DEMOCRATS AT SYRACUSE

The State Convention Is Ouite an Orderly Affair.

A PLANK THAT PLEASES ALL

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 24.—Barring Tammany's fight against the admis ion of Grace-Fairchild men, the Dem convention today was har-s. The attendance was large, ocratic convention today was harmonious. The attendance was large, the eathusiasm great, and the long string of candidates made matters liveity before and after the opening session. Perry Belmont, who is said to be in training for the next gubernatorial nomination, was temporary chairman, and in his speech he sounded the slogan of battle and outlined the policy of the party on the issues which will be uppermost in the fall campaign in the glanpire state. By far a better class of men pire state. By far a better class of men is in attendance at the convention than has been seen at a similar Democratic as been seen at a similar Democratic gathering in years.

The day of the thug and the saloon-keeper in politics seems to be passing, and men of standing in the community are taking their places. The new faces are many and the new blood infuses new life and new ideas into the proceedings.

The big men of the party from all over the state are here, but the delegates are running the convention. Tammany is fighting tooth and nail against the recognition of the state Democracy, but they seem to have un-dertaken too big a contract. Last year they succeeded in shutting out the men who set up the rival organization in New York city, but matters are different this year.

Pionk that Pleases Everybody. The plank in the platform which will be most talked about in the com-ing campaign—that relating to excise and Sunday observance—has been framed. Weeks have been spent in its preparation, and the brainy men of the who announced some time ago that they were out for legislation to do away with Rooseveltism. Just how the Democrats of the rural districts will take it is a question which the November election will solve.

The plank is a slight modification of the following, which was submitted by the committee of the German-Ameri-CORRECT HEADGEAR, THE DISPLAY York:

to, propose to, and endeavor to obtain from this coming legislature a law which will enable each community to determine for itself by popular vote whether the sale of food, beverages and other necessaries shall be permitted on the first day of the week, during certain hours, and in a man-ner so restricted as not to interfere with religious observance to be specified by statute.

Tammany refuses to listen to arguments and will fight to the end against allowing recognition to be made to the men who helped defeat their local ticket last year.

The general belief is that Tammany will be compelled to swallow the bitter pill and that state Democracy will be given one-third of the New York city's epresentation. Tammany made a strong fight in committee tonight, and if the report is against them, will make another fight in open convention tomorrow. Flower Permanent Chairman.

When near town they were obliged to cross a canyon, and this was filled with water to a depth of five feet.

In crossing the cart was overturned and the three occupants were thrown into the water. The rain and darkness caused them to be separated, and when the man, almost exhausted, was rescued by Mr. Schavland the wife and buby were not to be found. #### AN ANTI-QUAY RUMOR.

he Philadelphia Record's Interesting Story in Reference to the Plans of Governor Hastings' Friends.

Philadelphia. Sept. 24.—A special to the Record from Harrisburg states that a significant meeting of the lead-ing members of the anti-Quay Republi-can forces was held there this afternoon, which is believed to mean that he lines are to be shaped for a fight gainst Senator Quay for the control of he state delegation to the Republican national convention.

David Martin and C. L. Magee ar rived together this afternoon from Philadelphia, and went to the execu-tive department, where they were closeted with the governor until after 6 o'clock this evening. It is asserted a plan was agreed upon regarding the discription of offices that will best istribution of offices that will best distribution of offices that will best aid in the securing of delegates to the national convention. The same au-thority has it that the prospects of success in securing a majority of the national delegates was thoroughly disussed, and that the members of the onference feel satisfied they can cap-ure enough to win.

Those who profess to know say that one of the first movements in the di-section of carrying out the proposed dan will be the announcement of Gov-rnor Hastings as a candidate for naional delegate from the congressional listrict, the Twenty-eighth, composed of Clearfield, Center, Elk, Forest and larion counties. The object, so it is said, is to have Governor Hastings a delegate to the convention from Pennylvania with a view to making him mairman of the delegation and placing him so completely before the national organization that his chances for the presidential commation will be maerially strengthened.

ller Advent in Denver Politics Marked by a Fight.

Denver, Sept. 23.—Two men almost killed was the first result of the introduction of woman to practical politics in Denver, For the first time since they were given the franchise the women were formally admitted to the county central committee of the Republican party Friday night, and yesterday most of them registred that they were ever prevailed upon to accept the franchise.

