Improvements That Have Been Made at Fairchild's Hotel-Now One of the Costest in the City.

While Scrantonians boast of the mag-nificent Hotel Jermyn, West Siders lay claim to the costest hostelry in this sec-tion, and that establishment is the newly renovated Fairchild's hotel on newly renovated Fairchild's hotel on South Main avenue. When the proprie-tor, George Fairchild, said, after his return from Dalton a few months ago, that he would give us a hotel, not a bar room, he meant it; and his pretty establishment is a result of his state-

The front of the building has been remodeled and from the familiar outlines that we saw a few months ago has arisen a handsome building. The front floor has been extended and modernized by the addition of handsome bay windows. The main entrance has been enlarged and above the wide doors is "Fairchild's Hotel" in gift letters. The old second floor porch, where many prominent men have gathered in the twenty-four years gone by, has been rebuilt and beautified. A large portice ornaments the center of the porch, and the whole building has been repainted in a pleasing light tint, and around the in a pleasing light tint, and around the top of the building's front the hand of the artist has blended colors in a beau-

But not only on the outside is the hotel worthy of the name, the interior furnishings and decorations are up-todate. There are fifty-six rooms in the establishment, forty-six of which are sleeping apartments, and each of these rooms has been repapered and repaint-ed. The reading room and bar room bave been re-arranged and the sides and cellings covered with fancy woodork.

A stable in the rear of the hotel contains stalls for the accommodation of forty horses, and the best of care is given by a capable liveryman. George Pairchild is without a peer as a manager of a hotel. He has been in the business for twenty-four years on the West Side alone, and during that time has won many friends by his genial personality. It has been his aim to conduct a good hotel, and he has been

Haggerty is employed as clerk at the hotel. He is an obliging gentleman with a large experience in his line. Barber John Reynolds conducts a tonsorial parlor in one side of the building, fronting on Main street. This establishment will be refitted. John Benore & Son rebuilt the front of the hotel and Luther Price had charge of the exterior and interior decorations.

The recently organized dramatic society on this side is negotiating with William Gillette for the right of producing his play, "Esmeraida." The first production of the play will occur during the holidays. The company comprises Misses Margaret Gibbs, Jenima Jones, Martha Davies, Kitty M. Brown, Myron Evans, Will Reynolds, Edward Vall, Horace Johns and Emerson D. Owen. A meeting of the society will be held this week to perfect arrangements and elect officers.

Talk on South America. At the meeting of the Hyde Park Literary and Debating society last eve-ning Seiden E. Munger gave an in-formal talk on "Venezuela." Mr. Mun-ger's effort was much enjoyed by the so-ciety, and a deep interest was mani-fested in the talk. Harry Peck read an instructive paper on "South Armelean" instructive paper on "South American Republics." Mr. Peck had collected an nteresting lot of information on his subject. Professor James Hughes, of No. 14 school, and Will Reynolds will lead in a discussion of "Prison Re-forms" at the next meeting.

I seemed to be giving out as the pain in my kidneys grew worse, and at last I had to stay in bed the greater part of the time. Finally, I gave up altogether. I had terrific headaches, and suffered so much pain my appetite and suffered so much pain my appetite left me."

"Did the disorder affect the bladder?"

"Finally, it did. The urine was highly colored, and varied in suppression and excess. I often told my friends I believed I should go insane from the pain. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills, and began their use. After taking them two or three days I began to feel their good effects. I continued and now am perfectly well."

"Am I to understand that Doan's Kidney Pills have entirely cured you?"

"Jes, that's the truth. I have no more headsaches or pains, and my appetite has returned. Before using Doan's Kidney Pills I found it very trying to go up and down stairs, or to sleep on my back; but now I can do so without a single pain, I feel completely cured, and I wish the manufacturers every possible success."

It is admitted on all sides there is need of a better musical education—a need of a better musical education—a better foundation. People sing and sing, yet have not knowledge of the theory of music. Take a choir of three hundred voices and how many can take up a piece of music and read it at sight without the aid of a musical instrument? Very few. The sight singing class to be opened at the Washburn Street Presbyterian church next Friday evening by Tallie Morgan should be largely attended.
