, and today Chester society commemorated the gallant fight made by the Continentals by unveiling two monuments. The one is in memory of General Lafayette, who spilled his first blood for American liberty here, and the other is in honor of Joseph McClelland, a Chester county man, who fought in the battle. The two monuments stand on the battlefield, one a half mile of each other. About 8,000 persons witnessed the ceremonies today. Orations were delivered by Hon. Charlton T. Lewis, of New York, and Charles W. Joseph McClelland Bell, of Milwaukee.

PARADE AT LOUISVILLE

War Veterans Are Cheered by 200,000 Citizens Along Line of March.

THIRTY THOUSAND IN LINE

Pennsylvania Departments and Posts in the First Division--The Column Four Hours in Passing the Review Stand.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 11--The terrible accident which cost the lives of four members of the Louisville Legion this morning cast a gloom over the Grand Army of the Republic parade today, but, nevertheless, the turnout of the veterans was a memorable sight, and 200,000 people cheered them as they marched along.

It was a gigantic and sincere tribute to the sentiment that was head of the procession and which was born today on badges innumerable, "One flag, one country." The line of march was limited to two and a half miles, and the change was a wondrous sight, for the heat was intense and the sun beat down upon the unshaded roadways with remorseless fury. The members of the various citizens' committees on horseback acted as escorts to carriages containing Governor Brown and staff and Mayor Tyler and city officials, who headed the procession. The line consisted of ten divisions and a rough estimate placed the number of men in line at over 30,000. The cheering along the line of the route was incessant from start to finish. The Pennsylvania departments and posts were in the first division with Illinois and Wisconsin. The New York, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and Illinois veterans got the major share of the hurrahs. At the court house the line was reviewed by the commander in chief, city officials and 5,000 special guests.

Ambulances accompanied each division and ice water was provided at each street intersection, and all possible precautions were taken for the relief of those who might be overcome by the heat or compelled, by fatigue, to fall out of the line. There was, however, but little call on the medical department, and with an exception here and there the divisions remained intact from start to finish. The column moved slowly and occupied over four hours in passing the review stand.

For commander in chief General T. N. Walker, of Indiana, is having this his own way and it is said tonight that his only competitor, General Thaddeus S. Clarkson, of Omaha, will move to make his selection unanimous. Walker came within eleven votes of winning at the Pittsburgh encampment. At midnight, Tuesday, after a contest of several hours' duration, the Taval veterans elected Captain Charles W. Almond, of New York, as rear admiral for the ensuing year. Mrs. L. A. Turner, of Massachusetts, will be unanimously elected national president of the Women's Relief corps tomorrow.

AN EX-FIREMAN'S CRIME.

A Survivor of the World's Fair Big Blaze Commits Murder.

Chicago, Sept. 11--John Oram, an ex-fireman, said to be one of the survivors of the fatal cold storage fire at the World's fair, shot and killed Joseph Conlon in front of the latter's home, No. 304 Austin avenue, about midnight last night. The cause of the shooting, it appears, was an imaginary grievance which Oram had against the victim. The only witness to the affair was Miss Agnes Conlon. She said her brother was sitting on the front steps of their house when Oram and his wife passed. Oram stopped to talk to her brother, but the conversation became loud after a few minutes, when suddenly Oram said: "Joe, if you don't leave me alone I will kill you." The next moment Oram pulled a revolver and fired three shots in quick succession. Only one of them took effect, striking Conlon in the left breast, and he died in a few minutes.
