COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Some of the Plays That Are Billed to Appear in Ciry Theaters.

Roland Reed has sailed triumphantly into the affections of the theater-goers with his new play, "The Politician," which he will present at the Frothingham next Friday night. Laughter reigns supreme. The play is an ex-ceedingly clever satire upon the modern politician and his methods and the dif-ferent scenes depict with life-like reality the many phases of machine poli-tics. The role of General Josiah Limber in the hands of Mr. Reeed is a creation hat is destined to become a national character. Another character that not only interests the men but the women also of the audience is Cleopatra Stur-gen, a "twentieth century woman, portrayed by Miss Isadore Rush. The Hustler at the Academy

"The Hustler," a farce comedy, which takes rank with the best of this style of plays, comes to this city on Saturday next at the Academy, and brings to theater-goers that never-falling source of profitable recreation, a fund of novelts, Ourth and melody forms a comelty. Mirth and melody form a com-bination hard to beat and in these two elements "The Hustler" is claimed to particularly excel. Unadulterated wit is a rare commodity in so-called farce-comedies, but as the author of "The Hustler" claims for his work only a skillfully constructed vehicle for the marketing of a pleasing article of amusement, doubtless the result will show an improvement over the stock parcelled out by the less modest pur-veyor.

The farce which Manager Charles Frohman will present at the Frothing-ham next week is "The Foundling," by William Lestocq, who wrote "Jane" and E. M. Robson. The story of the comedy puts a young man to laughable experiences in his search of his un-known mother, whom he must find beknown mother, whom he must find before his prospective mother-in-law will permit him to marry into her family. The fun that is in the play should be made to reach the audience by such farcical experts as Thomas Burns, S. Miller Kent, Charles W. Butler, George Schaeffer, E. Soldene Powell, Frances Stevens, Stella Zanoni, Maggie Halloway Pisher, Clara Baker Rust, Maggie Fielding and Jane Stetson, and Cissy Fitzgerald, who danced with her feet end eyes in "A Galety Girl" in London and New York. This celebrated entrancer has the role of a concert hall beauty to enact besides dancing. "The Man Upstairs," a one-act play, by Augustus Thomas, will be the curtain raiser.

TO ADVERTISE SCRANTON

Scheme Made Known at Last Night's Board of Trade Meeting.

INDIVIDUALS TO PAY POR IT

Will Cost $1,000 and Is to Appear Cassier's Magazine-Committee Named to Investigate the Public Market Project - Other Business.

Several matters of importance were considered last night by a fairly well attended meeting of the board of trade. A committee was appointed to investigate the public market project; the publication committee's report showing a large advertising contract with Cassier's megazine was approved as was sier's magazine was approved, as was report of the manufacturer's commit-

The publication committee's report was of especial interest to the coal trade and was as follows:

was of especial interest to the coal trade and was as follows:

To the President and Members of the Scranton Board of Trade:
Gentlemen: The publication committee desire to report that some weeks ago we were approached by A. D. Chandier, vice-president and manager of Cassier's Magazine, who had been attracted to the cheap fuel resources of Scranton by our advertisement in Power.

On investigation of our advantages he became convinced that an issue of his magazine, exploiting the advantages of using low-priced fuels such as we possess for the generation of steam power, would be acceptable to manufacturers and engineers at this time. He made a proposition to us to publish, in connection with atticles on the keneration of steam from culm and other cheap fuels, twenty pages of illustrated matter, one-half of which was to be prepared by Nelson W. Perry, a well-known authority on the subject, and the other half to be prepared by Nelson W. Perry, a well-known authority on the subject, and the other half to be prepared by some person selected by the publication committee, and all to be submitted to the publication committee, and all to be submitted to the publication he placed at $100 per page, or $2,000 Was Too Big a Price.

Some minor business was transacted before adjournment.

pense of this publication he placed at $100 per page, or $2.000 for the twenty pages.

$2,000 Was Too Big a Price.

Your committee, while realizing that it would be of great value to the city and a strong factor in assisting the board in making known our advantages, could not see how the $2.000 could be raised, as it was out of the question to expect the board to make an appropriation of that amount. Several prominent members of the board who were spoken to on the subject realized the value such a publication would be to us, and agreed to contribute personally to defray the expense of the publication. After cunvassing the field it became evident that to raise $2.000 was,out of the question, and Mr. Perry's report, prepared at the expense of the magazine publishers, was of such a nature that Mr. Chandler decided to incorporate it in the body of the magazine. This, then, made it necessary for us to raise but $1.000 to pay for the insertion of the article focusing the power articles of the magazine on the city.

Mr. Chandler then made a proposition to

If necessary for us to faise but 21,000 is pay for the insertion of the article focusing the power articles of the mingazine on the city.

Mr. Chandler then made a proposition to us that if we paid for the ten pages required for the article specially devoted to this city, the matter could be satisfactorily arranged. The question of the board appropriating $1,000 for this purpose was broached and found to be impossible owing to the nature of the financial condition of the board and the probable expense it would be required to meet in furnishing our new rooms. Thereupon, at the suggestion of a prominent member of the board, an effort was made to raise the amount required by subscription among the members of the board having culm for sale, who would, in a measure, be benefited by the article.

Your secretary, together with members of the publication committee, at various times called with Mr. Chandler on a number of gentlemen in the city and succeeded in securing liberal contributions from William Connell, C. D. Simpson, W. T. Smith, the Greenwood Coal company, the Raymond Coal company, O. S. Johnson, E. B. Surges and W. H. Richmond, The amounts subscribed were so close to $1,000 that, without any legal obligation being assumed by your committee, Mr. Chandler decided to go on with the work, as it was necessary to rush things.