The meeting was one of the noiselest in the noisy history of the party in Denver, and one woman, who had just returned from Chicago, said she had been shanned by the reports that had been circulated in that city about the suffrigists of the west. She said she told her hearers in Chicago that there was not a word of truth in the stories of the disgraceful conduct of committeemen and that there was nothing in politics that any woman need be ashamed of. Now she said she regretted the statement, for she found that the real situation was worse than pictured. During the whole proceedings there were cries of "Put him out," and "He is off his trolley," when a man made a speech for moderation in the presence of women.

Miss Hingley, daughter of Aldermas Hingley, went home from the meeting and complained to her father that Boller in-

The committee on resolutions, which had in charge the framing of the platform, met tonight. The session was a protracted one, the excise plank causing much debate.

The committee adjourned shortly before midnight, after adopting the platform, with the exception of the excise plank. A committee to draw up a special excise plank and report to the whole committee tomorrow was appointed.

The committee on contested seats, after two hours' executive session gave the Grace-Fairchild people one-fifth representation.

SWEPT BY SWAMP FIRES.

Appleton, Wis, Sept. 24.—Sunday night's gale fanned the big swamp fire into a sea of flame and swept away a strip of timber a m le and a half long and a fidle wide. Firms in the threatened region are being protected by means of back fires, and it is hoped that the damage can be confined to the timber. The loss of the timber already amounts to $10,000 and will soon reach $20,000 if the remainder of the swamp goes, as is now likely.

Swamp fires are also reported in the towns of Black Creek, Freedom and in Grand Chute within two miles of Appleton.

Shoe Factory Burned. Shoe Factory Burned.

Elmira, N. Y., Sept. 21.—The Dodson & Warnock shoe factory was burned about 4 o'clock this morning. The cause is thought to have been incendiary. Loss, $25,000; Insurance, $17,500. The same factory, when in course of erection last spring was blown down and had to be rebuilt from the foundation.

CONDENSED STATE TOPICS. The Norristown Shoe company has made an assignment for the benefit of creditors. Linklitles, $33,000; assets not announced. The mill of the Oliver Iron and Steel company, at Pittsburg, has been declared open to union men. This action, which is satisfactory to the company and to the men, has been taken by the Amalgamation lodge at that mill.

The attorney for the magistrates claimed in his opening address to Director Brown, sitting as judge, that it was the mayor's duty to hear the evidence, if it may be admitted, that will, not only affect many officials of the police force, but will even implicate the chief of the de partment of public safety. Mrs. Clara Porter, who has made serious charges against the police de-partment, failed to appear when her name was called. A physician's ser-tificate of her illness was presented. It was then agreed to adjourn the hearing until tomorrow, when Attor-ney Shields says he will have all the witnesses present.

TOWN DESTROYED.

The Cuban Insurgents Wipe Yumari Out of Existence Many Poor Reople Are Homeless.

Philadelphia, Sept. 24.-After an unsuccessful search for Yumuri, a Cuban seaport, the British steamship Culmore, a fruit carrier, which was sent there to load bananas for Philadelphia, returned to this port tonight and re-ported that the entire town had been devastated by the insurgents' torch on Sept. 18 and destroyed, not a home having escaped the ravages of the flames. Several of the refugees were picked up along the coast of the former town and brought to Philadelphia on board the Culmore, Among the number were Colonel Miguel Arrue, a prominent fruit exporter, with his wife and family, and Rodigrez and several women and children. They were, for the most part, engaged in shipping bananas and cocoanuts to Philadelphia and New York, and they lost all their property.

Prominent citizens of Yumuri were sympathizers with Spain in her war-fare upon the Cubans and the insur-gents determined that in order to render such sympathy ineffectual they would destroy the town. Hundreds of persons, many of them from the poorer classes, were left homeless

Webb & Co., No. 116 Chestnut street. Before the flames Chestnut street. Before the flames could be checked they had destroyed or damaged property worth between $250,000 and $400,000, which is understood to be fully insured. The burnt district is L shaped, extending from Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 24.—Police Magistrates Donahue and Doherty, with Attorney Shields, were present at the
appointed for hearing the evidence in support of their bribery and corruption charges against the Pittsburg bumanufacturers of chemicals, Charles J. Webb & Co., and I. Reifsnyder & Co., wool importers. The fire fed rapidily upon the wool, which filled the building occupied by Webb & Co. from the celiar to the sixth or top floor, As the fire leaped through the roof the flames communicated with the rear of the building, No. 118 Chestnut street, occupied by H. B. Heston & Co., wool importers, and Charles W. Nolens, drug broker and commission merchant.

