VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFF.

Jury Said to Be in Favor of Giving Mr.

Roberts a Large Sum The trespass suit of Mrs. Mary Rob erts against the Delaware and Hudson Canal company for damages for the death of her husband from injuries sustained by being struck by a passenger train at the Carbon street crossing went to the jury Saturday afternoon. Thomas Gordon was called in rebuttal by the plaintiff. A good many wit-nesses of the defense had sworn that Ben Johnson, the colored ashman, was not present when the accident happened. Mr. Gordon swore that he saw Mr. Johnson at the crossing that day only a few minutes after the accident.

only a few minutes after the accident.

Judge Jessup, of counsel for the defense, applied to court for binding instructions on the ground that Roberts had not fulfilled his part in stopping, looking and listening before crossing the tracks. He maintained that it was the duty of the driver to get off the wagon in order to carry out the unbending rule which must be observed before the company can be found liable for damages. The presumption is that Roberts did not use his senses, because if he looked and listened he would not if he looked and listened he would not have been killed.

Major Warren presented law points on the part of the plaintiff. The first was that if the jury believes the evi-dence of the defendant alone that it must find a verdict against the com-pany, for the engineer and firemen of the passenger train that killed Roberts testified that the gateman had neg-lected his duty in not lowering the gates. Judge Jessup argued to the jury gates. Judge Jessup argued to the jury on the part of the defendant and Major Warren argued for the plaintiff. Judge Edwards, in charging the jury, refused to give binding instructions. At 10 o'clock yesterday morning the jury agreed upon its verdict and sealed it. It is understood that it is for the plain-tiff in a large amount.

FINISH FIGHT PROMISED

Will Be No Compromise Between the Democratic Warriors.

Fight Was Forced on Him and He Is Not Going to Run Away-Statement Made by County Chairman

John E. Roche.

An unexpected interest has been de veloped in the result of tomorrow's Democratic county convention on ac-count of the fight launched for the office of permanent chairman of the convention. Ex-Sheriff John J. Fahey and Editor E. J. Lynett of the Free Press, are the candidates, and both are determined to fight to a fin.sh. There were many rumors yesterday of a com-promise, but none of them were true. The fight between Fuhey and Lynett is somewhat of a surprise inasmuch as they have always been very close friends, politically and socially. They now represent different elements of the party, and hence the clash.

Saturday's primaries were, in the main, tame and uninteresting. The chairmanship fight was sprung at so hate a day that there was no time to set up candidates for delegates in the various election districts, and the candidates had to content themselves with endeavoring to win to their cause those elected.

The chairmanship of the county convention seems a profitless thing to bat-tle for, but there is bigger game behind. This is a preliminary step to an effort to secure control of the state organization. Mr. Fahey is being backed in his fight by John J. O'Boyle, ex-District Astorney John P. Kelly. Attorney Joseph O'Brien, M. P. Flynn, John Gaffney, Editor W. R. Bell, County Treasurer Schadt and others, while Mr. Lynett's supporters are John E. Roche, chairman of the Democratic ounty committee, Postmaster F. M. Vandling, ot al.

With an Eye on the State Fight. The Fahey people assert that the op-ossition is making a fight for Mr. Lynett that he may have charge of the onvention and insure the re-election of Mr. Roche as county chairman, thereby extending their lease of power as the dominant faction in Lackawanna polities. Just why they are so anxious to wrest the organization from the Roche wrest the organization from the Rocae contingent the Faheyites refuse to say. The secret of the matter is that the fight is being made as one of the pre-limitary steps towards wresting the control of the Democratic party of the state out of the hands of W. F. Harrity and again making James Kerr, of Clearfield, the state leader. He is an ex-chaleman of the state committee, ex-chairman of the state committee, an ex-congressman and a ex-chief clerk of the national house of representa-tives. For some time Mr. Kerr has been getting his fences in shape, preparatory to making an effort to again selze the reins of power.

The new county committee, in the making up of which the chairman of Tuesday's convention will play an important part, will elect delegates to the state convention who in turn will elect delegates to the next national convention and really decide on the leader of this state's delegation. The Fahey men, it is said, want Kerr as the general, while the Roche adherents believe in keeping Harrity at the helm. in keeping Harrity at the helm.

Much Bitterness Displayed. Much bitterness was displayed Saturday night and yesterday and no mat-ter what the result is, the rent in the county organization of the party will be increased. In the fight for chair-man the contest for the nomination for coroner has been almost lost sight of. Last night neither Dr. J. A. Kelley nor Dr. P. H. McAndrew had been able to secure a complete list of the delegates elected, but both expressed themselves elected, but both expressed themselves as confident that they would be nomi-nated and have several votes to spare. iMr. Fahey, when seen by a Tribune reporter yesterday afternoon, and asked as to his prospects for the chair-manship of the convention, was enjoy-ing a cigar in the reading room of the st. Charles hotel

St. Charles hotel.
"As I view the situation now, I will be elected chairman," he said, as he shot the ashes from the end of his cigar towards a spittoon. "I may take too hopeful a view of it, but that's the way it appears to me. It has been said that I am a candidate for chairman of the next county committee, but it is not rext. County committee.

