Scranton Loses by Only One Run in Providence.

PONIES LOSE IN WILKES-BARRE

Pitchers Figured Prominently in All the Games Played--Eastern League Season Closes Today--Leaders' Day in the National League.

It was a great pitching day in the Eastern League.

Scranton lost still another game yesterday, but, like the defeat by Springfield on Thursday, yesterday's downfall at Providence was not without credit to the Eastern League.

Meany pitched in winning form and was well supported, but the winning run was batted in at a critical period and Meany was declared out for interference, which deprived Scranton of the chance to score.

Jack Keenan, the Wilkes-Barre twirler, added another to his long string of games won by pitching Gruber, of the Springfield, to a standstill.

In Syracuse, Harnett, who will pitch for Scranton in the coming series at Wilkes-Barre, made monkeys out of the Rochesterers, and Syracuse won by a large majority.

Buffalo won from Toronto in a free hitting contest. Today closes the Eastern League season, and the games played will positively not change the positions of the clubs and the percentages will change only slightly.

It was a lively day and a day of surprises in the National League.

Philadelphia defeated New York in a fashion, Baltimore took two games from Boston, Cleveland spanked St. Louis, Washington beat Brooklyn twice, Chicago defeated Louisville and Pittsburgh defeated Cincinnati.

As a result of these games Pittsburgh goes up ahead of Boston to fifth place and only one point behind the Brooklynites, who still remain fourth in the race.

New York drops and Chicago gains in percentage, so that they tie for seventh place.

WAS A GOOD GAME.

Providence Wins from Scranton by Only One Run--Meany Unpitched Hodson.

Providence, R. I., Sept. 13.--The game between Providence and Scranton today was closely contested from start to finish. The home team seemed unable to hit Meany's ball, and he pitched effectively while Scranton had better luck in connecting with Hodson's curves.

The game appeared certain for the visitors but in the last inning the home team won out by a streak of timely hitting and daring base running.

Dixon, who was sent to bat in Hodson's place, with the bat in hand, cracked out a hit to the extreme right field, scoring Stricker and Murray. Egan pitched the last inning, and Scranton and held them well in hand.

In this inning, with two out and two on bases, Meany interfered with the fielding of a fly by Connor, who was declared out, retiring the side and ending the game. Owing to the lateness of the agreement to transfer these games to Providence, the attendance was slim, about 500 persons being present.
