This evening Mrs. Emma Shaw Colcleugh will deliver her lecture "Through Hawaii with a Kodak" for the benift of the Mite society of St. Luke's church. Young Men's Christian Association hall has been secured as the place for the lecture, and there is little doubt that a large audience will listen to Mrs. Colcleugh, who is a very entertaining speaker.

Before Alderman Millar, Saturday, suit was brought by Charles and Flora Hall against their landlord, Daniel Nelson, of New street, who they claimed had ejected Mrs. Hall and two children from the house while the husband was confined in jail in default of ball for threatening the landlord. A decision was given by Alderman Millar in lavor of the plaintiff, but judgment as to the amount was reserved. Harry Rought, of Green Ridge, while riding a mule from the Dickson colliery, was thrown from the animal and dragged several blocks along the ground, his foot having caught in the harness. The mule and the unfortunate rider collided with Dr. C. W. Treverton's carriage, which loosened the foot of the rider, but further injured his head and side. He is in a precarious condition and is attended by Dr. Treverton.

DRUNKENNESS A DISEASE.

Rev. and Mrs. H. M. Cole, Exponents of This Idea, Are to Lecture in This City and Vicinity.

Rev. H. M. Cole delivered an address on scientific temperance at the rooms of the Keeley league, 728 Madison ave-nue, yesterday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Cole was pastor of the Congregational church at Dwight, Ill., where he met 8,000 men taking treatment for drunk-8,000 men taking treatment for drunk-enness and became so interested in this cause of rescue that he has been lec-turing through Tennessee and Penn-sylvania for the last two years in the interests of the league. Mr. Cole is ac-companied by his wife, Mrs. Ida B. Cole, who was formerly superintendent of the Young Women's Christian Tem-perance union of Kansas and Ilinois. She is now secretary of the Woman's She is now secretary of the Woman's auxilliary to the Keeley league. They will lecture in Scranton and vicinity for one month.

Rev.Mr. Cole spoke for forty min-utes on this great discovery called the Keeley cure, which Bishop Newman, of the Methodist Episcopal church calls the greatest beneficent discovery of the

the greatest beneficent discovery of the century. He said:

"All the great discoveries in science are children of this century, except astronomy. When typhoid fever is hunted to its hatching beds and in a measure conquered by medical science why should not the body which is the temple for the Holy Spirit have its walls restored and built up. Though some people think science and religion are distinct realms they are really one. In answer to the prayers of the church and many broken hearts 270,000 men have been rescued. Five states provide this cure for the indigent inebriate at the expense of the state—namely, Colorado, Maryland, Louisiana, North Dakota, Minnesota. Dakota, Minnesota.

Mr. Cole spoke of Webster, Byron, Thackery, Poe, Tasso, Alexander, who were shain by wine. Henry Ward Beecher said: "God deals with nature by force; with half-civilized men by fear, but with civilized men with sympathy." "We should do the same," said Mr. Cole, "with the saloon we should use the dynamite of public opinion; with the child the pledge and sephine, the discarded queen, will last with the drunkard, love anti-patience. with the drunkard, love anti pattience and kindness. Rev. Mr. Cole encouraged the work of the league in their labor of love, and closed by quoting from Longfellow the beautiful words: "Pure love is never wasted, if it enrich not the heart of another, it returns to the springs and fills them full of refreshment, therefills them full of refreshment, therefore accomplish thy labor of love until the heart is made God-like-perfected and made more worthy of heaven."

Rev. and Mrs. Cole will lecture in Edwardsville Congregational church Saturday night, Nov. 2; Wilkes-Barre, Sunday morning, Nov. 2, and in Kingston Methodist Episcopal church Sunday night, Nov. 3. LACKAWANNA ELEVEN WON. Foot Ball Kickers of Wyoming Seminary

Defented by a Score of 6-4. On Saturday the foot ba'l elever of the School of the Lackawa ma of this city went to Kingston to play the sec-ond team of Wyoming seminary. The seminarians were outplayed from the beginning and were finally beaten by a score of 6 to 4, notwithstanding the fact that they added three 'varsity men, McDermout, right tackle; Gendall, fialf-back, and Taylor right end. McDermott was put on in the first half and the other two in the second half. Pond made a touchdown for the Lackawannas in the first half, which with the goal, was the only scoring done in the first of the game. The seminary did not score until four minutes before the game ended, when Gendall made a touchdown, but the fullback fulled for the goal. A return game will be played here next week Saturday. This Saturday the Lackawannas go to Wilkes-Barre to play the Harry Hillman academy

CROSSING IS IN PLACE. The Piece of Iron Long Disputed Over Is

Scranton Traction company track-layers were busy yesterday and until 8 o'clock hist evening putting in the crossing at the Moosic depot where the street our line intersects the tracks of the Delaware and Hudson Canal com-pany's road. Foremen of the raliroad company and General Manager Frank Silliman, ir., and Superintendent Rob-ert F. Fox, of the Traction company, supervised the work.

There was no opposition on the part of the raliroad officials toward putting the crossing in place, as Judge Gun-

HUSTLER AT THE ACADEMY. Produced by a Company Headed by John

T. Tierney. "The Hustler," rewritten and bright-ened, was produced at the Academy of Music Saturday night by a company that contained several clever people.

John T. Tierney is not a bad comedian by any means, but he comes a long way from injecting the flumor into the role of Con McFadden that John Kernell, the originator of the character, did. A feature of the performance was a parody on Trilby, Gus Mills, the female impersonator, assuming the title role.

Many up-to-date specialties and new songs and dances were introduced during the action of the farce. Notice of Removal.

