A letter has been received by Postmaster Vandling inquiring for the friends of Thos. Martin, aged about 25 years, who died at Nanaimo, B. C. He was a member of Friendship lodge, No. 20, Independent Order of Odd Fellows. A letter has also been received addressed to Mr. or Mrs. Martin, which may be had by calling on the postmaster.

John Prop was arrested yesterday at the instance of Walter Moore on the charge of stealing a wagon wheel. Both men are colored and live in Oakford court. It appears that Prop banked too much on his intimate friendship with Moore and borrowed the wheel without asking. Alderman Millar continued the case in order to give them a chance to settle.

The regular monthly literary meeting of the Epworth league of Elm Park church will be held in the social parlors this evening at 7.45 o'clock. A. V. The Liederkranz Dancing class, which is composed of some of Scranton's most prominent German people, will give their closing social this evening at Liederkranz hall. The reason they give their closing social so early in the season is that the hall is rented for a month or six weeks for the Phil Sheridan fair. Te hall will be beautifully decorated with bunting, flags, plants and the colors of the class. Invitations have been sent to Carbondale, Wilkes-Barre, Pittston, Honesdals and Plymouth. Music for dancing will be furnished by Professor Johnson.

was given last night in the Howard Place African Metholist Church by the company heretofore known as the "Eastern Stars," but which will from this date travel as "The Asaph Concert Company" of the Wilberforce (Ohlo) University. The company is to tour in the interest of the Payne Theological Seminary attached to the university and is endorsed by the seminary's president, Bishop B. W. Arnett.

If last night's concert is any criterion the company should be eminently successful. The members are Girard S. R. Millar, basso; Mrs. Mamie C. Morris Dorse, soprano; Miss Clara L. Scudder, pianist; W; E. Dorse, tenor, and Mrs. Adah J. Morris Price, second soprano. The programme included the always popular piantation melodies and solos and duetts of serious and humorous kinds. Mr. Miller's bass solo, "The Old Grave Digger," and Mrs. Dorsa's solo, "The Marquetic Waltz," are deserving of special mention.

From here the company goes to Waverly, Clark's Green, Fleetville, Factoryville, Nicholson and other towns in this vicinity.

Opened Today by M. P. McCann.

M. P. McCann, the hatter will open his new store, 205 Wyoming avenue, today. It is one of the largest and best appointed stores of its kind in the state, covering a floor space of 20x125 with basement for storage purposes and being finished in a style that is a compliment to the decorator's art. White is the predominating color. The hat cases, mirror settings and woodwork are all in white reneved by gilt and silver trimmings. The background of the show cases is black velvet, which makes a striking but yet tasteful contrast. A large and entirely new and stylish stock, which is even more attractive than the handsome store itself, has been put in and between the two one will be well repaid for a visit of inspection. Opened Today by M. P. McCann. for a visit of inspection.

Mr. McCann is one of the most successful and enterprising of Scranton's young business men and deserves the showers of congratulations that will doubtlessly be necorded him by the hundreds who will visit his store today.

DEAL IN HUMAN TRAFFIC.

Bad Business Openly Conducted by Disreputable Men and Women-Two Pittston Young Women Escaped a Snare.

It has often been brought to the notice of the police that a nefarious system in vogue among the keepers of system in vogue among the keepers of houses of ill-fame for securing inmates for their resorts. Several discreputable men and women watch the depots and the streets in the business district for girls and young women, who are strangers in the city. Opportunity is found to accost them, and engage them in konversation; then, under pretext of finding them employment, the hapless victims are conducted to the houses.

ed to the houses. The rest is easy. Many of the girls prove susceptible to flattery and the inducements to a life of indolence, and, after being well fed and newly clothed consent to begin a career of shame. The difficulty experienced by the police in securing competent evidence saves the human vultures from arrest and imprisonment. They have become em-beldened lately and conduct their traffic in an open manner.

A well-known Secanton woman, who is prominent in mission work in this tly related the following touching in-sident to a Tribune reporter yester-lay. For obvious reasons her name is withheld. She said:

Met n Well-Dressed Man. "Two young women arrived in this city Tuesday from Pittston. At the station they asked a well-dressed man for an employment office. At once he said that he knew of a nice place, where two girls were wanted in the same bouse. He offered and took them himself to the 'boarding home,' as he called M, but they thought the place ooked a little strange for a first-class "Soon the lady of the house came to them, and they applied for positions, and were told that just such girls were wanted. They were invited upstairs, and, on entering the room, which was a bed room, the woman of the house commenced to flatter them, and held out inducements for them to stay with her. She said: You can board and won't have to work; you can have all the beaux you want, and can always have a pleasant time. Their eyes were opened, and they got their hats and wraps and left the house.

They sought employment until it grew night, and, getting somewhat alarmed, asked a man to show them to a safe place. He directed them to the Piorence Mission, where they went, and were made welcome for the night. Although the mission is not a place for honest, good girls it is always open to protect them from the inhuman schemes of wolves in sheep's clothing.
