Resolutions with Regard to Departure of Rev. and Mrs. Partridge.

SABBATH SCHOOL CONVENTION

Addresses of President John Wanamaket Will Form the Principal Feature of the Williamsport Meeting-Services in City Churches Tomorrow.

At a meeting of the general committee of the Scranton Free Kindergarten association, held Tuesday, the following resolution was adopted:

The members of the Scranton Free Kindergarten association wish to ex-press their sincere regret that, in the removal from Scranton of the Rev. Warren G. Partridge and wife the work of the Scranton Free Kindergar-ten association loses two of its most interested and faithful members. Mr. Partridge was the prime mover of the work in Scranton, and through its history of three years his zeal has been unflagging and his counsel, as a mem-ber of the advisory board, very valuable. To him is due, to a large degree, the rapid development of the work, and we congratulate him that his new field of labor offers him, in this department of Christian activity, a still larger opportunity of usefulness.

The clergymen of the Abington Baptist association met in the Penn Avenue Baptist church Wednesday morning and adopted resolutions of regret concerning the departure of Rev. T. J. Collins. Revs. D. C. Hughes, D. D., W. J. Ford and W. G. Watkins were a committee on resolutions. Mr. and Mrs. Collins are now in Pittsburg, where they will remain until next week. when they will leave for Salt Lake City, where Mr. Collins will assume his new pastorate. The Ladles' Home Missionary society of the Scranton Street Baptist church, on Tuesday evening, adopted resolutions of regret over Mrs. Collins' departure. A social ses-sion was held later, and a silver set of six pieces was presented Mrs. Collins from the society. Her daughter, Miss Ida, was given a gold pen by the chil-dren's Sunday school classes.

Work of Railroad Y. M. C. A The influence exerted by the Railroad department of the Young Men's Chrisman association in improving the charof employes in all grades of the railroad service is receiving more and more recognition from all parts of the country, although the eastern lines have availed themselves of this means to a greater extent than have those of the west and south. For a long time the experiment of the New York Central and one or two other systems in fostering the work of the association was intently watched by other raliroads. Their subsequent adoption of stmilar measures and especially the conversion of powerful lines like the Pennsylvania, from an attitude of suspiction to one of thorough indorsement proves the success of the experiment. The Southern rallroad is now arrang-The Southern railroad is now arranging for the location at nine division points on its extensive system, of branches of the association. The cost of erection of buildings will be borne by the railroad, except for such as may be secured from citizens of the towns interested. The expense of maintenance also falls on the company.

In the west the most immortant en-

In the west the most important en-terprise of the near future is the new union building at St. Louis, to be built on railroad property adjacent to the Union station. The cost of the building, $75,000, is to be divided on the wheelage basis between 'the roads using the station. At the present time 80 per cent. of the amount has been pledged and the work of erection will be delayed only until spring. Included in the lines interested in this enterprise are the Missouri Pacific, the Webash, the Big Four, the Burlington, the Alton, the Missouri, Kansas and Texas, and the Vandalia.

In the east the association rejoices in two magnificent new buildings, one in Philadelphia, the other in New York. The Philadelphia building is exclusive-ly for the men of the Pennsylvania system. Its cost exceeded $100,000 tem. Its cost exceeded $100,000. In New York anaddition has recently been completed to the New York Central building. A valuation of $100,00 each is placed on the original building and its addition. The entire expense in each case was assured personally by Mr. and Mrs. Sanborn Surprised a very pleasant surprise Monday eve ning on the third anniversary of their mission work in this city. Ice cream and cake were served at the close of the evening service, at which about fifty of the friends gathered. It was a complete surprise, and a very enjoy able occasion to all.

The converts and friends of the Res-ue mission gave Mr. and Mrs. Sanborn

The annual address of the president, John Wanamaker, will form the prin-cipal feature of the opening session on Tuesday evening, Oct. 8, of the Thirty first annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath school association at Williamsport, Pa. Mr. Wanamaker is so well known as a Sunday school superintendent and excellent speaker that no doubt there will be scarcely any extra room available at the opening meeting of the conven-tion. Added to this are the general arrangements that have been planned with great care and abundant fertility of resources, under the able leadership General Chairman of the Committee M. B. Hicks, of Williamsport. is certain to be a very large attendance Further particulars concerning the con-vention can be obtained by addressing the secretary, Dr. C. J. Kephart, Ann-

The young ladies of the First Presbyterian church are a great aid to the committee of the Presbytery that is working among the foreigners in this region. They have established and maintain an Italian mission and missionary, and have been very successful. In aid of their work an enjoyable clipping social was given Thursday night

He Had a Praying Mother.

