light Members Attended Meeting of the Board of Trade-Discussion About Proposed Improvements.

The West Side board of trade met ast night. Matters of interest to this section were talked of with no definite result. Secretary Daniels read a communication from Vice-President Clarke. of the Traction company, stating that the company will place its tracks in the center of Robinson street as soon as the pave on that thoroughfare is as-sured. The board resolved to urge councils to immediate action.

A sewer for South Main avenue was discussed. The members suggested that a public meeting of the citizens of the Fifteenth ward be called to act on the sewer question. Mr. Mason offered the use of his building, on the corner of Main avenue and Luzerne street, for the purpose. The meeting was attend-ed by only eight members, one more than necessary for a quorum. There has been a general breaking up in interest by the board. The meetings can have only feeble results if a new influx of energy is not introduced.

The Tripp's crossing matter was not discussed.

The Saugnoit Silk Mill Addition. Contractor Conrad Schroeder will in a day or two have completed the addition to the Sauquoit Silk mill so that the machinery can be started next week. The work is now practically finished, there remaining only the finish-ing touches to be done. This will not interfere with putting the machinery in place; both can go on at the same time. It is a substantial and artistic piece of workmanship, and reflects marked eredit on Mr. Schroeder, who has been required to do the work in a hurry and do it well. The building is 50x150 and five stories, or seventy-five feet, high. A tower ascends two stories above this, on which a flag pole will be erected, the pinnacle of which will be 110 feet from the ground. Su-perintendent William H. Davis anticipates that the addition will be in operation by Dec. 1. It will add about 200 more to the working force.

Had it not been for a word from Mrs. John A. Logan, Charles B. Hanford would have been a clergyman instead of an actor. His parents intended him for the cloth. He was being schooled in Georgetown college when Mrs. Logan in Georgetown college when Mrs. Logan happened to hear him declaim "Horatious at the Bridge" in a student's entertainment. He did it so well that she sent for and advised him to adopt the stage. He had all along thought that he would make a better actor than a clergyman, but he desired to obey his parents. Mrs. Logan's suggestion settled it, however. He is today the fortled it, however. He is today the formost of the young Shakespearean act-ors; and in conjunction with Elihu R. Brothers Rixford, from the Circus Cisinelli, and the Great Bretoni, the wonderful change artist, are strong factors for public approval.

The Light on the Point. A comedy drama new to Scranton, but highly successful in the larger cities, will receive its initial producion at Davis' theater Thursday, Friay and Saturday of this week. It will be produced with special scenery, an excellent company and with new mu-sic, singing and dancing. The story is of life at Nantucket Island and Crede, Col., and abounds in stirring and ex-citing incidents. The comedy is furciting incidents. The comedy is fur-nished by a young Irishman who as-serts on every occasion and at the slightest provocation that he is "a gin-tleman by the name of McGinnis."

WEATHER WAS WINNER.

Chilled Spectators and Players at Yester day's Base Ball Game. The champion Young 'Men's Christian association amateur base ball club and a team of professionals had a wrestle with the weather yesterday afternoon at the Base Ball park, and the weather came out on top. Scranton won the game, which was of little interest to the speciators, and a nightmare to the players themselves.

The cold penetrated the marrow of everybody within the park enclosure, and prevented anything like a civilized game. Only six innings were played. Less than 200 persons were present. Following is the score: PROFESSIONALS, A.B. R. H. O. A. E.