The news and editorial departments of The Tribune are now socated in The Tribune's new home on Washington avenue. Until otherwise announced the job printing and bindery departments and The Tribune business office will remain in the Bloesser building at Penn avenue and Spruce street.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Some of the Plays That Are Billed to Appear in Local Theaters.

"Eight Bells" is like new wine, it sparkles and bubbles and overflows with humorous situations, fun and frolic. The people of Scranton will see "Eight Bells" in its new adornment at the Academy this evening The improvements are numerous and genuine. provements are numerous and genuine. The old show is there as a foundation for the new embellishments. The steambout is there also, and the Byrnes, and that is enough to make a hearty entertainment. The mechanical effects are surprising, and songs and dances enliven the whole. The entertainment is refreshing and inspiring.

A Money Order at Davis'. Ait Davis' theater today, tomorrow and Wednesday aftermoons and evenings Jule Waller's new play, "A Money Order," will be produced. It is a comedy drama constructed upon original lines. The story and action of the place are new to the stage. The work shop, farm and home are happily blended together in a manner that is pleas-ing to the masses. The comedy is bright and clean, the pathos pure and simple. A sermon lies hadden in its story, but is so gracefully told that the audience learns the lesson without realizing it until the final cuntain falls. Olcott in the Irish Artist. Chauncey Cloott, in the "Irish Artist," has given a new type of the stage Irishman to dramatic art, and the character has proved to be a highly acceptable one to Irish mationalists, who have more than once strenuously ob-jected to the hideous portrayals of cari-catures in alleged Irish drama. He vill be seen at the Academy Wednesday evening. The Foundling at Frothingham. The immense comedy success "The Founding," which ran nearly 200 nights at Hoyt's theater, New York, comes to the Frothingham Wednesday night. The principal feature of "The Foundling" is winking, kicking, Cissy Fitzgerald, the famous galety dancer who is to present here her famous dances. Her dances are dreams, and dances. Her dances are dreams, and in New York her eyes made have with the hearts of the auditors. The company to present the comedy is one of Charles Frohman's best organizations. "The Man Upstairs," by Augustus Thomas, a one-act farce, will be the curtain raiser. The sale of seats is flow progressing. flow progressing. Herne's Shore Acres.

"Be natural" is Mr. Herne's admonition to his associates in "Shore Acres." Those who have worked under him say he is one of the greatest stage managers in America. "I don't care what you do," he said to the juvenile man, "or where you stand or sit, if you only feel hat you are matural and at case. that you are matural and at ease." It is that air of naturalness that charms in "Shore Acres." In an editorial on his play the Boston Transcript asks: "When have any of our preachers, when have even Professor Drummond preached a more charming sermon on the loveliness of love, of the joy of unselfish devotion than is offered in the unconscious heroism of Uncle Nat in "Shore Acres?" " A superb scenic production will be given of this beautiful Shore Acres"" A superb scente pro-duction will be given of this beautiful play at the Academy Thursday and Friday evening.

O'Neill at the Frothingham. Next Friday and Saturday nights James O'Neill will be seen at the Froth-ingham in "Virginias" and "Monte Christo." It is almost unnecessary to say a word in tribute to this artist, for say a word in tribute to this artist, for Mr. O'Neill has been before us for almost a quarter of a century, and has immortalized the character of Edmond Dantes in "Monte Christo." However, he will not open with Dumas' masterplece, which has been reserved for the second evenig, but will favor the public of this city with his great presentation of Sheridan Knowles' sublime tragedy, "Virginius," in which he has scored an immense success. Fifty people will be on the stage during the performance of "Virginius."

For the coming month Music Hall will be the Mecca of pleasure-seekers. On Saturday night the Phil. "It is fitting and proper that monu-ments should be raised to such men, and their monuments cannot be too grand. Monuments are object lessons. They appeal not only to the eye, but to the memory and to the heart. The enild on its way to school may pass such a tribute to a man's worth, day after day, in thoughtlessness and play, but at some time, some day when the in private life or in public affairs, when the hour of trouble comes, whether it be the child has grown to youth and the youth to manhood, the cold and silent monument on the square will kin-dle in him the sparks of patriotism transmitted to us from Bunker Hill and Gottysburg, and nerve him to emulate the example of the men who fought and died under the leadership of Grant and Sherman and Sheridan."

FIREMEN'S PERSONAL TAX.

It Is Now the Uppermost Topic in Fire

Department Circles. During the present week the fire department committee of common council will take into consideration the resolution exonerating firemen from per-sonal tax, introduced by Mr. Robinson at the last meeting, and referred for amendment.

One of the provisions of the measure is that paid firemen shall not be elig-ible to the exoneration. This clause was disapproved of by a number of the councilmen, particularly Mr. Oliver, who contended that if exceptions were made in the vase of paid firemen all other firemen receiving pay from the city, such as the chief engineer, police officers and city hall clerks, and the like, should likewise be excluded from Shaw, the benefits of the exoneration.

Chief Ferber also holds this view of the question. Said he: "Why should I be exempt from this personal tax, and stokers and engineers, who receive eight or ten dollars a month, not have the benefit of the exemption? I do not want to be a dog in the manger, but it is certainly only fair to refuse to ex-onerate every man in the fire depart-ment who is under city pay if you cut off one or two classes of men.

I say let every man who is a member of the volunteer association, and who has done three years' service, be exempt from the tax or else none at all. The poor board did not discriminate against the poorly paid permanent men and I don't think the city should." Instead of including the city emis altogether likely that the comm tee will extend the exemption to all.

"The Deestreek Skule" will open Tuesday evening, Oct. 29, at Mears' hall. Tickets, 25 cents; children, 10 cents. For the bene-fit of the Washburn Street Presbyterian
