CITY NOTES.

"THE DEVIL AND THE DEEP SEA."
 The city treasurer's office paid out over $10,000 yesterday to the school teachers between the hours of 3 and 5.

The initial number of the Old Forge Sentinel has been ordered by the Postoffice division of live local and general news and is altogether a most readable paper.

Rev. J. W. Hadden will speak at the Rescue mission this evening. Mr. Hadden was the first secretary of the Railroad Young Men's Christian association in this city.

The contract for the Roaring brook bridge approach has not been certified to as yet by Controller Widmayer, owing to a delay in securing certain figures from the city engineer's department.

At the instance of the Third National bank of this city, an execution of $17,500 was yesterday filed against the Providence Coal company, and one of $2,000 against the same company was filed by J. S. Mc-Anulty.

The manufacturers committee of the board of trade met last night and considered the proposition of a large manufacturing concern which wants to locate in this city. A report will be made at Monday night's meeting of the board.

A reception was given last night by Mrs. J. S. Loomis, of Hyde Park avenue, for Mrs. Anna M. Wilbur, state president of the Women's Relief corps. Mrs. Wilbur on Thursday next attended the meeting of Relief corps No. 10 and inspected the ritual work.

Judge F. W. Gunster and Margaret Simon, executors of the estate of Frederick Simon, through their attorney, C. C.
 Comery, yesterday brought an action in ejectment against Philip Schneider and Brigida Schneider, his wife, for two lots of land in the Twentieth ward.

Marriage licenses were yesterday granted to John Mysosko and Annie Kiazpacz, Olyphant; Andrew Farianich and Rosie Chambar, Old Forge; Benjamin Jakes, of Scranton, and Mary Woolley, Throop; Michael McNulty, of Old Forge, and Margaret Conahy, of Minooka.

The will of Letitia Williams, late of the West Side, was yesterday probated and letters testamentary granted to William J.
 Williams. The will of Rachel Griffiths, late of Jersey, was probated and letters granted to Thomas E. Griffiths. In the estate of George A. Brust, late of Dunmore, letters of administration were granted to Susanna Brust.

The second annual meeting of the Florence Crittenton mission will take place on Tuesday, Oct. 22, at 3.30, at the Young Women's Christian association rooms on Washington avenue. The manager extended a cordial invitation to the public at large and the numerous friends of the mission to attend this meeting. Interesting papers will be read, and the following are the names of the speakers:

In the evening "Bill" Kent, who is charged with having counterfeit money in his possession, Deputy United States Marshal Robbing yesterday subpoenaed Chief of Police Simpson, Captain Edwards, Detective D. P. Roche, Officer Jason, Block, Officer M. J. Walsh, E. S. Silverstone and Samuel Bloch for the United States court at Pittsburgh next week.

Rev. J. H. Mateo, the blind evangelist, will give a lecture on the "Dark and Bright Side of Washington, D. C." in the United Evangelical church, Capoue avenue, on Thursday evening, Oct. 21. This lecture consists first of a birds eye view of the many beautiful points of interest in and about the city of Washington; second, a word painting of the wickedness and high places and the corruption of some of our lawmakers and would-be statesmen.

COST OF ASSESSMENTS.

Entirely Too High and Some Move Will Be Made to Cut It Down.

City officials are waking up to the fact that unless some move is soon made to cut down expenses this city will be called upon to pay a comparatively enormous price for making the annual assessments. This year councils appropriated $7,550 to meet the expense of making the assessment. The new law which creates the board of recess assessors has no provisions by way of retrenchment to pay the additional cost of these five new officers and as a result a double expenditure will result. The members of the board of appeals are only human, and as the law awards them $3 a day with discretionary power as to number of days they shall sit, it is not to be expected that they will lose many days in these hard times.

Suppose the board should sit 275 days during the year, which is not at all unlikely, the cost of their maintenance would amount to $812,500, not counting the salary of the board's clerk, which has not been fixed as yet. This additional expense would run the total cost of making the assessments up to about $12,000, at the lowest estimate.

