The Grace-Pairchild Delegates Are Routed at Syracuse.

THEY LEAVE THE CONVENTION

llarmony at the New York State Demo cratic Love Feast Was Equipped with Claws-Scenes of Disorder-The Ticket Finally Nominated.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 25.—The Democratic state convention was called to order at 11.26 by Perry Belmont, the temporary chairman. The resolution adopted last night by the committee on credentials, giving the New York state Democracy a one-fifth representation in the convention, and for this convention only, and declaring the Tammany delegates to be the only regular delegates from New York county. Each Tammany Hall delegate, under the resolution, is given four-fifths of a vote, and each Grace-Fairchild delegate one-fifth vote was then reported. Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 25 .- The Demgate one-fifth vote was then reported. Charles J. Patterson, of Kings county, then presented the following resolution as an amendment:

Resolved, That upon the roll call of this convention the names of both the sitting and contesting delegations from New York county be called, and that the sitting delegation be accorded seventy votes and the contesting delegation thirty-five votes in the convention, and that the sitting delegation select eight members of the state committee and the contesting delegation four members of the state committee, subject, however, to the right of the organization represented by the sitting delegates to use the party emblem for their local ticket in case of differences.

He proceeded to speak in behalf of He proceeded to speak in behalf of representation for the state Democracy and was frequently interrupted until Sepator Hill called on the sergeant-at-arms to preserve order.

Mr. Bell, as chairman on credentials. spoke against giving the one-third representation. After further remarks pro and con a vote was taken and Patterson's amendment was lost, and And in the Control of the committee's report adopted by a large affirmative vote Grace-Fairchild Men Retreat. Confusion followed. Tammany men cheered, and cries of derision were board from the spectators' benches. In the midst of it all the Grace-Fairchild Democrats arose and marched out of the hall. Tammany delegates jeered of the hall. Tammany delegates period them, and the Shepard Democrats, from Kings, rose in their places and gave the rothing delegates three cheers. Chairman Belmont pounded on the desk with his gavel, but it was several minutes before, business could go on.

The report of the committee on permanent organization was presented by James S. Bishop, of New York, the hairman of the committee It named Hon. Roswell P. Flower for permanent chairman, and the usual list of vice presidents and honorary Chairman Flavor after the business Chairman Flower, after the business of the convention had been completed, stepped to the front of the platform, and raising his right hand, said:

"Before we leave the convention hall let us give the first three cheers for the ticket."

This was given with a will, and the convention adjourned sine die at 2.19 Senator Hill Sptisfled.

Senator Hill Satisfied.

Senator Hill, before leaving town, said: "The state ticket is a good one. They are new men, young men and bright men. The ticket represents all shades of the party. No loyal Democrat can find and objection to the ticket. I should have preferred that a larger representation should have been afforded the state Democracy, but the twenty-one votes accorded them was a recognition. In politics you cannot always have exactly what you desire. The convention practically ran itself and everybody had his say. I have no doubt the ticket will be supported by all the Democratic factions of the state."

KILLED HIS COMPANION.

Villianous Tramp Puts Five Bullets Int the Head of Another Hobo.

Harrisburg, Sept. 25.—About 7 o'clock this evening a cold-blooded and brutal murder was committed at Bridgeport a small village on the Cumberland shore opposite this city. Two rough strangers, who crossed the river bridge strangers, who crossed the river bridge late this afternoon, were the murderer and his victim. They were evidently companions in crime, as a satchel which they carried contained a dark lantern and burglar tools. During the afternooff the two men ran the town and the village hotel, threatening to kill all who opposed them. One of the men carried two big revolvers and furgled them cowboy fashlon. He juggled them cowboy fashion. He boasted that he had killed several men in Texas. Both were roughly dressed and villianous looking tramps.

After a fight, in which one whipped the other, they shook hands and resumed their reign of terror, which wound up at 7 o'clock this evening by the fellow with the revolvers stealing the fellow with the revolvers stealing up behind his companion and putting five bullets into his head, killing him instantly. He then ran away and dared anybody to follow him. He has not been apprehended. Another tramp, who says he is John Gallagher, from Willow Hores, in Intelligence Wilkes-Barre, is in jail as a suspect, but is not believed to be the murderer.

