EMPIRE STATE'S MUDDLE The Politicians Are All at Sea with Reference to It. THE SUNDAY LAW IN POLITICS

Careful Observers Are Unable to Form Any Intelligent Estimate of the Probable Result of Next Month's Elections -- What Some Fear.

New York, Oct. 11.—After a careful study of the political situation in this city and in the state, William E. Curtis writes to the Chicago Record that there has seldom been a political mix-up so bewildering, and while the candidates to be elected are not for offices of im-portance, the municipal reform move-ment that was so successfully because portance, the municipal reform move-ment that was so successfully begun in New York city last fall may or may not be paralyzed by the result and the effect upon the presidential election next year cannot be overestimated. It is a campaign of issues and a struggle between factions in both parties for the control of their respective organiza-tions tions Nobody is making speeches upon the

Nobody is making speeches upon the stump. There have been few public meetings held thus far, but the discus-sion is carried on wherever people gather, in the Sunday school room, and the saloon, in the Christian Endeavor convention, and at the meetings of the Lignor Salier's association. Both of convention, and at the meetings of the Liquor Selfers' association. Both of the big political parties appear to be shattered into a bewildering number of factions representing the point of view from, which the members of each regard the questions involved, and the personal ambition of leaders who are personal ambition of leaders who are working not for success at the polls at the approaching election, but for the control of the party machinery next year, inspires their adherents with unusual zeal. Roosevelt Gets the Credit.

Theodore Roosevelt forced the issue by closing the drinking places in New York city on the Sabbath, and Warner Miller, in the recent convention, with-out warning or consultation, proposed out warning or consultation, proposed a plank in the platform pledging the Republican party to maintain it by enforcing the Sunday law. Several years ago Mr. Miller made a campaign upon this issue as a candidate for gov-ernor and was defeated by an over-whelming majority. Now, after a prac-tical experiment by the reform police board, he demands that the people of the state shall declare their sentiments on this subject—yes or no.

on this subject-yes or no. The introduction of this issue has galvanized Tammany hall into something like its old activity, although that famous organization had been in a comatose state since its crushing dea complete state since its clushing or feat in November, 1894. It was always the stronghold of the saloons until the political assessments at levied became so onerous that the liquor seliers folmed with the reformers at the last election and assisted in its overthrow. But now they complain that the losses they suffer by the enforcement of the Sun-day law are three times as great as the sums they were compelled to pay into the Tammany treasury, and by into the Tammany treasury, and by electing a reform mayor they have jumped from the frying pan into the fire. And, in addition to this, they accuse Mayor Strong of having vio-lated the piedges by which they claimed

The Deficit in the Treasury Keeps on Growing Larger. Washington, Oct. 11 .- The first third of October shows receipts of only $9.-

157,668.84, against $9,506,694.18 for the same period in July, and $9,976,894.81 for the same period in August. The expenditures for October to date aggregate $16,573,000. For the same time in July they were $21,250,000, and for the same time in August $15,286,700.

The deficit for October is now $7,115,-331.16. For the first ten days of July the deficit was $11,743,305.82; for August at the same time, $5,309,805.19, and for September, $471.286.29. As the July deficit was $9,210,195.34 and the August deficit $3,693,193.30, the deficit for October should be about $6,000,000. This will be twice as large as treasury officials estimated it would be at the beginning of this month.

INDICATIONS NOT FAVORABLE.

The Anxiety of Buyers to Accumulate Large Stocks May Result in Disaster in Many Instances.

New York, Oct. 11.-R. G. Dun & Co., in their weekly Review of Trade tomorrow, will say: The price barometer gives indications that are not entirely favorable. Cotton goods go up with increasing evidence that the crop of cotton is short. Prices of other manufactured products of of other manufactured products of wool, hides and leather, all show some decline, a general abatement in new or-ders being the principal cause. With an immense volume of business, not much exceeded in the largest month of the exceptional year, 1892, and with evi-dence that in several important branches the volume has surpassed that of any previous year, there is growing uncertainty about the near future of industries. Money markets are neither strained nor threatealing, foreign exchange no longer raise apprehensions and all fears about the great northern crops are past. There have been few advances in wages of labor within the past month, and only a few works have been closed by strikes for an advance.

The main cause of decreased orders has been repeatedly pointed out by this journal during the last half year when business began to revive. A million traders were in haste to order, not only the goods each expected to sell within a given time, but enough more to replen-ish stocks which had been cut down almost to have shelves by two years of prostration. Thus the buying was much in excess of real consumption within the given time. Also, as prices rose, many hastened to buy in advance of visible needs, hoping that every purof visible needs, noping that every pur-chase would mean a gain, while multi-tudes hurried to get in their orders be-fore competitors could buy as cheaply; under such conditions buying con-tinued for six months and still con-tinues in cotton goods, which have risen there the most be particul. within the next few days. Corbett was very despondent over the outlook today. The unlooked-for opposition of Governor Clarke makes it very doubtful whether the fight can be pulled off at Hot Springs. The champion said to the United Press correspondent this evening: "Fitzsimmons is preparing to get out of the state is a set of the set out

This is a splendid training place and I shall regret to leave."

Washington, D. MR. WRIGHT IS SATISFIED. The Democratic Chairman Takes a Pleas ant View of the Situation. Philadelphia, Oct. 11. - Chairman Wright, of the Democratic state committee, in an interview this evening, said: "I do not care to enlarge on any of the arguments that have been made in respect to the constitutionality of the act creating the superior court. Our Republican friends are assuming that they would be benefited by the courts holding that each voter may cast his ballot for seven judges. Perhaps they would be and perhaps they would not. We can tell better after the election. The alacrity with which Chairman Quay seized upon Mr. Olmsted's sug-gestion of a chance to grab another judgeship is quite characteristic. Our party is now engaged in an effort to elect six Democratic judges of the superior court. If Senator Quay succeeds in his grasping proceeding at Harrisburg the people may conclude to make it seven. As to the treasury situation the Republican newspapers seem to be fight-ing our battle for us. The recent exposures in Pittsburg have excited at-tention to the position and condition of the state funds, and the people of Pennsylvania are likely to give expression to their opinion on this subject at the polls. They will read and consider the manly declaration in the accepting speech of our candidate for state treasurer. The extravagance and profligacy of the last legislature resulting in the crippling of many charitable institutions, and at one time threatening to deprive the public schools of the means of support have set people to think-ing.
