Morning Session. The morning session was opened by a Scripture reading by the moderator, Rev. M. J. Watkins, of Factoryville, and prayer by Rev. W. B. Grow, of Carbondale. The rules of order were read and a report received from the delegates consisting of a list of names and $5,000 at the church anniversary. The letter closed with this touching paragraph:

"We receive the association year in the midst of deep sorrow at parting with our pastor, who has been with us over five years. These years have been full of earnest preaching of the Gospel of Christ and faithful pastoral work among the church members, and untiring zeal for lost souls in the community. We thank our Heavenly Father for his mercies and prayers for us, and we faithfully give to all. And we would say: 'God bless him, in his new and important field of labor, and make him as useful there as he has been here, where he will be remembered as one of the most energetic and persevering laborers in the Master's vineyard, with a clean record in every particular, being consistent in life, honest in fact in dealing, liberal and broad in views, evangelical in spirit, and practical in work. He will be missed in the city as well as in the church, for he was universally respected as a Christian gentleman."

President Is Chosen. There was a departure from past custom in electing a president. In previous years the pastor presided in service. He has just returned from the Rev. Warren G. Partridge, H. H. Harris, W. J. Ford, D. C. Hughes, A. B. Brown, W. G. Watkins, A. D. Douglas, W. H. Gibson, Wm. Gray, Geo. Peckville, Conrad Luther and Mary Louise Ziegler, both of Laffin, Luzerne county.

Lewis Hancock, the architect, has just completed plans for a parsonage at the German Presbyterian church to be erected on Prescott avenue. The job is guaranteed to be done by Dec. 1. The building has twelve rooms and because of a peculiarity in the arrangements of the rooms it makes an ideal parsonage residence. The plans can be seen at Mr. Hancock's office, corner Washington avenue and Spruce street.

IS TIRED OF RESTRAINT. Annie Bellman Sighing for Release from the House of Good Shepherd.

Attorney E. C. Newcomb applied for a writ of habeas corpus yesterday for the release of Annie M. Bellman from the House of Good Shepherd. Her uncle, W. H. Hartman, is endeavoring to secure her liberty. Catherine R. Murray and the attendants and keepers of the House of Good Shepherd are charged with detaining her without proper reason. Judge Archbald granted a writ of habeas corpus and made it returnable today at 1.30 p. m. in open court.

HE BEAT HER BOY. Colored Families Air Their Grievances in Alderman Miller's Court. Calvin Swingle, colored, of 405 Mohr court, was a defendant in an assault and battery case in Alderman Miller's office yesterday afternoon. Mrs. John Crampton was the prosecutrix. She is a colored woman, and the complaint against Swingle was that he beat her little son, Ernest. Swingle is a coachman and so is the woman's husband.

The alderman made the defendant pay the costs and give bail to keep the peace.

Conducted by Garfield Lodge, No. 28. Loyal Knights of America, held its banquet last evening at Company H armory, on North Main avenue, which was attended by a large number of guests. The tables, which were set in two rows across the armory, were beautifully decorated. The lodge sat down to the tables at 9.15.

John Williams acted as toastmaster, and after all had been served the members of the lodge were requested to rise and sing a verse of "America," after which Rev. Mr. Watkins, of the North Main Avenue Baptist church, offered grace. The lodge and their friends, numbering about 170, then sat down to the tables and partook of the delicious dinner. The tables, which were about 100 feet long, were beautifully decorated with cut flowers. The menu was one of the most elaborate served in the North End for some time.

After the dinner had been served several lectures and recitations were delivered. The lodge, which is a very popular one, was organized thirteen years ago, with twenty-five members; the present membership is 22. David J. Thomas is W. M., Isaac S. Jones, secretary; James S. Morgan, W. D. M.; J. B. Owens, treasurer.

The average cost for relief for each member last year was $25.38. The number of members of the lodge for the thirteen years is 768. The supper was prepared by the Ladies' Aid society of the Primitive Methodist church of East Market street, Green Ridge.

REV. MATTHEWS ORDAINED. Also Installed as Pastor of the Parian Congregational Church.

