SPECIAL AGENT HERE.
He Comes to Investigate Charges Preferred Against Collector Herring.
A dispatch to "The Tribune" from Washington last night stated that Colonel Colquhitt, chief of the special agents in the Internal Revenue bureau, had left for Scranton. The dispatch said that Colonel Colquhitt's mission is to investigate the charges preferred by ex-Income Tax Collector Burke against Collector Herring.

At a late hour last night Colonel Colquhitt's name had not been registered at any of the hotels. He may, possibly, have registered under an assumed name, hoping to escape the interviewers anxious to talk with him.

High School's Assistant Principal Elected Head of City Schools.

PROF. LANGE WAS DEFEATED

Board of Control Decides the Matter by a Vote of 12 to 9—Balloting Was Brief, but It Attracted a Large Crowd.

By a vote of 12 to 9 Professor George Howell, assistant principal of the high school, was last night elected by the board of control superintendent of city schools. The other candidate was Professor George W. Lange, principal of the high school. The election was made to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of the present superintendent, Professor George W. Phillips, on Oct. 10.

In local circles the situation had been the chief topic of discussion since Superintendent Phillips tendered his resignation. Professors Howell and Lange were the candidates.

PROFESSOR GEORGE W. HOWELL. Elected to Fill the Office of City Superintendent of Schools.

There was no resemblance at all between the forged signatures and Mr. Hallstead's handwriting. Odell was asked why he selected Mr. Hallstead. He thought that the general manager's position would be more easily detectable. He professed no sorrow for the failure of his attempt at self-destruction. Alderman Fuller pledged him, but his forces were not in the sum of $500 bail for his appearance at court. Odell could not furnish this amount and was sent to the county jail. The check for $14 which was passed on Taylor street, of the Penn avenue, was the only one produced at the hearing.

DEMANDED THE BOOKS.

Expected Conflict Between Assessors and Board of Appeal Has Taken Place.
The refusal yesterday of the board of city assessors to recognize the order of the board of appeal and appeals to deliver the books of the assessors' office to City Clerk Lavelle has been magnified. The assessors were willing to recognize the order excepting its application to the books of 1895, and these they refused to surrender.

City Clerk Lavelle made a formal demand for the books in pursuance of an order of the board of appeal, and on Saturday afternoon he presented an appeal and appeals to deliver the books of the assessors' office to City Clerk Lavelle has been magnified. The assessors were willing to recognize the order excepting its application to the books of 1895, and these they refused to surrender.

The new revision and appeal law provide that the assessors shall make no assessments until they have secured all the necessary papers for making the assessment, but the assessors and board of revision are themselves divided in the matter of the holding of the books. This has led to the calling of a joint meeting of both bodies at 2 o'clock this afternoon in council chambers, to discuss the matter and to make a settlement of the question.

AN IDEAL HOTEL.

One of New York's Hostesses Which Knows Its Business.
The Scrantonian who visits New York city and wishes to be entertained at a convenient, well appointed and properly furnished hotel, will make no mistake in securing accommodations at the Plaza, the handsome pioneer of the up town hostesses. The Plaza is located in the heart of the finest portion of Gotham. It faces Central Park, Fifty-eighth and Fifty-ninth streets, Fifth avenue and Plaza square; is within half a block of the terminal station of the city, and is reached by any of the up town cars.

The interior arrangements of this hotel fully correspond with its ideal location. From the moment the guest enters until the moment of his departure, his experience is one of pleasant surprise at the elegance of the appointments, the uniform courtesy and efficiency of the hotel's staff of servants, the comfortable rooms and the excellent cuisine. There is an atmosphere of welcome which, without suggesting ostentation, opens up the visitor at perfect ease. Indeed, a sojourn at the Plaza is like a visit with some hospitable host of wealth and taste, and produces an impression of personal obligation which remains long after the payment of the moderate charges.

It is small wonder that this hotel is gaining in favor among Scrantonians.

