SCRANTON, SEPTEMBER 12, 1895.

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

For Judges of the Superior Court: CHARLES E. RICE, of Luzerne; E. N. WILLIARD, of Lackawanna.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

In compliance with a resolution adopted by the Republican county committee at a meeting held at Central Republican club rooms on Tuesday, Aug. 28, 1895, the Republicans of Lackawanna county will assemble in convention at the court house, Scranton, Pa., Tuesday, Sept. 11, 1895.

It is a mere quibble to say that the known traitor has to be officially "denunciated" before being sent to school.

The Nomination of Mr. Smith.

What would otherwise have been a convention of no importance has been invested with some local interest by the nomination at Williamsport, yesterday, of ex-Judge P. P. Smith for Superior court judge.

It is unnecessary to speak at any length concerning the other Democratic candidates of the Williamsport convention.

The nomination of Mr. Smith comes, of course, through the grace of William F. Harty, and represents mainly Mr. Harty's personal wish.

Seeing the futility of it in any other light, it is no doubt the proper thing to do. It may possibly disappoint the Kerr men, who had a ticket with Smith's name rubbed off.

Suppose Roosevelt doesn't close the clubs. Is that a sufficient reason for open violation of law on the part of the dens and dives?

Cuba and Armenia. Writes Walter Wellman from Washington to the Chicago Times-Herald: "Has the United States a duty to perform in Cuba? This is the question which many men are asking themselves and their neighbors."

An interesting excise experiment is soon to be undertaken by the Russian government. In eight provinces on the first day of next July saloon-keeping as a private business is to be abolished.

The difference between Senator Hill and Senator Quay is that Quay realizes public opinion is improving.

Russia and the Saloons. An interesting excise experiment is soon to be undertaken by the Russian government. In eight provinces on the first day of next July saloon-keeping as a private business is to be abolished.

It is intended to conduct the liquor trade in Russia under government auspices. In a manner somewhat similar to the famous South Carolina dispensary plan.

It is reported that a fender has already been designed which breaks the car automatically on coming into con-

"The Cuban question is a question of humanity. The time has come when it should be uppermost in the minds of the Christian statesmen of the world."

In Scotland there is, or was, a custom whereby the official representative, at the end of his term of office, is summoned before a mass-meeting of his constituents and required to render a public account of his stewardship.

The Republican presidential candidate who wishes to clinch his chances of nomination and election needs only to declare emphatically in behalf of American aid toward Cuban independence.

The presidential election of 1896 promises to be memorable as the first one in which the Republican party will not have to worry concerning doubtful states.

We don't see why the Democratic party should be so continuously partial to the Hon. P. P. Smith as the recipient of its defeats.

Another thing to be thankful for is that the base ball agony will soon be over.

Even if the grand old party had no glorious past, it has a brilliant future.

COMMENT OF THE PRESS. Shall We Free Cuba? From Walter Wellman's Washington Letter to the Chicago Times-Herald: "When one nation interferes with the domestic or colonial concerns of another with which it is not directly connected, it is bound to be regarded as unjustified."

Future English Legislation. St. Clair McKelway, who has just returned from a two months' vacation in Europe, thinks that the American reading public will be surprised at the tremendously affirmative character of the programme of the Salisbury government.

Chicago Times-Herald: "A whole article is condemned or made ridiculous for a single sentence of the mind or pen. You may write nine careful, thoughtful articles, with never a mistake in them, and a tenth will contain a single sentence which will nullify the whole."

It is a Great Opportunity. The American "If Ireland and his friends and followers will faithfully adhere to the new programme, reform will have made another decided step in advance, and there may be hope that the great state of Pennsylvania will get out of the mire in which it has been plunged and staid for many years past."

Turn About Would Be Fair Play. Rochester Post-Express: "When Quay had the fight of his life on his hands, Don Cameron ran away. Quay won and now his friends say that when Cameron began his fight for re-election to the senate, Quay will find it necessary on account of his health to go fishing in the waters of Florida."

A Statement with Truth in It. Washington Post: "Mr. Farquhar, a Pennsylvania manufacturer, writes that 'labor-saving machines have enabled the poorest workman to live in more comfort today than the wealthy classes did a few hundred years ago.'"

And the Head Played On. Boston Herald: "An inspiring feature of the Masonic procession was the South Carolina commandery, parading to the tune of 'Marching Through Georgia.' Yes, the war is over."

POLITICAL POINTS. Here is the latest version of the alleged Quay-Cameron break: "Two days before the primaries were held in Montgomery county, Dick Quay, the son of the senator, received a letter from Cameron asking that young man to meet him at the Hoffman House in New York."

Can't beat King Alcohol? It is reported that a fender has already been designed which breaks the car automatically on coming into contract with any object on the track. That would appear to be a fine fender for use on the steep grades of Scranton. It is worth looking up.

Among the minority faction there is mention of Mr. Penman and Welsh as likely majority candidates.

JOURNALISM AND CRIME. From the New York Herald. In his address before the Medical-Legal congress Dr. Forbes Winslow attributed this year's epidemic of suicide chiefly to the great publicity given by the press to details of crime and trials and the "insufficient power of the legislature to suppress such publicity."

Dr. Winslow thinks that the extent to which such publicity is carried in this country has a deleterious effect on weak minded persons and should be checked by legislative power.

To give proper publicity to crime is not only a legitimate journalistic function, but a public duty. Crime is not a private matter. It is not merely an offence of an individual against an individual.

It is a crime against society, and its exposure, as well as its punishment, is a public duty. On the criminal's part, the delinquent influence, and hence serves a useful purpose.

As for the power of the legislature, "suppress publicity" such a power may be needed in a despotism or a government censorship, but not in a free country where liberty of the press is guaranteed by the constitution.

The frost which opens the chestnut burr will close the trolley party enterprise. The early oyster continues to perspire.

Members of debating societies will do well to place their eloquence upon ice for a few days yet.

Avoid accepting a nomination made this day or yesterday.

Billy Craig's activity these days is regarded by many as ominous for Grant Herring. It is plain that the collector is worried.

Two Good Rules

FIRST--Make your money honestly. There never was any happiness obtained by the aid of gains ill-gotten. Every dollar earned of honest toil buys a hundred cents' worth of happiness in every market on earth.

SECOND--Spend your money carefully. While you are earning it by making something which you probably don't want somebody else is equally busy making something you do want. Don't be worsted in the trade. Until you find the best place to spend it hold the dollar so tightly that the eagle screams and the Goddess of Liberty expostulates.