Rev. Newman Matthews, a graduate of Harvard university, who has been occupying the pulpit of the Parian Congregational church, resigned for time since Rev. A. F. Ferris resigned, was last evening formally installed as pastor of the church.

The session of the presbytery council met yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock when the preliminaries necessary to the installation were acted upon. The ordination began at 7 o'clock. Some excellent music was rendered and several very interesting remarks were made.

MRS. F. E. BAKER'S FUNERAL. Services Held in This City and Interment in Rochester.

The services over the remains of the late Mrs. F. E. Baker, of Lake Helen, Fla., were held at 10 o'clock yesterday at the home of her mother, Mrs. Goodman Clark, 143 Jefferson avenue. Rev. Rogers, of St. Luke's Episcopal church, officiated, and St. Luke's choir rendered appropriate music. The remains were conveyed over the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western road, to Rochester, where interment will be made today in the family plot in the Episcopal cemetery. A large concourse of relatives and friends accompanied the remains to the station.

DUE TO HEART FAILURE. That Was the Verdict in the Case of Samuel H. Stage.

Coroner Kelley went to Peckville yesterday and held an inquest on the body of Samuel H. Stage, who dropped dead at the Harrison house in that place Tuesday afternoon.

PRISONS CONFERENCE. Consulators of the Scranton Diocese Will Meet in This City Today. ARE TO SELECT THREE NAMES That is a Step Preliminary to the Appointment of a Coadjutor to Bishop O'Hara for the Diocese of Scranton.

Today at the episcopal residence, on Wyoming avenue, the twelve Catholic priests known as the consulators of the Scranton diocese will meet and select three names to recommend to Pope Leo XIII for the selection of a coadjutor to assist Rt. Rev. Bishop O'Hara in the administration of affairs in this diocese. According to the formula that is necessary in the appointment of a coadjutor he is not possible that one will be named for about two months.

Bishop O'Hara is approaching his eightieth year, and the arduous duties of his office are becoming more and more onerous. He is a man of a very and dangerous strain on a constitution naturally rugged, but now beginning to feel the weight of years. Cases of illness which have troubled two years ago have also somewhat weakened his system and led him to feel that an assistant is necessary to lighten the duties placed upon him; that the interests of the churches under his charge may not suffer.

Most Probable Coadjutor. Very Rev. John Finnen, pastor of St. John's parish of Easton, who is clear in mind and vigorous in body, is regarded as the one upon whom the worthy honor will fall. The coadjutor has the full powers of a bishop, but is subservient to the bishop.

The holy father appoints the coadjutor. Six names will be presented to the sovereign pontiff, three by Archbishop Patrick Ryan, of Philadelphia, and three by the twelve consulators of this diocese. The archbishop is not guided nor induced by any advice or suggestion in the nomination of three men; the same rule holds good in regard to the three selected by the consulators. They meet together and consider the names of the candidates. The six names are sent to Rome and considered by the pope.

Who the Consulators Are. It is a rule among the Catholic clergy that when the pastor of a parish has died and the property of the parish has become an immovable rector, that means, he cannot be changed from the charge of that parish until the next vacancy in the Scranton diocese are: Rev. N. J. McManus, of Providence; Rev. John Loughran, of Minooka; Rev. John J. Dwyer, of Honesdale; Rev. Gerald McGarry, of Dunmore; Rev. P. F. Derelick, of Susquehanna; Rev. Charles Kelley, of Towanda; Rev. A. McAndrew, of Wilkes-Barre; Rev. Organ, of Wilkes-Barre; Rev. Thomas Garvey, of Williamsport; Rev. Father Kooper, of Williamsport; Rev. John Comiskey, of Hazleton, and Very Rev. John Finnet, of Pittston.

REASON HAS RETURNED. Mike Ruskosky, of the Ridge, Has Recovered His Senses.

Resident Physician Ben T. Evans, of the Hillside hospital, in the city court that Mike Ruskoski has recovered his reason and Judge Archbald issued an order of removal. The man will be taken back to the county jail from whence he was taken to the insane asylum several months ago. He was serving a sentence of three months for leaving a tipping house when his senses were bereft of him.