MUSIC AND LAUGHTER.

Can Be Enjoyed with the Kodak at the Opera House.
Since the magnificent Octoroon company delighted the patrons of David's theater several weeks ago a better entertainment has not been offered than the new comedy company in "The Kodak," which opened yesterday for three days' engagement. The audience yesterday was captivated by the novel efforts of the company in music making. Every member is a musician, even farmer "Dad" plays on his racket.

Between the musical specialties first-class farce comedy work is done by the members. The parody on "Romeo and Juliet," by Miss Mignon Carroll and Joseph S. West, with Fred Noss as the "full moon," was very amusing and brought out a room full of laughter.

The performance is one of the best ever given at the David's theater. "The Kodak" will be repeated today and tomorrow afternoons with evening performances.

Sketch of Professor Howell.
Professor George W. Howell was born in the city of Scranton, Pa., and attended the Pennington seminary when a young man, and after spending two years at that institution Mr. Howell passed three years as a student at New College, a institution two years at Lafayette university, and four full terms at the University of Illinois, where he completed his school education. After teaching several years at numerous cities in the eastern and central states, Professor Howell accepted a position at the Scranton city high school as assistant principal, which position he held for seven years, up to the present time. In all, he has taught school for twelve years and his experience has ranged from the country school to the city school to the better curriculum of a public high school. In 1892 Professor Howell was admitted to the bar of Lackawanna county on motion of Judge Edwards. He did not intend to practice, but the movement was considered from a personal education standpoint. Professor Howell has traveled extensively throughout the United States and his lectures have interested many. Among his well-known addresses are: "Cardinal Richelieu," "Things We Believe That Are Not True," "The Jews," "The Columbus," "The Moon," "The Philosophy of History," "Literature and Books."

Professor Howell last evening. His Scranton street home was in possession of a host of friends. During the evening several hundred prominent members of the city visited the professor and extended congratulations. Speeches were made by a score of gentlemen. Professor Howell responded briefly, when the check for the amount of $1,160 was handed to him. He said: "All I have to say is my only regret is that there are not two offices of superintendent, that my friend, Professor Lange, might have one."

TO BRING MERELLO HERE.

Requisition Papers Made Out Yesterday to Have Him Extradited.
Crescenzo Merello, who was arrested in Boston Saturday for the murder of Emanuel Loro in Old Forge last summer, was given a hearing in Boston police court yesterday. A motion was made by the Barrister, McKeown, and the case was continued and the prisoner was remanded to prison until Friday, when the hearing will take place.

After the arrest, it was learned yesterday, was made through the combined work of Detective Bauer, of Wilkes-Barre, one of Barrister & McKeown's men; two Boston detectives who were employed by Bauer; and an Italian from Old Forge who has known Merello for years but whose identity has, for obvious reasons, been kept concealed.

After satisfying himself that the Merello in Boston was the man wanted, Detective Bauer, through the two Boston detectives, established a fake employment office in Old Forge, and Merello was taken to Boston for that special purpose. The latter is an intelligent Italian, speaks good English and is a good citizen. In addition to the immigration papers found on Merello, a person he had in his possession letters offering additional evidence that he is the man wanted.

These facts will, at Friday's hearing, be reported by a Boston lawyer, whose services were yesterday engaged by telegraph. The detective agency here does not feel at all anxious over the result of the hearing, as they believe the evidence offered will be sufficient to have Merello finally held to await the arrival of requisition papers from here. Steps were taken in the matter here yesterday, and the necessary information will be sent to Harrisburg to secure Governor Hastings' signature to requisition papers. Thirty days is the period within which the governor of Massachusetts may be asked to deliver Merello to the Pennsylvania authorities.

Mr. Barrister stated yesterday that the detective agency has not been working under the name of the murderer's capture, but that a special arrangement had been made with the county commissioners whereby the agency is to be paid for its work.

NEGRO CHURCHMEN.

