DIAMOND CUT DIAMOND. Further Proceedings with Regard to the Dimmick Note.

The application for a stay of execution made by George Du H. Dimmick on Monday in the matter of a note given by the Wyoming Manufacturing company to the late Judge John Handley was argued and reserved yesterday.

The judge took the papers and reserved his decision.

To offset Mr. Dimmick should be successful in his endeavor to have the writ stayed, the executors of Judge Handley's estate later in the day began proceedings against Mr. Dimmick to recover on a promissory note of $1,300.40, with interest from Aug. 1, 1891.

The same parties also had an attachment execution issued against Mr. Dimmick "to attach and levy in satisfaction of judgment No. 304, September term, 1891, all debts, moneys, chattels and effects due to the defendant, George B. Dimmick, in the hands or possession of the Wyoming Manufacturing company and insert in said writ of attachment a clause in the nature of a scire facias against a garnishee in a foreign attachment, to wit, the said Wyoming Manufacturing company to appear at the next term of court and show cause why said judgment of the plaintiff shall not be levied on the effects of the defendant in his hands."

THIS IS A COLD DEAL. Deputy Sheriff Forber Levies on Goods of an Ice Company.

Next week Saturday will be the Day of Atonement, when services will be held all day in the temple beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning.

ARE BACK FROM EUROPE.

Mrs. William Connell and Children Had a Most Enjoyable Trip. Mr. and Mrs. William Connell and party arrived from New York last evening at 6 o'clock.

The Servia, on which they crossed the ocean, reached port at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and Mr. Connell and party were met at the wharf by a large number of friends and acquaintances. The party consisted of the following: Mrs. William Connell, Colonel and Mrs. E. H. Ripple, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Connell, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Connell, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Connell, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Connell, Messrs. McAnulty, Miss Anna McAnulty, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Fulton, Miss Cora Stewart, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. F. P. Christy, of this city.

It was a delightful trip. Mrs. Connell and her companions had a most delightful trip, embracing most of the places of note in Great Britain and on the continent. The voyage in both directions was pleasant, and they had the privilege of crossing the channel with the view unimpeded by the almost perpetual fog. While there were many accidents on the route, their journey, their trip was unmarred by disaster of any sort.

Mrs. Connell declares that the most beautiful sight she saw, was the most impressive was the American flag floating from a vessel on the Rhine. They had been sailing all day and had passed hundreds of pleasure craft, but the sight of the American flag on every land, and she had felt sorrowful that the United States was unrepresented, when suddenly into view came a handsome boat from whose mast the stars and stripes were flying. The joy of the American travelers may be imagined.

Met Friends in Wales. Some time was spent in Wales previous to setting sail for home, and during several days the party was in Dr. and Mrs. Parry who have so many friends in this region, and also with Mrs. Newell and Mrs. A. A. Jones, the daughters of Daniel Edwards, of Kingston.

Mrs. Connell is of the opinion that of the many countries she visited Switzerland, with its exquisite scenery and its charming people, was the most charming. She was charmed by most of the people, and Mrs. McAnulty has returned much improved in health.