Cost of the Assessment is High.
 Spending $12,000 to assess $325,000 taxes is considered slightly exorbitant and doubtfully will not be permitted. Just where the cut will be made has not been definitely considered, but there has been talk of doing away with the assistant city assessors in years other than the triennial year, when an entirely new assessment is made. Scranton is the only city of the third class in Pennsylvania which employs assistant assessors in years other than the triennial year. Councils virtually amended the legislative enactment when they directed the appointment of assistant assessors every year.

The act of 1889 specifically states that assistant assessors shall be employed every third year to make the triennial assessment, but does not empower their appointment in the intervening years.
 Mayor Connell and City Clerk Lavelle both declared yesterday to a Tribune reporter that council's action is contrary to law and the present assistant city assessors are not legally employed; nor have any assistant assessors, except in the two triennial assessments since 1889, been legally authorized to make assessments or draw pay for so doing.

Assistants Come High.
 The cost of these assistants is the heaviest item in the appropriation for the assessors' department. The sum of $3,400 was set aside for them in the 1895 appropriation. The board of assessors received $100,000 on the property held and incidentals make the total reach $7,550.

This, in itself, the majority of the council holds to be exorbitant, in fact altogether too high for the city as large as it ought to be. But when the addition of over $4,000 for the salary and expenses of the new board of appeals is taken into consideration, the contention, which these complainants make, that assessment expenses are enormous, is, they claim, fairly and unmistakably borne out.

FOR A WEST SIDE APPROACH.
 City Officials and Property Holders Confer with Regard to Needed Land.

Pursuant to a resolution of council instructing Mayor Connell, City Solicitor Torrey and City Controller Widmayer to secure options on the property needed for the opening of Ninth and Robinson streets, a meeting was held yesterday in the mayor's office, at which these officials and the interested property owners were present.

Nothing definite was done. Martin Gurrell and George Davidson, the latter representing the J. W. Peck estate, continued to insist on a price of $25 per square foot. Another meeting will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon on the ground.

The Tribune, next Saturday, will contain a stirring, complete story by Rudyard Kipling, entitled "Quilquern." It is written in this master novelist's best

THOUSANDS WILL BE HERE

Grand Com-mandery of Knights Tem-plar in Scranton Next May.

HOTELS ALREADY ENGAGED

Estimated that from Four to Six Thousand Strangers Will Be Here Each Day for Three Days—Executive Committee Is at Work.

Scranton Knights Templar are already at work arranging for the entertainment of the thousands of Sir Knights with their wives and families who will be here to attend the forty-third annual convocation of the grand commandery of Pennsylvania, beginning Tuesday, May 26, and continuing for three days. The grand commandery is composed of the officers and past officers of local commanderies and has a membership of over 1,200, but its annual convocation is an event which always attracts from 2,000 to 4,000 additional Sir Knights and their families, and it is to this vast concourse that Scranton will be called upon to extend a welcome during three days of next spring.

No state gathering of a similar order brings together so many representatives and representative gathering than does the Knights Templar annual convocation, and with their magnificent parade, grand banquet and all the other features, receptions and functions the city seems bound to be thrown into a greater festivity whirl than ever before in its history on a similar occasion. The grand convocation of the grand commandery were held in Scranton in 1868, 1881 and 1886. Last year's convocation was held in Reading, and no longer was Scranton selected for the 86th gathering, but the telegraph wires were made warm with telegrams engaging quarters for entire commanderies and for individuals.
 Later by mail all the hotel space in the city was engaged, and today even the big Hotel Jersey, which will not be opened until about April 1, has this early been engaged from cellar to gar-ret.

General Committee in Charge.

