A NARROW ESCAPE.

A Train Nearly Crashes Into a Flat Car with Lively Results.

What might have been a very serious accident and which probably would have been accompanied by loss of life was very narrowly averted on the Ontario and Western yesterday afternoon. T. C. Robinson has used the pockets to store away lumber, and a switch has been laid to the point extending from the main track of the Ontario and Western railroad. A car which had been loaded with lumber stood in the been loaded with lumber stood in the switch and was blocked by some sticks being placed in front of the wheels. Some children had been playing around the car in the morning and had removed the blocks, letting the car ran down toward the main track. A stub switch had been put in, but it was not thrown and the car ran to the track and rested upon the frog which led to the main track.

the main track.

The little children became frightened at what had happened and ran away without telling any one of the danger. A passenger train, which arrives in this city at 11.34, was about due at the time. Some of the people who reside in the vicinity, however, saw the danger, and one woman ran down the track to flag the train. Some young men had got-ten assistance in the meantime and the car was shoved back and blocked. The car was discovered none too soon, as the passenger train rushed past a few

Her daughter did not lose her presence of mind and at once started to pull the blasing dress off. She succeeded in doing so at last, but not until her mother was badly burned. The daughter was also badly burned about the hands.

Some of the people near by gave Mrs. Bafrett some clothing and she started to walk to her home, about a mile distant. She suffered great agony and could hardly walk. The start for home was made about 4 o'clock, but it was was made about 4 o'clock, but it was not until 9 o'clock that the unfortunate workan reached her house. There it was found that her arms, hands and legs were very badly burned. A doctor was summoned, who made her as comfortable as possible, but her life was dispaired of at first. She is now somewhat better.

Sewer Contractors Did Not Bid.

The city councils met last evening, and of the principal matters considered was the opening of bids for extending the main sewer. The bids handed in were confined to local contractors, including Lindsay & Van Loon and several parties from Scranton. A number of leading contractors of the county responded to the advertisement for bids, and came here and looked over the plans. In conversation with the city fathers, they found a lack of confidence in the project being carried