The burned buildings were the property of the estate of John A. Brown and of ty of the estate of John A. Brown and of Charles Lennig. The Brown property is worth about $45,000 and is insured. It was entirely gutted. The Lennig property is worth about $29,000, also insured. Mr. Webb had about $290,000 worth of stock in No. 116 Chestnut street and in 112 South Front street, but he could not estimate his loss un-til he had learned how much of it had been destroyed. He had wead stored been destroyed. He had wool stored in the basement and on all the floors of the Lennig building, but what proportion of his stock was there he could not say. and Persecuted.

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 24.—Speaking of the se zure of the whaling schooner Marvin, Collector Milne says:

"Captain Cooper, of the Rush, is pursuing and persecuting our sealers. The vessel was out on the high seas, forty miles beyond the prohibited zone, and 100 miles from land, and I deny that he has a right to board or search her. If he had reasonable grounds to suspect her of an infraction of law, or had chased her from incide of the zone, he would have ben just fied in boarding and searhing. Evidence is entirely lacking."

The documents in the case with the suspicious seal skin were sent to Rear Admiral Stephenson. It is believed that he will order the vessel released, as it is deemed impossible to secure her condemnation in the admiralty court.

CHAIRMAN FINERTY'S ADDRESS

A Review of the Efforts of the Advocates of Irish Independence-Tribute to Labors of the Fenians - An Address That Provoked Loud Applauso.

Chicago, Sept. 24.—The convention of Irish societies was called to order at noon by J. J. O'Connell, chairman of the local committee. At the time only about half the seats were occupied. From a large number of places in Massachusetts, Connecticut, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin and some of the outhern states Sie dispatches read in this stereotyped form: "God-speed the new movement for reland a nation separate and inde-pendent."

Ex-Congressman John F. Finerty, of Ex-Congressman John F. Finerty, of this city, was greeted with prolonged applause on being presented as tem-porary chairman. The original and subsequent calls were read by John P. Sukon, of New York, secretary of the Irish National League of America, to-

A delegate from New York demanded to know who signed the mes-saces, and the secretary brusquely re-sponded: "None of your business. The sponded: "None of your business. The men who signed these messages are not going to expose themselves to the British government." This was applauded by a portion of the convention and there were no further interruptions.

In calling the convention to order Mr. O'Connell said that it was a spontaneous congress of the people of the Irish race, born of the fact that the Irish-Americans were dissatisfied with Irish-Americans were dissatisfied with the parliamentary campaign on the other side, and of the further fact that other side, and of the further fact that the parliamentary party had herrayed its supporters and proved faithless to its trust. This was greeted with loud applause, which was renewed when the speaker concluded by prophecying that out of this convention would be born and established an Irish republic built on the plans of this great republic.

Chairman Finerty's Address. Chairman Finerty delivered the open-ng address. Briefly reviewing the sucing address. Briefly reviewing the successive efforts for centuries of the advo cates of Irish independence he said that whenever the Irish fought the British on the open field they lost less people than they lost since the passage of the union act. England had passed a bill, a sort of home rule bill, but between it and the house of commons stood an immovable barrier of terror and tyranny in the shape of the house of lords. Should the Irish race give up the struggle because the house of lords says that it shall remain enslaved? There were cries of "No" in response to this interrogatory. and the speaker went on to say the "Noes" came from 20,000,000 of Irish hearts on this continent and from 50,-600,000 more of all nationalities whos hearts beat in sympathy with Ireland's struggle. There were some who thought that the convention might do some-thing to implicate the government of the United States with England. Did the United States with England. Find the display of Stars and Stripes before them? Did showing of national colors all about them intimate that they in-tended to do anything that would harrass the American government? (Cries of "No.")

"Let me remind him that there were thousands of places in the United States that bore the name of Lafayette. who broke the neutrality laws to aid the struggle for American indepen-dence. Neutrality laws stand as nothing against a nation's freedom," went on the speaker, while the audience cheered and shouted in turns, "else cheered and shouted in turns, "else what mean these overwhelming manifestations of sympathy for Cuba throughout our country. I am about as loyal as any man to the American flag and a respector of American laws, but I would not be ashamed to stand on the platform with Lafayette, with Dekalb and with Pulaski and hall the superb vision of a hundred feature. superb vision of a hundred thousand armed men breaking the neutrality laws to liberate Cuba, or of a half-million breaking them with England in behalf of Ireland's independence."
