REPUBLICANS TO CONFER

Chairman Carter to Meet Members of the National Committee.

SHORT CAMPAIGN IS PAVORED

It Is Probable That There Will Soot Be a Conference Between Senator Ouny and Ex-Senator Platt, in New York.

New York, Oct. 18 .- Thomas H. Car-New York, Oct. 18.—Thomas H. Carter, chairman of the Republican national committee, admitted today at the Imperial hotel that he was here to meet other members of the committee. As tomorrow is the last day of the week, Senator Carter will probably hold his conference then. He explained the object of the meeting. It is to decide when a call shall be made for the regular meeting of the national committee. when a call shall be made for the regu-lar meeting of the national committee. Until the meeting has taken place, he said, he could not say a word about the date or place of the national commit-tee meeting.

The committee will probably meet in Washington in December. R. C. Ker-ens a member of the committee from St. Louis, favors a meeting in May and

There is some talk of deposing Mr. Carter as chairman, because he is a free silverite. Senator Stewart, of Nevada, however, says that Mr. Carter is not really for free silver, and that he will not be asked to weigh heaven he will not be asked to resign, because he has nothing to do before the convention meets except to call the committee together to name the date and place for Chairman Manley, of the executive committee, may be here tomorrow. His presence is uncertain. William Murray Crane, of Massachusettis; William M. Hahn, of Chie; James S. Clarkson, of Iowa, and Sam Fessenden, of Connecticut, are the only members of the committee in the city.

Ex-Senator Platt and Committeeman

Ex-Senator Platt and Committeeman Clarkson had a long conference last night about the coming meeting. It is understood that Mr. Platt expressed himself strongly in favor of a late convention. Senator Quay is expected to arrive in the city tomorrow, and it is understood that he and Mr. Platt will have a conference on this subject.

TRACED BY TINY SHOES. Body of a Murdered Girl Found in an Attie Ishpeming, Mich., Oct. 18.—It is be-lieved that little Eva Lefreniere, whose body was found hidden in the attic of the Wendal block Monday, was assault-ed and murdered. The child disappear-ed June 24 and was last seen in Mrs. Wendal's millinery store. Wendal's millinery store.

The discovery was made in a most peculiar manner. Mrs. Wendal gave Mrs. Lefreniere on Monday some carpet ars. Letrenere on Monday some carpet rags in which the latter found the shoes worn by the little girl on the dry of her disappearance. A thorough search on the Wendal premises resulted in the discovery of the child's body hidden in an almost inaccessible corner under the roof.

MINERS' STRIKE PROBABLE. Work Today.

Phillipsburg. Pa., Oct. 18.—Until to-day it was thought by many miners and business men that in order to postpone the miners' strike, which is to begin tomorrow, the operators would ask for a conference, but, not having done so, a strike of more or less magnitude is now certain.

Equally sure is it that the operators will not yield from their position not to grant the advance demanded. If the strike is obeyed generally, from 5,000 to 6,000 miners will be idle in the Clearfield and Beech Creek regions alone.

Stirring Resolution Adopted by the W.C.
T. U. Convention.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 18.—At the afternoon session two important resolutions were presented and adopted. Mrs. A.
S. Benjamin, of Michigan, offered the following:

Resolved—That the white ribbon wo-men, who wear the badge of peace, ought never to have been placed in the position of having to defend themselves from the charge that they favored the lynching of any human being anywhere, under any circumstances, and we keenly feel the false position in which we have been placed, and repudiate any imputation inconsistent with the law of imputation inconsistent with the law of Christ, which, as every body knows, is totally at variance with the torture, or killing of any human being without opportunity to have had his case fairly presented, and to have been tried by a jury. We do not multiply epithets on this subject, because it is not necessary. We leave that to those who have misrepresented our position, but we have never hesitated, and do not now to place ourselves squarely on record to place ourselves squarely on record in regard to lynching, and other lawless proceedings in our own or any other country now and always, and we believe that when women have a share in making the laws such atro-cities will disappear from the face of the earth.

It proved that the Indiana was able to do better after her machinery had been driven at high pressure for a considerable time than when the engines were first put under forced draught. This is in marked contrast to the performance of English battle-ships of the Royal Sovereign class. The English have never succeeded in get-ting much better than sixteen knots out of their first-class battleships, and when they have attained this speed, it has been at the expense of ruined machinery. The Indiana's machinery is a triumph of American construction. The engineer officers of the trial board were surprised at the wonderful per-formance of the engines today. Not he slightest difficulty develop engineers were unanimous in the opinion that the engines were the best they have ever handled. Boston, Oct. 18.—In her official trip between Cape Ann and Boone Island, a distance of thirty-one knots, the battle-ship Indiana made an average speed of 15.51 knots for four hours. This is 51-100 knots above the speed required by the government, and as there was a premium offered of $25,000 for every quarter knot made over fifteen, the Cramps will receive $50,000 as a bonus in excess of the contract price offered. This may be increased to $75,000 when the tidal observations are worked out, as the allowance for tidal obstructions will probably give the ship 15.75 knots. for the dash across the line. At 10 o'clock the Indiana approached the starting line. At 10.03, 13% Captain Bradford cried "Mark," and the Indiana was off. The run to Boone Island was made against the tide, an consumed two hours, two minutes and seven see-

DUN'S WEEKLY REVIEW.