As a result, the November number of Castler's Magazine will contain flustrated articles by several prominent specialists bearing on the subject, and will also contain an article by Mr. Perry that refers directly to Secunton which, on account of its local charactor, the efficient of the magazine decided would have to accompany our own article in the back part of the magazine decided would have to accompany our own article in the back part of the magazine decided would have to accompany our own article in the back part of the magazine decided would have to accompany our own article in the back part of the magazine decided would have to accompany our own article in the back part of the magazine

Following Mr. Perry's article will be an flustrated article by Mie Susan E. Dick-mson, who, at the suggestion of the chair-nan of the publication committee, was ep-

Miss Dickinson's Article.

Following Mr. Perry's article will be an illustrated article by Miss Susan E. Dickinson, who, at the suggestion of the chairman of the publication committee, was engaged by Mr. Chandler to write an article on the "lindustrial and Social Propositions of Scranton." Miss Dickinson has written an excellent article, in a popular veln, which, while it gives in a general way the industrial advantances of Scranton, also speaks of the social religious and educational points of the city. These points your committee thinks are of equal importance with the question of cheap fuel, as it shows the desirable features of the city as a place of residence for manufacturers and their families.

Summarizing the whole matter, your committee would report that the November issue of Cassier's Magezine will contain the best matter that has ever been published regarding the advantances of our cheap fuel, abundant water supply and, the desirability of the city as a location for factories and manufacturers' homes. It clearly contrasts the advantages we possess with our cheap fuel over Niagara Falls. In fact, it contrasts the two locations in a manuer decidely favorable to Scranton. The fact that none of the articles have been written by members of the board, that the board has only been represented in the preparation of the articles have been written by members of the board, that the board has only been represented in the preparation of the articles have been written by members of the board, that the board has only been represented in the preparation of the articles have been written by members of the board is under no legal obligation to make up the difference of about $t29 so as to cover the cost of the ten pages given us, yet your committee feels that morally we should be willing to make up part, if not all, of the difference from the board's treasury, and would therefore suggest that in cannual report other than a folder showing the financial condition of this matter in the columns of the magazine, the commi

Public Market Discussed. A discussion of the public market pro-ject followed Secretary Atherton's re-marks upon the subject. He said: "It is believed by a great many members of the board of trade, and by citizens generally, that a public market place in this city would be of inestimable value, and my attention has been repeatedly called to the subject and the opinion called to the subject, and the opinion expressed is that this organization should take the matter up that the importance of it may be intelligently dis-cussed and acted upon. Therefore in order that the subject may be brought regularly before you, I offer the follow-ing resolution:

"Resolved, That a committee of five members be appointed to be known as a 'Public Market Committee,' with in-struction to investigate the feasibility struction to investigate the feasibility and wisdom of establishing a public market in the city of Scranton, and to present a written report at the November meeting of this board."

John M. Kemmerer, R. J. Foster, Secretary Atherton, H. E. Payne and J. A. Lansing discussed the matter at some length. There was no consensus of opinion as to whether the city or individuals should own the market. The remarks indicated the need of a mar-

Just what shape it will assume is not known as the projectors refuse to announce the programme, intending to give Hughey a surprise.

Going West. The advice given by Horace Greeley so many years ago, to go west, is being followed every day by an increasingly large number of men and women. Some go to stay, to build up new homes, others for pleasure, still others go to look after great business interests, but they go, and they one and all wish to go by a route which combines, safety, spend and convenience in tracellar. This is the reason why on and all wish to go by a route which combines, safety, speed and convenience in traveling, state, speed and convenience in traveling. This is the reason why so many choose the Nickel Plate Road. From Huffalo to Chicago, the line has almost as straight as an arrow, and intersected at such frequent intervals by convections are given roughing out in every 45 rection. Then, too, many travelers demand a certain amount of hixary when traveling, and Wagner cars between New York, Boxton, Buffalo and Chicago, the oniformed colored potters in charge of day coaches and the unsurpassed dining carservice supply this. Accommodations may be secured in alwance by addressing F. J. Moore, 23 Exchange street, Buffalo, N. Y. CASES IN ARGUMENT COURT.

Argument Heard on Important Matters by the Judges Yesterday. October argument court, the session to continue during the week, began yes-terday, Judges Archbald, Gunster and Edwards on the bench. An important case was opened for argument in the af-termoon. The title of it is: J. H. Gun-ster, assignee, versus The Scranton Il-luminating, Heat and Power company; exceptions to the report of referee. Attorneys Charles H. Welles and Edward Merrifield appeared for the plaintiff, and Major Everett Warren and City Solicitor J. H. Torrey are attorneys for the defendant. Attorney W. W. Lathrope was referee in the case, and it involves $6,000. When George A. Jessup was vice president of the defunct Scranton City bank, he was also chosen treasurer of the heat and power company, and a check of $6,000 drawn by him in his relation with the company as its treasurer, was endorsed by him as vice president of the bank. This amount was paid in cash to him on two drafts, of $4,000 and $2,000 re-spectively, by a bank in New York city. The assignee of the bank, J. H. Miss Lillian Longville, is satisfactory as Eleanor Lynn, daughter of the murdered banker.

Another unknown, whose name is not given on the programme, did fine work as a tramp and has an unusually good baritons voice. The performance will be repeated today and tomorrow afternoons and evenings.

The assignee of the bank, J. H. Gunster, brought suit against the company for the amount of the drafts, and it came up before a referee, W. W. Lattope, whose decision was against the assignee. The argument of the plain-tiff's attorneys was heard yesterday, and that of the defendant's attorneys will be heart this morning. Other cases argued were: Joseph Ansley & Son vs. E. M. Tewksbury; C. C. Steero vs. D. K. Oakley; Jesse Hunt.