Many of Them, Some of Prominence, Here Yesterday.
The bishops and many members of the African Methodist Episcopal conference of western Pennsylvania and West Virginia, which met in Wilkes-Barre last week, came to Scranton yesterday afternoon and were welcomed by Rev. C. A. McGee, pastor of the African Methodist Episcopal church. A portion of the afternoon was spent in conference and at 8.30 o'clock services in the church were attended by a throng which filled the little sanctuary.

The delegates and members present were: Bishop B. W. Arnold, D. D., of Wilberforce, O.; Dr. W. H. Brown, presiding elder of the Allegheny district; Rev. Cornelius Asbury, D. D., presiding elder of the Allegheny district; Rev. D. S. Bentley, D. D., of Allegheny city; Rev. J. J. Reilly, M. D., presiding elder of Wheeling district; W. S. Lowry, East End, Pittsburg; Rev. I. N. Ross, Pittsburg; Rev. J. W. Jeffries, Wilkes-Barre; Rev. D. F. Callahan, secretary of the Pittsburgh conference; Rev. R. Tanner, of Allegheny; Rev. W. H. Palmer, M. D., Monongahela city; R. M. Henderson, Phillipsburg, Pa.; A. E. Waldron, Homestead; Rev. W. H. Price, Charleston, W. Va.; Rev. Alexander Smothers, Middleton, Pa.; Charles Brown, Pittsburg; R. H. Morris, Washington, Pa.; W. C. Gowen, Scranton, Pa.; S. Miller, The Grange, P. O. officer of the Missionary society of Pennsylvania; M. B. Pratt, Meadville; M. E. Anderson, of Meadville; J. A. Hunter, Bloomsburg; Mrs. J. W. Jeffery, Wilkes-Barre; Mrs. Emma Thompson, Wilkes-Barre; Mrs. S. L. Gardner, Meadville.

A William Dorey prayer was offered by Rev. D. F. Callahan, of Pittsburg. The sermon was preached by Bishop Arnold from St. Paul, I. It is a plea in an argument for service God as He directs, and not by methods and means which originate with man.

DID NOT PAY THE COSTS

For That Reason Court Is Asked to Strike Off Mr. Smith's Appeal.
IT WILL BE ARGUED LATER
In Consideration of $1 and Natural Love and Affection Mr. Smith Has Sold His Real Estate Valued at $40,000 to His Wife.

An application was made to the court yesterday to strike off the appeal taken by Attorney Cornelius Smith from the award of the arbitrators in the libel suit instituted against him and John Jennings by Attorney H. Burns. The suit was the outgrowth of charges made against Mr. Burns and others by Mr. Smith in a paper book filed with the Supreme court in the application for mandamus against the Lackawanna county court to compel it to discharge John G. Jennings on common bail.

On July 27, Mr. Burns began proceedings against Attorney Smith and Mr. Jennings to recover $50,000 damages for the alleged libelous charges made and the case was heard before arbitrators. The arbitrators awarded $15,000 damages. From this award on Sept. 23 Mr. Smith took an appeal, paying the costs amounting to $47.13, with his personal check to Prothonotary Pryor, at the same time directing the latter to hold the check in escrow until the costs were paid. Mr. Smith said the costs were excessive, were not taxed, he subsequently filed a written protest against the amount of the costs, and pending the settlement of the matter the check was not converted into cash by Mr. Smith's request.

The twenty days allowed by law for taking an appeal expired Oct. 9 and as Mr. Smith had not paid the costs he held his appeal illegal. The time specified by law having expired he is not now entitled to an appeal. Judges Gunster and Edwards were on the bench at the application and granted a rule to show cause why the appeal should not be stricken off, making it returnable to argument court.