Evangelist Schiverea was once a variety actor. He had a praying mother and through her and Mr. Moody was led to Christ. Since then it is estimated that he has addressed a million persons. His mother once said to him: "I have good news for you, my son. You are going to be converted and do a great work for God before you die." These words were spoken to him as they were leaving the stage door of a Brooklyn variety theater. Young Schiverea made no reply, but accompanied his mother home in silence. Not long after this event Schiverea, with several theatrical companions, was passing the big Brooklyn rink where Mocely was hold services. Someone put a card of invitation into his hand, and with his friends he entered and took a rear seat, behind 7,000 others. others. For some time after entering, the preaching of the great evangelist made no impression, seemingly, but finally, when Moody began to apply his truths and make his home thrusts, the young actor began to think very seriously. From that moment new am-bitions and desires took possession of young Schivere It. young Schiverea. It was a thorough, rock-bottom conversion, and he saw life from a different standpoint. He first went among his former associates on the stage for personal work. Then he hired a room and commenced Gospel services, inviting the people in and telling them in a stumbling way what God had done for him. That was the humble beginning of a great work which has been wonderfully blessed in which has been wonderfully blessed in the succeeding years, when he has al-most without intermission been preaching the Gospel in all parts of the Unit ed States and Canada.

College President at the Y. M. C. A. The Young Men's Christian association devotional committee secured Rev. Dr. John H. Harris, president of Buck-nell university, as the speaker for the Sunday afternoon meeting, at 3.45 o'clock, Professor J. M. Chance and Mr. Morgan will have charge of the preliminary song service. WALL STREET REVIEW.

New York, Sept. 27.-Trading at the tock exchance still continues of a professional character. At the opening the market showed an advancing tend-ency, the demand running chiefly to the anthracite coalers, Sugar and Distill-ing and Cattle Feeding. The improve-ment in the coalers was most pro-nounced in the case of the Reading se-curities, London having bought heavily of the stock and the preference in-comes. Authorities placed the pur-chases of the stock at fifteen to twenty thousand shares, while the buying of the bonds was simply enormus. The brighter outlook for the anthracite trade as well as a belief that the J. P. Morgan interest intend taking hold of the property for the purpose of put-ting it in good financial shape, accounts for the advance in these securities to day. The common stock rose 1% to 22%, and the bonds anywhere from % to 2 per cent. Lackawanna advanced 1 to 170½, and Susquehanna and Western preferred % to 35%. The market closed quiet and steady. Total sales were 223,807 shares, including 73,400 Reading, 38,400 Distilling and Cattle Feedbare, 18,700 St. Paul and 14,400 Feeding, 16,300 St. Paul and 14,400

Only a Brief Respite.

We are now indulging in a little bit of needed rest.
The congressmen are scattered through the east and through the west;
It's au revoir, but not good-bye. We know we'll have 'em all Prepared to do their duty when the snow-begins lo fall. The man who wants to put a bridge across

The man who wants a tip on how the stocks are going to crawl—
They'll all be icre for duty when the snow begins to fall.

CORIN LEBECK &

NEWS OF OUR INDUSTRIES.

Happenings of Interest to the Stape Trades and Particularly to the Trade in Iron. Steel and Anthracite Coal.

The Lehigh Valley foundry at Weatherly is working ten hours, and many of the laborers are compelled to Freight rates on iron and steel (manufactured products) between Harris-burg and New England points will be advanced 3 cents per 100 pounds in car lots, to take effect Oct. 15. The output of pig iron continues at about 200,000 tons per week, the largest in recent years. This means a railroad tonnage of nearly a million tons pe week, counting ores, fuel, limestone sand, firebrick and other needful fur nace supplies. regular annual inspection of the Pennsy's main line and branches will be begun Oct. 14. Comprising the inspecting party will be most of the di-rectors of the company and a number of the leading officials. The work of inspection will probably last two weeks. President Wood, of the Maryland Steele company, has announced that fires would be lighted under all the blast furnaces at Sparrows Point, and that probably the works will resume operations in all departments in a week or ten days. A large number of workmen who were thrown out when the works shut down three years ago will be given employment.

RAILROAD NOTES.

Lehigh Valley surveyors are in the field for a third time between Geneva and Seneca Falls.

The Santa Fe Railroad company's shops at Topeka, Kan., are running full time, with about 1,300 men, which is about 500 more than has been required for some time. On Sunday over the entire Old Colony system a change was made from left to right-hand running. The change has been a radical and expensive one to the company.

On the Southern Pacific the use of brass checks for checking local baggage has been entirely abandoned and cardboard checks, attached to trunks by strong twine, substituted. The Lake Eric and Western Railroad company is running its shops on full time and full handed, and its entire equipment is being put in the best con-dition. A number of its engines have recently been thoroughly rebuilt.

The United States Car company reports business as improving. The com-pany is now opening its shops at An-niston, Ala., and will soon have its axle, forge and bar mill in operation. The shops at Urbana, Ohio, are full of work, principally repairs.

of their own dining cars, which was commenced two months ago, tas proven highly satisfactory and the patrons of the road are much botter pleased. It should be said that the roads took the company at a fortunate time, as during the last two months travel east and west has been the heaviest in many years.

Officials of the Pennsylvania and Vandalia lines state that the operating Ticket scalping is prohibited by law in Canada, and even purchasers of exin Canada, and even purchasers of ex-cursion tickets are not allowed to sell them to other parties, as provision is made for their redemption at the rail-way offices. At Toronto recently a man was arrested for offering for sale the return tail of an excursion ticket from Sudbury to Toronto, and as the lowest penalty is $20 and costs or ten day's imprisonment and the man had no money he was sent to jail for the short term. In this case the law seems to have worked a hardship upon an ignorant man, but the example will doubtless have a good effect in check-ing troublesome abuse.