SALE DECLARED OFF. Vendee of Carbondale Traction Company's Stock Postponed Indefinitely.

Amicable arrangements were arrived at in the case of William May and others against the Carbondale Traction company, which was being sold for over $3,000 had been standing against the company, and the sheriff was directed to make a levy and proceed with the sale. The entire property of the company, tracks, cars, franchises, motors, wires, poles, dynamos, etc., were to have been disposed of at public auction.

They Are Getting Ready. Local Liquor Sellers Preparing for the State Convention Next Month.

A meeting of the retail liquor dealers of the city was assembled yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock on Wyoming avenue to make preparations for the reception of the delegates who will be present in the city in attendance at the county convention of the Liquor Sellers' association that will be held in this city on Sept. 30 and Oct. 1.

THE NERVE OF THIS MAN. Slept on Another Man's Porch, Then Took Himself to the Cellar.

John Rafter, of 431 Linden street, was surprised upon starting for work this morning and a man asleep on his front porch. He was more surprised upon returning with a policeman to find that the intruder had awakened and broken himself to the cellar, where he was holding his nap.

DIED AT THE HOSPITAL. Typhoid Fever Ends the Career of Frank Smith.

At an early hour yesterday morning Frank Smith, of 413 North Main avenue, died at the Lackawanna hospital from an attack of typhoid fever. He was well known and three children and followed lumberjacking for a business. His remains were removed to the late home.

Another Large Crowd. Saw the Last Days of Pompeii at Laurel Hill Park.

Another large crowd was attracted to Laurel Hill park last night to see the "Last Days of Pompeii." It was given with the same brilliant effects and attention to detail that has marked the various productions of the spectacle at the park. It can be seen again tonight, tomorrow and Saturday nights.

5 Brothers' Great Sale of Hornville Shoes Opens Today. Great variety of extra clerks, but do your trading as early in the day as possible. Store closes at 6.30.

TESTIMONY WITH REGARD TO IT HEARD BY REGISTER OF WILLS HOPKINS. The first hearing in the Gelbig will contest was heard yesterday afternoon before Deputy Register of Wills James H. Hopkins. Philip Gelbig, late of the borough of Archbald, is alleged to have made a will on July 17, 1884, devising all his property to Jacob Stahlheber and his wife, Mrs. Fannie Lettler, Tillie and Maggie Stahlheber. That will is now in possession of the petitioner.

SHERIDAN MONUMENT FAIR. Meeting Held Last Night to Perfect Arrangements for It.

There was quite a large attendance of the members of the Sheridan Monument association last evening in the hall of the city hall. The speakers offered plans and arrangements for the success of the fair that will open in Music hall on Oct. 26 to continue for one month. They decided to engage the School Controller George B. Thompson as superintendent to manage the fair.

GATHERED HERE AND THERE. Architect Duckworth, of this city, has prepared plans for a summer hotel of Exeter borough, for a summer hotel to be erected on a rising piece of ground in Exeter borough near the confluence of the river, a short distance below the Forest Castle, of a hotel building of steel and wood, magnificent proportions and equipment. The plot of ground on which the building is to be situated comprises between two and seven acres, and is admirably suited for the purposes to which it is intended to devote it.

At Glen Summit hotel on Saturday evening Miss Sadie Kaiser made her first public appearance since her return from Europe and the audience included all of the guests at the hotel, the cottagers and a number who were not regulars. All were surprised at the improvement in Miss Kaiser's singing. She sang four selections and responded as many as cores with a firmness, power and breadth of tone that were commented upon long after she had concluded singing. She has perfect control of her voice and sings with the greatest ease. Miss Adelle Brekentine recited and was also eulogized each time. Her elocutionary work is always much enjoyed.—Wilkes-Barre Record.

THE WOMAN'S BUILDING OF THE COTTON STATES AND INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION will be formally opened on Sept. 19. The leading feature of the opening exercises will be the address by Mrs. Joseph Thompson, president of the woman's board. The chairman of the committee on entertainment and short addresses on the work of their respective departments. An orchestra composed of twenty-five young ladies from the Southern Baptist college will furnish the music for the occasion and the programme will be an attractive one.