DURANT WILL TESTIFY.

The Defense Announces That the Californin Fiend Will Be Placed on the Witness

He said he would show that on the morning of April 2 Durant left his home for that of George King for the purpose of mak-ing arrangements for the latter to help him fix the gas apparatus in Emmanuel him fix the gas apparatus in Emmanuel church in the afternoon. He met Blanche Lamont on Twenty-first and Mission streets. She was waiting for a car to take her to the high school, and invited him to take a ride with her. He left her at the high school and continued on his way to Cooper Medical collections. Medical college, where he remained until about 2.30 o'clock or later. It would be shown by the college records and otherwise, that Durant had attended the lecture, which would take him up to about 3 o'clock, that he left the college at 3.30, took a car and reached Emmanuel church at 4.45 o'clock. Witnesses would be introduced to prove this, and that when he reached the church he went into the library room, left his coat and hat there, and then went up stairs to fix the sun burners, where he was overcome by gas. Every-thing that occurred in the church subsequently, as stated by King, would be admitted. It would be shown that Durant saw King home from church and then proceeded to his own room, where he are his supper, and, after a

The defence will further show that the accused wore an entirely black suit on that day, and this will dis-prove the testimony of Mrs. Vogel, who swore he wore a light pair of trousers. Mrs. Leak's testimony would also be proved to be valueless as her sight is defective. As to the witness Oppen-helm it would be shown that he was visited by a young man who were a blue overcoat, as Oppenheim had de-scribed and who offered rings for sale defendant. In the course of his state-ment, Mr. Duprey announced that Durant would take the stand.

SALVATIONISTS ACCUSED.

Hendquarters of the Easton Army, a Resort for Toughs.

Easton, Pa., Sept. 25.—Rev. Mr. Pfattelcher, pastor of the Zion Lutheran church, and one of the trustees of the Third Street Reformed church, two of the largest churches in Easton, today appeared before Mayor Field and entered a complaint against the Salvation army. The army barracks ad-join the Zion church, and nightly meetings are also held in a square near the Third street church. The congregations at both places are interrupted to be stopped.

The allegations in the complaint are that the vilest class of people of three towns gather at the army's headquar-ters, that attendants of Zion church are compelled to listen to obscene language, and that every Sunday morn-ing church goers have to find their way over broken beer and whiskey bottles. Mayor Field served notice on the Salvationists to appear before him

UNIQUE DAMAGE SUIT.

Forty Thousand Demanded for the Ruin of a Playground.

Duluth, Sept. 25.—A ruined play-ground is the basis of a damage suft for $40,000 now on in the district court. The plaintiffs are Amund and Amathilda Olson and the defendant is the con-tracting firm of Fredin & Wilson, who recently built a block near the Olson home in the east end. The Olsons allege that the land adjoining their home was an excellent playground for their children; that it was a good place to stretch a clothes line, and that on it was a fine well of water. All this has been wrecked, so they claim, by the defendant firm. It is also alleged that the dirt left around by the contractors has ruined the Olson home and rendered it unfit to live in. The health of the children has been damaged, the complainant states, by reason of their now having no place to

PROTECTION FOR

Attorney Shields Drawing the Net About Police Magistrates.

SOME INTERESTING EVIDENCE

Mrs. Clara Porter Testifics That She Has Paid Various Sums for Protection in the Transaction of Illegal Business in City of Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 24.—Attorney Shields, who is managing the case for Folice Magistrates Donohoe and Doher-ty in the investigation before Director Brown, was somewhat more successful than yesterday, although unable to produce more than half of the number of witnesses summoned. He made a stiff light, however, in his efforts to establish the irregulacity, so far as the police are concerned, of the transaction mentioned yesterday of the diamond theft and Marion Clark's check. He also succeeded in having Mrs. Clara Porter present, although her testimony did not materially differ from the stories al. materially differ from the stories al-ready published in her charges of havgaged in icregular liquor traffic; that her husband's brother was at the present time keeping a "speak-easy."

