A CHILD BURNED.

Little Clara Kishbaugh Badly Injured Ploying with Fire.

Pleying with Fire.

Yesterday afternoon about 1 o'clock a trolley car was crossing the tracks of the Delaware and Hudson road on Hanover street and the passengers was a little cirl, enveloped in flames, run out from the side door of the house just below the hotel. Half, a dozen passengers fumped from the car and tore the blazing clothes from the child and carried her back beto the house. No one was home and the passengers took charge of affairs, one going for a physician and the others ministering to the infuries of the little one. Henry Hoitz, a neighbor, arrived and said the child should be taken to his house, where she could have proper treatment, which was done, although an ambulance was sent for and the little one was soon takento the hospital.

The child was Clara, the 8-year-old daughter of William Kishbaugh, a carpenter, who was away from home all day, working on a Scott street building. Some time before the accident occurred, Mrs. Kishbaugh left the house to go to Scott street on an errand, leaving the house in charge of little Clara, who was to look after five other little ones. There is an old-fushioned stove in the kitchen and the children got some pine splinters and were lighting them on the hot coals exposed through the grate.

splinters and were lighting them on the hot coals expessed through the grate. One of the burning splinters came in contact with Clara's clothing, igniting it. She was dreadfully burned about the face and body, though the burning lighting the lighting the standard of the face and body. Charles J. Kelly, who is also named exclothes had been torn off before the fire reached her limbs. Her hair was near-ly all burned from her head and the flesh hung in great shreds from her face, hands and arms. She is expected to recover, although terribly burned.

THE CURE OF LOCKJAW.

First Experiment with the New Scrum Made on a Brooklyn Boy-Physicians Hopeful of Success.

New York, Oct. 29 .- The physicians of New York, Oct. 29.—The physicians of Brooklyn are watching with interest a case of lockjaw from which Joseph Revere, 12 years of age, is suffering. The unfortunate boy has furnished, it is said, the first opportunity in this state for a test of the lately discovered antidote for telanus, which at a late hour Saturday night was furnished by Dr. Paul Gibier, at the Pasteur institute, New York, Joseph Geyer, stepfacher of the boy, is employed at the Maspech race track. Two weeks ago Maspech race track. Two weeks ago young Revere was playing near the track when he was kicked over the left eye by a horse. His stepfather, speaking last night of what followed,

"I telephoned to St. Catharine's hospits! and was informed that the amculance would not come across the city line for less than $10. My employer then caller up and they agreed to come for $5. I dot not have the money, and borrowing a tourn I drove the boy to the hospital, where his wound was drossed."

Young Revere was apparently well within a few days, and in a week was out playing. Five days age the stitches were removed and nothing remained but the star.
Friday afternoon the boy complained of a difficulty in breathing, and was put to bed. Soon spanns developed, Rigid-ity of the jaws and muscles followed. Sprams affecting the back were the most prominent symptom. So frightful

Young Revere was given a dose of the anti-toxine every six hours, and late last night the spasm had ceased, the muscles of the larynx had taken place since noon. Dr McCleary does not say the boy is out of danger, as son and D. W. Richards, of Duryen; not say the boy is out of d Samuel C. Jones and William Repp, of his heart is slightly affected.

Chicago, Oct. 29 .- A week ago two men, whose pames are unknown. men, whose names are unknown, engaged a room of W. E. Allen, at No. 37 Plne street. Several times during the time they occupied it they were heard quarreling; between Saturday right and Sunday morning, the room was variated, and all that now remains to indicate that it was occupied are several large pools of blood and the blood stained walls are furniappeared as mysteriously and as com-pletely as the men themselves. While it seems hautly possible that a man could lose so much blood and still ive, the police express the opinion that no murder was committed, and say they do not believe a body could be taken out of the building without some one knowing it. Nevertheless, a half dozen detectives are working on the case. detectives are working on the case, and it is announced that the search will not be given up until one or both of the men who occupied the room have been found and made to explain how it came to be so stained with blood.

CLUTCHED AT HER LOCKS. Stranger Tries to Steal the Hair from Miss

Hanzeram's Head. Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 29.,-This morning at the Washington House Miss Martha at the Washington House Miss Martha Hanzeram was in the kitchen attending to some domestic duties when she heard a rap on the door. She opened it and a man asked her for a drink of water. She turned to get it for him. The minute her back was turned he maile a spring and grabbed her by the hair, which she usually wears braided down her back. He made one swift stroke with a razor, but as she turned partly around the only succeeded in cutting off a few locks.

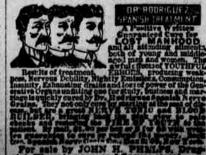

she screamed and the man ran out of the door. The police arrested William McCarthy, who was identified by a boy who saw him running from the house.