Business for the Week Has Been Fair, but Not Phenomenal-Evidences of Improvement Exhibited in Certain Direc-

New York, Oct. 18.—Dun's review to-morrow will say: The events of the week are promising in nature, though week are promising in nature, though to speculative markets not entirely en-couraging. The great advance in cot-ton had arrested exports, and so de-ranged exchanges that shipments of gold were for a time apprehended, but the break in the market indicates that the natural movement of the product may soon be restored. The halting of demand and moderate violding of prices demand and moderate yielding of prices in the great industrial markets show that a season of reasonable attention to natural conditions has arrived, and gives hope that the future demand will be more nearly proportional to actual consumption. The week has brought a little further decline in iron and steel products, in hides and leather and a more yielding tone in boots and shoes. Wheat does tone in boots and shoes. Wheat does not go out freely, and the attempt to advance prices on Monday was followed by an immediate decline. The Atlantic exports, flour included, have been in the past three weeks 4,558,455 bushels, against 7,238,111 last year, and the big shipments from Russia and of late from Argentina show that the world is not yet obliged to say Atlantic prices for

The iron industry is still fully engaged on old orders, but new business is so scanty that many of the works are seeking it at some concessions in price, and the only large contracts have been at $1.75 to $1.80 for bridge plates, quoted at 1.9 to 2.0 cents. Quotations are not lower, though any good order com-mands some discount. Billets sell at $21 and rod at $28 at Pittsburg, want of business in wire and wire nails continuing. Mills have to complete in pig iron and other products with speculators who took large quantities on advancing prices, and actual consumption will not be fairly measured until the effects of the speculation are out of the

Corbett Is Arrested and Arraigned fo Intent to Break the Laws. Paroled in Custody of a Deputy Sheriff.

Hot Springs, Oct. 18.—Champion Cor-bett arrived in this city this morning from his training quarters at Spring Lake and was met at the depot by Sheriff Houpt and Manager Brady, Joe Vendig and other friends and the officials of the Florida Athletic club. Corbett, Brady and the sheriff drove to the office of the justice of the peace. W. the office of the justice of the peace, W. A. Kirk, where everything appeared to be in readiness for the judicial proceedings that had evidently been agreed upon. The sheriff presented his pris-oner to the court. At this juncture, Mr. Martin, attorney for Corbett, entered the court room and presented a petition addressed to Hon. Leland Leatherman, judge of the chancery court of Garland county, and praying that the judge award Corbett a writ of habeas corpus "to the end that the cause of his detention may be in-quired into and for other relief."

The warrant upon which Corbett was arrested and brought before the justice of the peace states that "there are good and sufficient grounds for believing that J. J. Corbett is about to engage and has threatened to engage in a glove con-test and prize fight with one Robert test and prize fight with one Robert Fitzsimmons in Garland county, Arkansas, and the said glove contest and prize fight will be of a character endangering human life. It was sworn out by Justice Kirk upon statements of Prosecuting Attorney Teague. The petition of Corbett was granted and he was arraigned before Chancery Judge Leatherman. Leatherman.

Details of the Trial. After the arraignment adjournment was taken until 1.30 p. m. At that hour the court reconvened and Attorney Martin read the official documents to the court and announced that he was ready for trial. The first evidence in-troduced was the enactments of the legislatures of 1891 and 1893, and from the house records it was plainly made to appear by the attorney for Corbett that the exactment of the lower of 1891. that the enactment of the laws of 1891 was illegal, because they passed by a viva voce vote instead of roll call, as the constitution of the state provides shall be done in all cases. The first witness was Joseph Vendig.

The first witness was Joseph Vendig, by whose testimony it was proved that the defendant had made an agreement to engage in a glove contest in this city Oct. 31 with Robert Fitzsimmons for a purse of $41.000 under the auspices of the Florida Athletic club. Before the testimony of Mr. Vendig was completed, Attorney Martin requested the chancellor to allow Corbett to depart for Little Rock, where he has an engagement to show tonight. The chancellor granted the request, but required the sheriff to send a deputy with him to see that he returned tomorrow. The court then adjourned until tomorrow at 1.30 p. m.

at 1.30 p. m. Interview with Prosecuting Attorney. A United Press reporter interviewed Prosecuting Attorney Teague this morning as to the law which gives the governor the power to send the militia for the purpose of suppressing riots or mobs. Attorney Teague stated in ef-fect that the governor has no right to send militia into any county of the state without having first been called upon to do so by some of the civil au-thorities from the county in which the militia is to be sent, and that they were not to be called upon until the civil authorities found that they were not able to suppress the riot or mob, which-ever it might be, under the circum-

ever it might be, under the circumstances. "In case the present proceedings that have been instituted go through, as the friends and backers of Corbett the friends and backers of Corbett think they will, what will then be the attitude of the governor?"

"He will be tied up as tight as Dick's hat band," replied the prosecuting at-

"Then if Judge Duffle should call upon the governor to send the militia to stop proceedings, would the governor be compelled to do so?"
"Yes, I think he would. He would be bound to respect the call of the cir-cuit judge in that case. But in event that he should do so, the militia would be under the orders of the local peace officers. The sheriff would have supreme control over them after they had entered the county." Could Do with Them as He Wished. "If the sheriff has control of the troops after they have come into the county, what would be the result?"

"Well, he could make whatever disposition of them he saw proper. The laws provide that the militia shall be under the control of the local peace. under the control of the local peace officers, and the sheriff being the head he could plant them down at the race track if the felt so disposed, and keep them there until their services were necessary to suppress any mob or riot." "What effect, if any, will a writ of habeas corpus have, supposing that the chancery judge should grant one?" "It will act as a check upon the of-ficials. If the chancery court decided that there is no law on the statute books of Arkansas prohibiting a prize fight or glove contest, and the writ of habeas corpus is issued I cannot see how the authorities can further interfere with the programme."

powerless to suppress something that is clearly no violation of law." FRANCE'S WORLD'S SHOW,

"If there is no anti-prize fight law low can Corbett and Fitzsimmons violate a law by meeting here, as con-templated in their articles of agree-ment with the Florida Athletic club?"

"If we have no law they cannot vio late one, hence the governor would
