Davis' Theatre.

If you wish to enjoy a first-class light entertainment go to Davis' the-ater this week. "The Prodigal Father ater this week. The Frongal Faller company," an organization of special-ists, holds the boards. A fair-sized audience witnessed the initial per-formance here yenterday afternoon, and the company presented the rattling farce with a snap and original-ity that delighted all. Twelve mem-bers, five comediennes and seven funny men, make up the organization. All are entertainers.

Lynn Welcher is perhaps the best actor, but it is difficult to pick the jolliest comedian. Charles Boyle was funny, very funny, as the bogus king of the Wamowams, and the songs of Mat M. Mills and Frederick Nalz were features. The sketch by Messrs. Dave J. Halpin, "Bony McGinnis," and Mills the above complaints should remember provoked great laughter. Miss Mar-jorle Fair and Miss Ella Faik help to brighten the performance. Little Irene Franklin won the hearts of all by her clever caprices. The com-pany will repeat "The Prodigal Father" this and tomorrow afternoons and evenings.

UNCLE SAM'S STAMPS.

They Cause Trouble for Eight Carbondale Liquor Men.

As a result of carelessness eight Car-bondale liquor dealers were arrested and yesterday appeared before Collec-tor Herring in this city charged with having neglected to efface the revenue stamps or brands on liquor barrels. The men were Louis Rehkop, D. Finnegan, M. Linen, F. P. Brown, James E. Maxwell, J. Alello, T. B. McTighe and T. E. Burns.

Their error was detected by Special Gauger D. Cool, of Philadelphia, and Gauger D. Cool, of Philadelphia, and their cases are pending the decision of the collector, who, according to law, may compromise with the accused per-sons or turn their cases over to the United States district attorney. It is probable that a settlement will be made. The compromise clause is also contained in the law cases district contained in the law regarding the mutilation of cigar stamps.