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

Brutal Robert Fair, on Insurance Agent, Shoots His Wife and Then Kills Him-

New York, Sept. 25.-Robert Fair, an insurance agent, 40 years old, shot and killed his wife, Maggie, 35 years of age, at their home, 507 Third avenue, some time during last night, and then ended his own existence by shooting himself in the breast. Fair was a sucnimeet in the oreast. Fair was a suc-cessful insurance agent and made a good deal of money, but some three years ago he began to drink heavily, and while intoxicated he frequently beat his wife brutally. About a week ago, Mrs. Fair, driven to desperation because of his brutal treatment, left her husband and went to live with her sister. Last evening she returned to her rooms to get some of her clothing. Fair was asleep on a sofa in the parlor and heard her go in.

The couple began to quarrel and the woman told him she would not stand his abuse any longer and was going to leave him. The quarrel was evidently patched up at that time, but about midnight it broke out afresh and from the leaks of the rooms this mean. from the looks of the rooms this morning there was a fierce struggle before Fair killed his wife, as chairs were overturned, ornaments and books swent from the tables in the parlor and about every article of furniture in that room Director Brown had given his permission for her to open a "sporting" house on Penn avenue. Mrs. Helen White-house, wife of the police inspector of the Second district, was next sworn She has not lived and sex age. The Second district, was next sworn.

She has not lived with her husband for months and a divorce application is pending. Mrs. Whitehouse testified to her husband having, on numerous occasions, received money from people or

WRECK OF THE DIANA.

John Olsen's Thrilling Tale of His Escape from a Watery Grave and Subsequent Imprisonment.

Boston, Sept. 25.-John Olsen, of New York, arrived in Boston yesterday and brings details of the loss of the steamsealing schooner Diana in the Behring sea, March 27, the only survivors being bimself and First Mate Garvin.

The vessel sailed from Yokohama Feb. 22 with a complement of twenty-two men, Captain McCormick in command. About the middle of March the vessel arrived off Cooper Island, northeast of Lockalene Island, one of the Russian possessions.
On the morning of March 26, with a high sea running, the captain ordered the boats out. The mate and crew took exception to the order, but, as the cap-tain was firm, the boats put off. A heavy storm arose in which two of the boats were blown to sea, and the boat in which were seven men and the mate, was thrown by a huge wave high up on the rocks of Copper Island and smashed, all but Olsen and Garvin being drowned.

All night the men lay on the rocks, cut and bleeding, while the increasing storm continually covered them with similar to those of the murdered girl's. Webber, formerly bookkeeper for Bing | cold spray. Early in the morning the schooner was sighted, laboring heavily, but all of the time drifting helplessly towards the rocks, which later struck, bow on, and sank with seven men who had remained on board. Olsen and mate remained in their po-sition until the morning of March 28, both having suffered intensely. On this morning, the storm having abated, they prospected and near the south end discovered the bodies of the captain, steward and cook. They also found a barrel containing fresh water and several boxes of corned beef. For six days and nights the men remained on the island, but on the morning of the seventh a Chinese fishing junk was signalled. They were taken aboard and carried to Lockolene Island which is about forty miles to the south of Copper Island. Here they were captured by Inos and delivered to Russian officers. The only word the men could understand of what was asked them was "passports," and as they had none they were taken, ironed together, on they were taken, ironed together, on a three days' journey to Karosokoff, An interpreter was found, but their story was not believed, and they were seat, stil ironed, as prisoners to Alexandria. Here also their story was not credited and they were then forwarded to Vindovostock, where they were placed in a filthy prison and were given no food until the morning of the second day. Seeing a British flag flying over a store near by, the men, when not closely watched, made a break for liberty and reached the door of the store when they were recaptured. An Eng-lishman in the store had heard the commotion and come out to ascertain the cause. The men told him their story and he aided them to their liberty by obtaining confirmation of the wreck of the Diana from other vessels.

