Passed Away Yesterday Morning After Severe Suffering.

Severe Suffering. Yesterday morning, Mrs. Joseph Bir-kett, of Church street, died of whoop-ing cough, from which she had been suffering for some time. The deceased had been a resident of Carbondale for nearly half a century and the wide cir-cle of friends whom she had met during this time will be pained to hear of her demise. of her demise.

of her demise. Mrs. Birkett was born in Cumber-land, England, on March 13, 1823, her maiden name being Ann Drummond. She was of Scotch descent. In 1843 she was unked in Marriage to Joseph Birkett, who survives her. In 1849 Mr. and Mrs. Birkett came to Philadelphia, and from there went to Nashville, Tenn., where they expected to reside. The cholera broke out there shortly after and they left the place and moved north and took up their residence in Carbondale, where they have resided ever since, with the exception of a short stay at Gibson.

The deceased was a lady of loving disposition and charming personality. She was a devout member of the First Presbyterian church and she will be greatly missed by the church workers. Especially will the poor and needy miss her kindness.

The funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence. Rev. Charles Lee, of the Presbyterian church, will officiate. All those who wish to view the remains can do so from 12 to 2 p. m., as the casket will then be open. Interment will be in Maplewood cemetery.

Arab Says That He Was Pushed from the Car. The Arabian peddler who fell from a street car at Mayfield Monday has made a serious charge against the conductor of the car, saying that he was pushed off.

The peddler says that he got on the are at Jermyn and paid his fare. He was smoking at the time and the con-ductor told him it was against the rules. He accordingly threw the cigar-ette away and the conductor went on his rounds collecting the fares. On his rcturn to the platform the conductor pushed against him and knocked him off the car into the street, hitting the ground with great force on his head. His injuries at the time seemed serious and the injured man was brought to the Emergency hospital in this city, where he was carred for. It was at first feared that his skull was fractured but his injuries were of a less serious characte:

This would not do, however, as the
