Some of the Plays That Are Billed to Appear in Playhouses of the City.

Roland Reed, who is such a popular comedian with Scranton audiences, will be at the Frothingham tomorrow evening. He will present his latest success, "The Politician," which affords Mr. Reed splendid opportunities to display the quaint and effective humor which has made him one of the most successful actors presenting refined comedy upon the stage at the present time. Mr. Reed will be supported by an efficient company, prominent among the members being Miss Isadore Rush, formerly of Wilkes-Barre.

At 2 o'clock yesterday morning Lieutenant Davis heard a sound as if a man had fallen in one of the central station cells, and, hurrying thither, discovered that Barney White, who was supposed to have been struck by a Delaware and Hudson train, was in a fit. Dr. Fulton, the police surgeon, was summoned and did what he could to relieve the sufferer, but had little hopes of his recovery. Contrary to his expectations, he found him much improved when day dawned, and now he is puzzled to know just what the man's trouble is. Evangelical Lutheran Ministers Re-

The hospital physicians pronounced him a plain drunk, but the long con-tinuance of his stupor gives rise to the suspicion that he may have been struck by the train or else is suffering from something more than alcoholism. Last night he spoke a little, and gave a negative shake of his head when asked if a train had struck him.

Rev. W. E. Daw, of Towards, Discuss How Far the Church Should Interest Itself in the Social Life of the People.

The session of the Archdeaconry in Grace church Honeshale, Tuesday evening opened with prayer and the first address was made by Homer Greene on "The Church from the Lay-man's Point of View." Mr. Greene said among other things that the clergy should in their sermons deal more with the practical things of this life; preach more arguingt the sweat cells and dimore against the social evils and di-rect their attacks from the pulpit more against the shuful things that are transpiring about us than they are at present doing. He pleaded for clear practical sermons on the existing evils of the day rather than treatises and discourses on theological subjects that the ordinary minds were unable to grasp.

IN ARGUMENT COURT.

ases That Came Up for Consideration Before the Judges.

Before the Judges.

The first case heard in argument court yesterday was on the rule to take off the nonsult granted in the case of J. W. Walsh, executor, against the Dwelling House Insurance company. Attorneys John P. Kelley and M. E. McDonald argued for the rule, and Attorneys M. W. Leiser, of Lewisburg, and Lemuel Amerman against the rule. Mrs. Mary Walsh, of Dunmore, insured her property with the company for a length of time that the policy would not expire until Jan. 3, 1895. But she died early in 1892, appointed her son, J. W. Walsh, executor of the estate, and in June, 1832, he notified H. E. Paine, the Scranton agent of the company, of these facts, He alleges that Mr. Paine told him it was all right. The property burned down subsequently, but the company refused to pay the insurance, claiming that by the death of Mrs. Walsh the policy became null and vold. The executor brought action in assumpsit, and when came null and void. The executor brought action in assumpsit, and when the case went to trial, the court grant-ed a nonsult on the ground that the death of the woman had canceled the policy.