Willing to Sacrifice Ilis Life for Irisl Independence - Delegates Madden and Sheedy Turned Down. Other Convention Work.

Chicago, Sept. 25.-The delegates to the Irish convention were again behind time in assembling this morning and when, at H o'clock, Chairman Finnerty called them to order he sternly re buked them for their tardiness.

The report of the committee on cre dentials simply consisted in the handing to the chair of a pile of certificates of eligibility turned in by the delegates. No figures of the number of delegates or the places represented were submit-ted. Delegate Lynch, of Pittsburg, moved that the names of Madden and Sheedy, of Pennsylvania, be added to the roll of delegates. The entire dele-gation from western Pennsylvania supported the admission, but the conven-tion, by an overwhelming majority, refused to amend the report of the com-mittee, a delegate in the body of the hall shouting, "They are troublesome men, we don't want them."

After this the report was adopted.

The report of the committee on permanent organization continuing the temporary organization was adopted. An amendment to add O'Donovan Rossianian and the control of sa to the list of vice-presidents was re-ceived so coully that he declined to al-low it to be voted upon. The applause was frequent. In order to afford the state delegation an oppor-tunity to caucus for members of the committee on resolutions and ways and means, the convention at 12.29 took a recess until 2.30 p. m.

There were indications of bad blood, as the delegates dispersed, over the unseating of the Pittsburgers, and it came to the surface during the recess, The New York, Massachusetts, Mis-souri, Philadelphia and Chicago dele-gations voted solidly to sustain the committee, while the western Pennsylvanians were supported by the scat-tering delegates from the far west and the southern states.

Friends of the men excluded claimed that the harsh treatment they had recoived was due to the fact that in the past they had antagonized the old "tri-angle" element of the Clan-na-Gael and insisted that the present convention was controlled by that element. John Lynch, of Pittsburg, who was the only one of the trio whose papers passed muster in the committee, said he was as deep in the mire as were his colleagues, and why he should be admitted while they were turned down was something beyond his comprehension. The police station without security for his return "Here, take this as security," said Mrs. Selig, as she placed her three months-old baby in the court bailiff's

Mrs. Selig then hurried out of the station saying she would not call for the baby until her husband had secured money to pay the fine. She did not return, and as the baby began to ery soon after she left, it was taken to the orphan asylum. Later in the day Selig's fine was suspended, and last night he and his wife went to the asylum for their baby.

MRS. TOMPKINS FOUND. She Is Said to Be Living Quietly in San

San Francisco, Sept. 25.—The Examiner says that Mrs. Elizabeth F. Tempkins, the eastern turf writer, who mysteriously disappeared from New York two years ago, has been found in this city. She is at present with Norman Brough, the official handicapper for the California Jockey club. She came to this city with him from Saratoga in 1892. At that time Brough was a writer on racing matters. Both are well known in the east, and Brough is quite a figure in local sporting circles.

Mrs. Tompkins' disappearance caused no end of talk when her absence became known. From time to time specu-lative articles have appeared in eastern papers, wondering why she left her home and her present whereabouts.

SCATTERED HIS BRAINS, Shocking Sequel to a Wedding Near

Huntingdon. Huntingdon, Pa., Sent. 25.—At 2.30 o'clock this afternoon Rev. A. R. Lambert went to Juniata township and united Jesse Morningstar and Mary A. Bowser in marriage. About an hour after the ceremony, while the bride was sittle on the recently lan George R. sitting on the groom's lap, George B.
Spooneybarger, Morningstar's brotherin-law, handed him a gun and the weapon was accidentally discharged.
The shot took off the whole upper part of the groom's head and his brains were scattered all over his bride and the room in which they were sitting. Death was instantaneous.

Rubber Receivers Discharged. Trenton, N. J., Sept. 25.—The receivers of the Trenton and Eastern Rubber companies were discharged this afternoon by order of Vive Chancellor Bird, no creditors having objected and all agreing to receive notes for their balances due.