The Scranton commanderies have appointed a general executive committee which has charge of all arrangements and which is now at work, assisted by various sub-committees. The executive committee is composed of Eminent Sirs T. Frank Penman, chairman; E. H.
 Ripple, E. P. Kingsbury, W. L. Connell, E. L. Buck, A. A. Colburn, J.
 R. A. Zimmerman, J. M. Brown, J.
 and S. E. C. Browning, H. H. Archer, Conrad Schroeder, Arja Williams, A.
 B. Holmes and George R. Jermyn. In making its arrangements this committee at Scranton and its advantages will be impressed upon the thousands of substantial strangers who will come into the city from every nook in the state.

The Secret Sessions will be held in Masonic hall, at the corner of Penn avenue and Linden street. The installation of the newly elected officers will be public, and will be held in one of the two large theaters. Admission to the ceremony will be by invitation only, excepting Sir Knights and ladies accompanying them.

The banquet and ball, which is inevitable to the grand commandery convocation, has always been distinguished for its excellence. The banquet and ball and the one to be given in Scranton will be no exception to the rule; in fact, this function will be given on a scale never before attempted in the city. The grand convocation in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, the two Meccas for Templar gatherings. The place for holding the banquet and ball has not been announced, but it probably be in the Frothingham theater.

Three Thousand Will Be in Line.

In the parade will be seen commanderies and bands whose total membership will number about 3,000. It will include the famous Corinthian band and the Philadelphia mounted commandery, to which Grand Commander Edward B. Spencer belongs.

Following is a list of the grand commandery officers: Grand commander, Edward B. Spencer, of Philadelphia; deputy grand commander, Samuel S.
 Yobe, of Easton; grand generalissimo, Henry M. Van Zante, of Harrisburg; grand captain general, Henry M. Kuhn, of Johnstown; grand senior warden, James B. Youngson, of Pittsburg; grand junior warden, Adam H.
 Schmitt, of Reading; grand secretary, Isaac Albertson, of Philadelphia; grand treasurer, Mont H. Smith, of Philadelphia; grand prelate, Rev. Charles T.
 Morgan, of Philadelphia; grand orator, Charles W. Decker, of Philadelphia; grand sword bearer, Ezra S. Bartlett, of Philadelphia; grand warden, Robert P. Mercer, of Chester; grand captain of the guard, John A. Vander-berg, of Phoenixville; grand marshal, Harvey A. McKillop, of Bloomsburg; herald, Theodore Williamson, of Chester.

NAGGING HABIT NOT A VICE

Simply Nervous Weakness—Use Paine's Celery Compound.

Nagging is a disease, says an eminent physician in the last North American Review. "It is often," says Dr. Edson, "the result of a diseased condition or of strains on the strength." It is the nervous men and women who most readily fall into that unfortunate class, and anything that does away with nervous weakness will cure the depression, irritability and the nagging habit that so often accompanies a rundown nervous condition.
 Persons who lead an active life need something to invigorate their nerves and to give them fresh, ruddy blood.
 It is the rebellious nerves overtaxed by the constant living in the vitiated atmosphere of indoors that reduces the nervous strength of so many women.
 Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL.
 D., presented to his profession the results of accurate investigations in the medical laboratory. His formula for recruiting worn-out nervous tissues and building up the nerve-centers when exhausted, this remarkable formula, now known the world over as Paine's celery compound, has become familiar to every medical practitioner and family physician.
 "Break-down and nervous prostration come," say these physicians, "unless the great nerve exciters are promptly fed upon nutritive material." Paine's celery compound is the one great nerve-feeder and nerve restorative. By its means all the functions of the body receive a fresh supply of nerve food. It encourages the body to manufacture an abundant supply of this indispensable vital force, without which there can be no health, strength nor happiness in living. From the lack of nerve force men and women are driven to despondency, melancholia, insanity and suicide.
 Thousands of letters like the following from Mrs. Lizzie Arnold, of Mansfield, Ohio, are received by the proprietors of Paine's celery compound every month in the year.
 "I have used two bottles of Paine's celery compound for nervousness, and have found great relief from its use.
 It is truly a wonderful remedy. I am better and am using no more medicine now."