I am not and would not take the position if it was tendered to me. I do want to be chairman of the convention and am dighting for that honor. My reason—well, I do not think it neces-sary to state it at this time. I am after the position, a fight has been forced on men and I'm not running away. I never did and I don't propose to begin now. As to the chairmanship of the county committee I am not particular-ly interested. If the candidates nominated by Tuesday's convention want Mr. Roche as chairman again I would not oppose their choice." What Chairman Roche Has to Say. County Chairman John E. Roche when seen was not disposed to talk county Chairman John E. Rotale when seen was not disposed to talk about the fight and intimated that he had not sought the position of county chairman, but was willing to take it if he could thereby be of any service to the party. "The prominent mention of my name in connection with the Democratic county organization is not deserved," continued Mr. Roche, "and is intended to hide the real issue, which is intended to hide the real issue, which is, shall the friends of Judge Smith or his enemies have control of the county committee that will have charge of his canvass. It is a notorious fact that Mr. Fahey is his bitter enemy. At Willlamsport Mr. Fahey told me that his sole purpose in attending the conven-tion was to down Judge Smith. After tion was to down Judge Smith. After showing him how it would react to his personal disadvantage and appealing to any friendship he entertained for myself, he agreed to vote for and do nothing against the judge, believing he would not be nominated. Disappoint-ed in this, he returned to engage in an active fight for the control of the coun-ty organization with the same avoiced. y organization with the same avowed purpose. The friends of Judge Smith think that it is due him that the county think that it is due him that the county committee should not be set up against him and that Mr. Fahey should not ask the Democracy to follow him in his hatred of the judge.

"This sort of politics has worked great injury to the party in the past and ought to be effectively condemned by the county convention. Between Mr. Fahey and myself there is no quarre! Fahey and myself there is no quarrel that I know of, although his friends say they are going to drive me out of politics. They ought to remember that they begged me to enter and that from the start to the finish my best efforts were devoted to their interests as well as to the interests of the party."

Robinson Was Not in It. Ex-Sheriff Charles Robinson took no hand in Saturday's fight, one way or the other, sticking to the statement he made some time ago that he is out of politics.

Yesterday a conference was held in Judge Smith's office to discuss the situation and endeavor to devise some plan of tiding over the present trouble. Among those invited to a seat at the council table were Colonel F. J. Fliz-simmons and ex-Sheriff Robinson. Mr. Fitzsimmons was ill and could not at-tend, and Mr. Robinson did not, that he might lend additional emphasis to his statement that he "is out of poli-tics." Ex-Sheriff Fahey was not invited to the conclave.

IN LOCAL THEATERS.

Coming Attractions in the Playhouses of the City.

This evening the Ethel Tucker company will open a week's engagement at the Academy of Music. On Monday night they will present "The Lost Para disc," a strong play, that is perhaps one of the greatest successes of the past few seasons; Tuesday night the bill will be "Queena;" Wednesday's play will be "Retribution," and Thursday night will be presented that picturesque American play, by McKee Rank-in, "The Golden Giant." Friday night Manager Mildon will present his own work, "Called Back," and Saturday night the great scenic drama, "The Coast Guard," will be produced. Miss Tucker will hold a reception on the stage after each matinee performance and will be pleased to personally meet the ladies of Scranton. Every lady occupying a 30 cent seat at the Wednes day matinee will receive a photograph of Miss Tucker, and at the special Fri-day matinee Miss Tucker will present a dainty souvenir spoon to every lady in the orchestra chairs. At the Saturday matinee every child in the house day matinee every child in the house will receive a box of candy from Miss Tucker's own hands. Throughout the week novel and catchy specialties will be introduced and Darrow's military band and orchestra will furnish the best of music. People's popular prices will prevail. At the night performances they will be 10, 20, 30 and 50 cents, and at the matiness 10, 20 and 30 cents.

Joseph Murphy at Frothingham. It is rarely that an actor and a play are so long associated together as the popular Irish comedian, Joseph Murphy, and the touching story of Irish life, "Kerry Gow." Mr. Murphy to-day is considered one of the best exponents of the legitimate Irish comedy on the stage, and he has appeared in the two plays that he will present at the Eccibine ham temperous and the Frethingham tomerrow Wednesday nights so often in this city that no theater-goer is unfamiliar with either. Mr. Murphy still presents the role of the sturdy and warm-hearted Dan O'Hara in a manner to admit of little if any improvement. The horse shoeing act is one of the features of the blay, and one of the most realistic of stage effects. "Shaun Rhue" is a

Murphy and his excellent company. Maloney's Raffle at Davis'. It is to be hoped that "Maloney's Raffle," which comes for the first three days of this week at Davis' theater, will be in line with the good things that have lately been seen at this house. The Wilkes-Barre papers speak of the performance in the highest terms. Miss Maggle Weston, as an Irish woman, is said to be irresistable, while the Fulton brothers, acrobats and general funproducers, are undoubtedly a whole show in themselves, if the late newspaper reports can be accepted as cor-

THE RISING GENERATION.