Smith Tendered the Cash.
After the application for the rule, Attorney Smith went to Prothonotary Pryor and paid him $47.13 in cash and took his check. He told Mr. Pryor to hold the money until the amount of the costs is finally determined and the money was sealed in an envelope and placed in the Prothonotary's safe. The law provides that the costs are not valid unless the costs are first paid in cash to the prothonotary. On this point there is a decision of the Supreme court in an appeal taken from a common pleas court of Lackawanna county.

On Oct. 12, 1871, Harrison Graham brought an action in assumpsit against Asahel C. Walker and Samuel Walker, partners, in the common pleas of Lackawanna county. Arbitrators found an award for $35.20 in his favor. The defendants entered an appeal, and according to the record, the costs were "paid prothonotary by defendants by draft."

On a rule to show cause on the application of the plaintiff the court struck off the appeal upon the ground that the costs had not been paid in money. The defendants took out a writ of error to the supreme court and assigned for error the striking off of the appeal. In passing upon the writ, Justice Williams, of the supreme court, said:

"The arbitration act of 1836 makes the payment of all costs that may have accrued in the action a condition precedent to an appeal from an award of arbitrators. The payment of the taxed costs is therefore indispensable to the perfection and validity of an appeal, but the prothonotary has no right to accept anything but money or cash in payment of costs, and therefore no valid appeal can be taken from an award of arbitrators if the costs are not paid by note, check or draft, or in anything but actual cash."

If the appeal is stricken off the award of the arbitrators will stand, unless the supreme court should interfere.

Mr. Smith's Property Transferred.
Attorney Smith was the owner of valuable properties on Adams, Jefferson and Monroe avenues, worth in the neighborhood of $40,000, but he sold them to his wife on an award of $10,000 consideration of $1 and love and affection. A month later the deed was recorded in the office of Recorder of Deeds Huester. There are four lots mentioned in the deed, each 40 by 150 feet in size. Two of the lots are on Adams avenue, each improved with double frame frame buildings in the front and rear. A lot of Jefferson avenue is improved in a similar manner and a lot on Monroe avenue, between Vine and Mulberry, is improved by a fine residence.

These are the only properties Mr. Smith owned in the city. It is believed the transfer was made. His wife becomes responsible for the payment of the mortgages against them. After the status of Mr. Smith's appeal has been determined, steps will be taken to ascertain the legality of the transfer of the properties by Mr. Smith to his wife.

THEIR FIFTH ANNUAL BALL.

Pleasant Event Conducted by the Hebrew Young Men in Music Hall.
Music hall was the scene of a very pleasant social event last evening. The fifth annual ball of the Young Men's Hebrew Benevolent association was held. Bunting and patriotic drapery gave the ball room an appearance of brightness. The stage was banked with high bouquets, and from his floral alcove came the strains of music, furnished by Bauer's orchestra.

There were present about 100 couples. Artistic programmes of the order of dancing were presented to each lady, and the persons arriving were met by committee consisting of J. Jurkowitz, I. Weiss, Philip Karp, A. Rosenblum, H. Schmellovitz, H. Mechlovitz, M. Grossman and S. Miller. The order committee comprised: H. Klein, Sam Weisberger, Joe Rosenweger and I. Grossman. David Weissberger was assistant master of ceremonies.

Edward Weiss was master of ceremonies; he and Miss Annie Jurkowitz led the grand march. A good time was enjoyed until a seasonable hour. The officers of the association are: President, Jacob Sont; vice president, A. Schwartz; secretary, A. Propper; treasurer, Jacob Harris.

At the beginning of the current year Division No. 17, Ancient Order of Hibernians of America, was organized and its membership increased so rapidly that it was found necessary to secure larger and more commodious meeting rooms than had at first been rented, and a lease of the main hall at 421 Lackawanna avenue was effected.

A house warming took place last evening. Invitations were sent out to the members of the city divisions, and at 8.30 there was a large representation of visiting brothers present, besides the almost 100 members of Division 17. J. C. Vaughan was the presiding officer. The opening number was a stirring ballad by William Dawson. A. F. O'Boyle was introduced and entertained for
