THE POOR MAN'S MINISTER

So Says a Letter to The Tribune-Chris tian Endeavor Rally-Lecture Course of the Young Men's Christian Association-Short Notes.

vill preach his last two sermons as pastor of the Penn Avenue Baptist church, preceding his departure for Incinnati, where he will assume the pastorate of the largest Baptist con-gregation in Ohio, and one of the largst of that denomination in the United States. The general sentiment of re-gret over his resignation is voiced in a letter to The Tribune from a member of his church. The letter is as follows:

"Editor of The Tribune.
"Through the columns of your pape I would like to pay a tribute to Rev. Warren G. Patridge, whose resignation has been reluctantly accepted by the Penn Avenue Baptist church, and who leaves this city, where his work has been wonderfully blessed, for a much larger church and more extended field of action in Cincinnati, Ohio. As one of a great number brought by him into the church of Christ, and as one of a still greater number who delighted to do him honor, I would like to publicly express my regard for this untiring worker in the Master's vineyard, knowing full well that in doing so I voice the sentiment of the many members of the church he is leaving.

"In Touch with the Wage-Earner." "There has probably never been a minister of the gospel in this city who was more widely known than Mr. Partridge. His preaching to vast con-courses of people in the Academy of Music, his active interest in public affairs, his many calls to deliver occassion addresses, and his democntic spirit brought him into touch with the wage earner of forge and mine and mill, gave him an extensive acquaintance with all classes and conditions of men, and yet not all those with whom he came in touch fully realized the nobleness of his character, his unself-ishness, and his devotion to the cause that he espoused. His mission here was to save souls, and the growth of Penn Avenue Baptist church during his ministry is abundant proof that he served the Master faithfully and "It would be useless for me to under take to eulogize Mr. Partridge, or to protray his true character. I could not paint the lily nor gild refined gold. If I possessed the skill of a Raphael and the magic touch of a Murillo I could not reproduce a sun-beam. How then would it be possible for me to portray the character of this man of God. To those who knew him I need not. Those of you whose burdens he has borne, whose joys and sorrows he has shared; those of you who have been led by him along the narrow way; those of you who have been brought from darkness into the marvelous light of God's grace through his guidance; those of you whose hearts have responded to his ouch as the strings of an aeolian harp to gentle zephyrs' fingers, need no empty words of mine to mete out his worth. It is engraven upon our hearts: the enduring tablets of our memory have transcribed it, and angels in Heaven have recorded it in the Lamb's book of life.

"He Was Broadminded." "As we knew Mr. Partridge here there was no narrowness, no bigotry about him; he was broad minded, and liberal with a liberality akin to that of the Savior of mankind, for, although ice to orthodox teachings in his own daily work, his love and sympathy for erring ones was as boundless as the sunlight of Heaven.

"There is a story told of him that during his pastorate in a distant city a poor colored man came to his door night and asked if the 'poor man' minister lived there? when informed that he did, he said that his little child had just died, and that he had been to several ministers for assistance to give it a Christian burial but without success. Finally he was directed to Mr. Partridge with the assurance that he would find assistance there, as Mr. Partridge was the 'poor man's minister.' 'The poor man's minister;' the man of Galilee was that. "The going forth of Mr. Partridge from his people here is none of their willing; it is as the going forth of a shepherd from the flock that has learned to know and love his voice—if he so willed it they would not let him go; strong arms would be put forth to bar the way, and eager hands outstretched to draw him back, but conscientiously with an assurance that he is called of to draw God he lays down his work here to take it up again in fields where he will have greater scope and larger oppor-tunities to do the Master's will. "It was said of Sir Christopher Wren that if you would behold his monument, look around. Pastor, if you would be-hold the monument that you have erected in this place, you, too, have but to look around. You have reared a monument that is as firm as the everlasting hills, and as enduring as time, a monu ment whose base is the Penn Avenue Baptist church, and whose apex is crowned with the halo of Heaven. God speed you, pastor, and may you still continue to win souls to Christ and bright stars to your crown. "One of His Flock. "Scranton, Sept. 12, 1895." Christian Endeavor Rally

Popullar to Itself. Peculiar to Itself.

Hood's Sarsuparilla is peculiar to itself, in a strictly medicinal sense, in three important particulars, viz: First, in the combination of remedial agents used; second, in the proportion in which they are mixed; third, in the process by which the active curative properties of the preparation are secured. These three important points make Hood's Barsaparilla peculiar in its medicinal merit, as it accomplishes cures hitherto unknown.

