CASE IS WITH THE JURY.

One of the Most Famous Trials in Luzerne County at an End.

County at an Eud. When court opened yesterday morn-ing, Attorney McGovern, who has been defending Nelse Miller so ably in con-junction with Mr. Mulhall and Mr. Freas, concluded his plea. He said in his review of the testimony that the dynamite was not put under the house by the colored people, but by some one acting in concert with some of the in-mates of the house, saying that it was highly improbable that the col-ored people would place the explosive while several of the residents of the house were up and playing cards, as the testimony showed. He then showed how clearly Shafer's untruthfulness had been proved, and strongly urged the jury not to place any credence in his story. his story.

Attorney James L. Lenahan closed the case for the commonwealth. He said that in not one instance had it been shown that Frank Shafer swore falsely. Shafer has sealed his own doom, and by letting Miller go, you will hang the subordinate and release the principal. Shafer's testimony has in many ways been corroborated.

ways been corroborated. Mr. Lenahan went rapidly over the testimony and brought out many points which corroborated Shafer's tes-timony. He said, in closing: "Gentle-men, what was the motive? It was plunder and gain. Miller was the boarding boss of the colored camp, and be thought these more tea many Hum. bearding best of the colored camp, and he thought there were too many Hun-garians. Less Hungarians, more col-ored people, and therefore more gain for Miller. These wires were laid and the battery discharged by experts. If you acquit this man the whole gang goes free, and the young boy who was awakened from his bed to explode this battery will be the only one who will suffer."

Judge Woodward then made an able and exhaustive charge to the jury. He read the definition of murder and said that the degree must be fixed with care, although them is no device that a said opsis of the evidence given by the many witnesses. He said "In the annals of crime there is nothing more fiendish and atrocious than the plans to kill six-ty innocent, sleeping people, with this terribly agency, dynamite. It has been reserved by our own county to use this terrible explosive for the killing of inservice explosive for the killing of in-offensive laboring people. This erime, gentleman, by whosever committed, is murder of the first degree. The ques-tion before you is whether Nelson Miller is guilty or not of this charge. We know from the testimony of the witness Shafer who fired the batters Whet Shafer who fired the battery. When several persons units to accompilsh any object, all are severally responsi-ble for what is done. If several per-sons commit a crime jointly, each is guilty as much as if he committed the crime along. If it he true that Shafer guilty as much as if he committed the crime alone. If it be true that Shafer pressed the battery, but that the pre-liminary work was done by another, the other would be just as liable to con-viction and sentence. As you are well aware a large portion of the discussion had reference to the testimony of this young man, Shafer, who is an accom-plice under his own statement. The young man, shater, who is an accomplice plice under his own statement. The law says he shall be corroborated. The rule of the law is this: An accomplice in crime may be believed without any corroborative testimony, but it should be corroborated if possible, eGnerally the accomplice has a motive to con-vict others and free himself, but here

However, the testimony of Shafer has been seriously impeached and it has been shown that he is not a truthful man, so that you will have to be very careful in determining what credence to give it. The judge made an able and lengthy charge and the case went to the jury at 12.30 o'clock.

CLEAN THE RESERVOIR.

Danger from Impure Bottom of the Company's Source of Supply.

While council has done its utmost to compet the Crystal Spring Water com-pany to furnish good water and a sufficient quantity of it to their patrons in this city, they have overlooked one very important point. This is the thorough cleaning out of the reservoir of the company. If the reports are to be believed, the bottom of this reservoir. which is now exposed by reason of the very low water, is now a mass of decayed vegetation and dead fish, which the hot weather of the past week has converted into a body of putrefying matter, which, unless removed, will be most dangerous to the health of the consumers. As one prominent attor-ney of the city said yesterday, "If this reservoir is not cleaned oug before waiter is put into it again, the Crystal Spring company will serve us fish all winter

This question is serious. Even if it This question is serious. Even if it does rain and the reservoir is filled so that the company can provide all the water necessary, the quality of the impure bottom of the reservoir. It is not to be supposed that Mr. Parrish, president of the company, or Mr. Law-all, the manager, intend to allow this state of affairs to occur. It must sure-ly be the intention of the company to clean out the reservoir before using it again, but they are wasting time by not putting men to work at once. Then, not putting men to work at once. Th o, council should have clinched the atter. They should have embodied in their resolutions passed a few even ings ago a resolution requiring that the reservoir becleaned before it be used again. This is an important question, and it should not be overlooked by either council or the water company.

ROBINSON PLEADS GUILTY.

Commonwealth Accepts a Plea of Murder in the Second Degree.

"Happy Jack Robinson, who together with Kearney, Fisher and Hendricks, is charged with the murder of Barney Reick, was arraigned yesterday after noon in court room No. 1, before Judge Woodward. Kearney and Fisher have not yet been tried, but Hendrick, it will remembered, has been convicted and is now serving a sentence of twenty years in the penitentiary for the crime. John T. Lenahan, who was one of the attorneys who helped to convict Hendricks, made the announcement that Robinson had pleaded guilty of murder in the second degree, which had been accepted by the prosecution. It is not necessary, Mr. Lenahan continued. to go over the story of the crime. It was fully tried out in the case of the commonwealth vs. Hendricks. It was the most brutal murder ever committed in this country, and right in the shadow in this court house. The jury, for some reason unknown to us, found Hen-dricks the leader of the gang, guilty of murder in the second degree will not ask for more than a plea of second degree from Robinson

Mr. Martin, in behalf of his client, spoke of Robinson as having never been charged with any serious crime before, and he was unwilling to again go on the witness stand and deny con-nection with the murder. He will tell on Saturday, when he appears for sentence, his unfortunate connection with the affair. Robinson has a young wife and three children, and for their sake some marky should be extended to him.