Billy Barry Convulses a Big Audience at the Academy.

A packed house greeted William Barry and his "Rising Generation" at the Academy Saturday night, and it is safe to say that a house never taughed more than did this same house. Barry's characterization of a witty Irishman is something new and re-freshing, and his wit is of such a bright and bounteous nature that no horse play is required to carry him through. He is, undoubtedly, the best Irish comedian on the stage. He has an excellent company, including a band of boys and girls, who sing, dance and act in a very pleasing way. THEY WILL HEAR THE NEWS. Democratic State Candidates Will Be Of ficially Notified. The candidates nominated at the re-cept state convention, that is, the nominee for state treasurer and the six nominees for the superior court judgeship, will meet at the Girard house, Philadelphia, next Thursday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. They will be met by the committee on nominations, of which John E. Roche, of this city is a member, and formally notified of their nomination. Speeches of acceptance will then be in order.

Mother Superior of St. Cecilia's Received a Puzzling Letter.

WHAT INVESTIGATION SHOWED

annie Bellman, Recently Released from the House of the Good Shepherd, Leeturing as an Escaped Prisoner from a Scranton Convent.

The mother superior of St. Cecilia's convent, on Wyoming avenue, was greatly surprised and puzzled on the receipt of a letter a few days ago bearing information that a girl lecturer was going through the lower end of Luzerne ounty claiming that she had been held a prisoner against her will in a Scran-ton convent and that after being half starved and shamefully treated for sevral months was rescued by the officials of the court.

The letter was written by Philip O'Nell, the well-known Catholic writer of Wilkes-Barre, and his purpose was to find out the true facts of the case if there was any truth at all in it, so that he might refute the nullifying statements of the lecturer. The mother superior of St. Cecilia's could throw no light on the subject and would have paid no heed to the preposterous idea had it not occurred to her that it would had it not occurred to her that it would be proper to have an investigation made to satisfy the Wilkes-Barre corre-spondent that there was no possibility of such practice existing as inferred from the statements of the lecturer. Lecturer Was Annie Bellman.

The investigation revealed the fact that the lecturer was none other than Annie Bellman, who was released from the Home of the Good Shepherd Sept. 12 on a writ of habeas corpus and given over to the guardanship of her uncle, who lives in Hunlock's Creek, Luzerne county. The girl was sent to the Home of the Good Shepherd on July 13, at the of the Good Shepherd on July 13, at the instance of her mother, who is the proprietress of No. 18 Lackawanna avenue. She stated to Mrs. Duggan, who was instrumental in securing the girl's admittance to the home, that her daughter was becoming wayward and had been an inmate of a house in Will-tamsport and another in Raymond court.

When the girl, who is but 17 years of age, was admitted to the home, her mother called to visit her, but the sis-ters would not allow her to see the girl, as her appearance betokened that she was not a desirable associate for even her own daughter, and, further, the girl had frequently stated that her mother was to blame for her fall and she did not want to have anything to do with her.

CLOTHING AT HALF PRICE.

Prepare for the Cold Weather and Buy Now When You Can Save 50 Per Cent. Never Before Was Clothing Sold So

Cheap in Scranton.

The great closing out sale continues for a short time longer, and this cold weather reminds you that you will need weather reminds you that you will need an overcoat. Don't wait for your neigh-bor to show you what he bought for half price and regret that you didn't come before they were all gone. In addition to the counters we have laid at half what Martin & Delaney sold them at We have teddy warfed all them at. We have today marked all of their Prince Albert coats and vests just one-half what they were sold at just two months ago, some of them are silk lined and the best makes, and all slik lined and the best makes, and all the goods in the store are cut 25 to 50 per cent, and are marked in plain figures. All winter goods are down below zero, nothing damaged but the prices and a short purse will do tall buying there.

Men's, boy's and children's suits, overcats and ulsters at unheard of prices, all for the people of Scranton if they will only come and look at them before they are gone. Ask the crowds, who have purchased there, then come and see for yourself at Martin & Delaney's, Wyoming avenue.

A THRILLING EXPERIENCE.

Not Badly Hurt.

A. G. Hunt, of Hunt & Connell, had a ferson avenue, when the team of bays became frightened and dashed south-ward along the avenue.

Mr. Hunt was unable to stop them, but controlled them sufficiently to es-cape contact with curbings and car tracks until the store on Lackawanfa avenue was reached. Here the buggy upset and Mr. Hunt was thrown to the payement. He was not seriously injured. The team was stoped a short distance further down the street.

CAUGHT BETWEEN CARS.

George Dunn Fatally Injured at the Hallstead Mine.

George Dunn, of Duryea, was fatally injured at the Hallstead mine, Saturday, by being caught between two trains of loaded cars. His legs and arms were badly mangled by being run over by the cars and he also sus-tained internal injuries. He was removed to the Moses Taylor hospital, where he expired at 8.30 o'clock p. m. Dunn was a married man and is survived by a family.

Miss Worthington's School of Art and Design will reopen at 633 Madison avenue, Thursday, Sept. 19.