But it is not what we say but what Hood's Barsaparilla does, that tells the story. What Hood's Garsaparilla has done for others is reason for confidence that it is the medicine for you.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

New York, Sept. 12.—The stock market today turned on the gold movement. At the opening rumors were rife that the exports by tomorrow's European steamers would reach a total of nearly $5,000,000. For a time there was a disposition to doubt this, but when it was announced that Lazard Freres had ordered $2,500,000 of the metal at the sub-treasury for export the street settled down to the belief that there had been a rupture of the syndicate. The syndicate has been the mainstay of the government in the way of keeping up the gold reserve, and consequently holders of stocks with slender margins made a rush to sell. Prices dropped ¼ to 3½ per cent. Sugar, the Grangers, Tennessee Coal and Iron, Louisville and Nashville leading the downward movement. Later in the day J. Plerpont Morgan, in an interview, stated that there had been no rupture of the bond syndicate, and that is members will continue to assist the government in maintaining its gold balance. Mr. Morgan's statement was backed up by the deposit of $2,400,000 by down town National banks for which greenbacks were given in return. It is understood that a lower $2,400,000 by down town National banks for which greenbacks were given in re-turn. It is understood that a lower Wall street bank, which is one of the largest holders of gold in the city, will turn in from $500,000 to $1,000,000 additurn in from $500,000 to $1,000,000 additional tomorrow. This will bring the reserve up to about the hundred million mark. These deposits and the statements by the head of the syndicate strengthened the market in the last hour, and a rally of ½ to 2½ per cent. ensued. In the recovery, Chicago Gas, Sugar, Tobacco, the Grangers, Missouri Pacific and Louisville and Nashylle were most prominent. In the late ville were most prominent. In the late trading business was less active and a part of the recovery noted above was lost. Speculation left off weak in tone. Net changes show losses of 14214 per cent. The sales were unusually h cent. The sales were unusually heavy, 444,966 shares changing hands, including 90,000 Sugar, 56,600 St. Paul, 32,000 Rock Island and 25,100 Reading.

Mr. William Thornton, of 127 W. Market

Street, Explains flow and Why He Did It. From the Elmira Gazette.

Old age has many infirmities, none of which are more prevalent than kidney disorders. Have you ever noticed how the old people complain of backache, lame back, and general listlessness? And there are many other symptoms of which they do not speak, such as bloating of the limbs, painful and infrequent urination or excessiveness of the urinary discharge. Most people think they are too old to find relief and cure, but this is not so. No better evidence than the following, which comes from an Elmira citizen, who has been cured of a very severe case at 77 years of age. Mr. William Thornton, of 127 West Market street, speaks of his case in this way: "I am 77 years old. I have been afflicted with that dreadful complaint (kidney disease) for over ten years, making my old age a burden. I was so bad as to be forced to carry a belt at all times, and, when my suffering became beyond endurance, I would put on the belt, drawing it tightly around me and buckle it, ing it tightly around me and buckle it, thus bringing an extreme pressure over the kidneys; this, undoubtedly, forced the urine out, a function which the kidneys themselves had become too diseased to perform. My condition I put down to a strain I received. I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. I was much surprised, as the ailment was so severe and so long standing, while I had tried many remedies without any relief whatever. The pain I have experienced at times from straining without any relief whatever. The pain I have experienced at times from straining in my efforts to discharge the urine was simply awful. I have done away with the use of my leather belt, and the pain has all gone, and I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all afflicted with kidney and urinary disorders."

RAILROAD NOTES.

The largest locomotive that ever pulled a train out of Boston is engine No. 1 on the Fitchburg railroad. It was attached to the Waltham way train Saturday afternoon and pulled the cars as if they were made of paste-board. No. 1 weighs 122,000 pounds and the tender $4,000 pounds, while the cylinders are 20x24 inches. The driv-ing wheels are seventy-three inches in diameter, with centers of steel, and diameter, with centers of steel, and made unusually light, there being a saving in this item alone of about 2,400 pounds, yet stability has not been sacrificed; in fact, all the reciprocating and driving parts are of the same material, a departure in engine construction that is comparatively new. The smallest diameter of the boiler is sixty-two inches, and inside the mammoth shell there are 320 tubes, each two inches in diameter. The engine stands fourteen feet six inches high, has a chime whis-tle, and the tender is fitted with box pressed steel trucks of an improved pat-tern. All the valves are in easy reach of the engineer, and the cab has been of the engineer, and the cab has been fitted with a view to making the life of the men who drive as comfortable as possible. The boiler has been tested at 230 pounds, but her regular supply of motive power will be at a pressure of

All things considered, the Standard Oil freights are hauled with less profit to the railroads than any other class of business The oil being hauled in tank cars, the cars must always be returned empty Despite this handicap the rates to the Standard are very low. Excursion agents have cut the fare from Cleinnati to New York to $10. At a meeting of the principal East-ern trunk lines to New York, the pas-

enger representatives expressed a willingness to make a sufficiently low rate to the Atlanta exposition to induce
