AGAINST Rumored Combine of Coal Producers

of Three Counties. POTTSVILLE SECRET MEETING

Number of Scranton Men Who Are Interested in Conl Lands at That Place, Attended the Conference. Plans Not Made Public.

Quietly and without any previous an-nouncement the Penn Hall hotel in Pottsville was filled Monday evening by a party of coal men representing a big slice of the zorthern capital investbig slice of the zorthern capital invested in that part of the Pennsylvania coal fields. They went into executive session immediately after supper and held a secret conclave for three hours. What the subject were under discussion could not be positively learned, but it was freely intimated that the meeting was the proliminary step toward the formation of a concentrated opposition to the Reading by the vorthern producers for the control of the coal output in Lackawanna, Luzerne and Schuylkill counties.

Among those present were R. G. Brooks, D. M. Jones, T. H. Jones, of Scranton; David Williams, a contractor of Wilkes-Barre, representing the Williams Coal company, which has op-erations on the Navigation and Thuron tracts; Benjamin Hughes, general su-perintendent of the Delaware, Lacka-wanna and Western Coal company; President I. A. Finch, of the Chamber-President I. A. Finch, of the Chamber-lain Coal company; George McDonald, secretary and treasurer of the Crescent Coal company, with John S. McGroar-ty, of Wilkes-Barre, a prominent at-torney and a director of the company; Frank Howell and Alfred Harvey, of Scranton, and Henry T. Howell, of Pottsville, representing the East Ridge Coal company.

SENT TO JAIL FOR TAXES. Villiam Saul, of Price Street, Committed by Alderman John.

William Saul, of Price street, was sent to the county jail last evening by Alderman Owen D. John, of the Fourth sent to the county fall last evening by Alderman Owen D. John, of the Fourth ward, because he refused to pay 30 cents poor tax. It is a case in which there is something under the surface.

R. J. Thomas is the collector of the ward, and Saul alleges that he did not get notice from Thomas at the proper time and refused to pay the tax because $1,12 penalty was added to it. The collector made out a commitment and made affidavit to it before Alderman John. The latter sent the constable after Saul and when the prisoner was arraigned at the hearing he steadfastly refused to pay. The law provides that one so offending can be sent to fall, and accordingly Saul was sent up.

He is a well-known resident of the West Side. To the 30 cents levied against Saul the penalty of $1,12 was added; there is now an added sum of $2 for turnkey fees and it will cost the prisoner 25 cents each day for his board at Hotel Clemons.

He is credited with saying that he will stay in jail until the sea gives up its dead before he pays the penalty.

ARE BEGINNING EARLY. Hallowe'en Sports Already Complained of to the Police. E. W. Keyes, of 422 Mulberry street, complained to the police last night that a ladies' waist and skirt had been stolen from his clothes line some time during the previous night and at an early hour last night his front gate disappeared. He believes that both acts were committed by boys bent on celebrating Hallowe'en, the ladies' wearing apparel no doubt having been taken for masquerading purposes.

Some of the Plays That Are Billed to

Some of the Plays That Are Billed to Appear in City Theaters.

Chauncey Olcott will present his new play "The Irish Artist." at the Academy of Music this evening. In the role of Morris Cronin Mr. Olcott gives us a specimen of what may be done in refined Irish comedy. The character is portrayed ture to life and his interpretation of the role is like a glimpse of Ireland itself. Mr. Olcott is a painstaking actor, and a tenor singer of such powers as one rarely hears outside of powers as one rarely hears outside of grand opera, "The Irish Artist" is a rarely good poduction. All of the char-acters have been assignd to the most capable players and are in competent hands. The costuming has been at-tended to with reference to historical correctness and the scenery used is not only appropriate but a triumph of the scenic artist's skill. Clasy Fitzgerald Tonight.

Manager Charles Frohman precents to the laughter-loving public of Scran-ton his latest comedy success, "The Foundling," at the Frothingham to-Foundling." at the Frothingham to-night. "The Foundling" enjoyed a suc-cessful run of nearly two hundred nights at Hoyt's theater, New York. The piece has more of a plot than most farces. A young man of 25, moving in good society, suddenly hears that he has no parents, and that he may turn out to be a foundling. This possibility causes his future mother-in-law, a very exacting person, to break off a match exacting person, to break off a match with her charming daughter. While the young man is endeavoring to ex-plain, another lady claims him for her husband, in order to escape matrimony with her cousin, a silly and vulgar fellow. When the mother of the young man's sweetheart hears he has a wife, she tells him she doubts his story of his parentage. She insists that the she tells him she doubts his story of his parentage. She insists that the story was invented to get rid of her daughter. Everybody is miserable, but no one more so than the supposed "foundling." Of course in the last act all compileations are explained. The young man finds that he not only had parents, but that both of them were responsible. The company to present the comedy is the same efficient organization seen during the great run in the metropolis and embraces Messrs. Thomas Burns, S Miller Kent, Charles W. Butler, George Schaeffer, F. Soldene Powell, W. B. Barnes, and the Misses Frances Stevens, Stella Zanoni, Clara Baker Rust, Maggie Holloway Fisher, Jane Stetson, Maggie Fielding and the famous dancer, Clssy Fitzgerald, who appears as a music hall artiste. Miss Fitzgerald was the fashartiste. Miss Fitzgerald was the fash-ionable rage last winter in New York, where her dancing proved a revelation. "The Foundling" will be preceded by Augustus Thomas' one-act play, "The Man Upstairs."

Shore Acres Thursday and Friday.

"Shore Acres" is a play of the right sort. Its naturalism is not tainted with the morbidness common to Zola, or the minuteness of Ibsen. Its sentiment aweals to man's finer instincts and its lessons are vital. The characters Mr. Herne has introduced in this New England idyl are all true to life, and they cannot fall to prove interesting and entertaining to all patrons of the drama. The production of "Shore Acres" during the coming week at the Academy of Music Thursday and Friday evenings will be similar in every detail to that seen here last season.

O'Neill as Virginius and Monte Cristo.
In order to demonstrate to the public Shore Acres Thursday and Friday.

In order to demonstrate to the public of this coty that in spite of his unique record with "Monte Cristo," he is not a one part actor, the distinguished player, James O'Nell will produce both us" and "Monte Crist ing his engagement at the Frothingham theater on Friday and Saturday, "Virginius" being the bill the first night. Old theater-goers who may have seen Mr. O'Nelli as Richelleu, Hamlet, Othello and Iago, while leading man with Edwin Fourest, Edwin Booth, Lawrence Barrett, Charolite Cushman and Adelaide Nellson, may indeed look forward with pleasure to his appearance in Eneridan Knowles' sublime tragedy.

Black Sheep Saturday Night. Charles Hoyt is not only the recogrized playwright of the day, but the most successful. In his ten years' career as an author he has written and produced twelve comedies, and has never had a fallure. It may be benever had a failure. It may be because Mr. Hoyt being an American himself, knows just what the American public want in the way of amusement. His "A Black Shoop," which will be produced for the first time in this city next Saturday evening, at the Academy, has met with great success overywhere it has been presented, hav-ing just closed a phenomenally success-ful run of twelve weeks at the Grand Opera house, Chicago.

The Wonderful Brownies. the Frothingham next Monday and Tuesday evenings and special Tuesday matines, C. B. Jefferzon, Klaw & Erfunger's big production of "Paimer Cox's Brownies," will be seen in all its Cox's Brownies," well be seen in all its entirety, greater than ever. The cast will include over 100 persons, among whom are such favorite artists as Frank Deshon, Inez Mecusker, prima dama of the Sousa band concerts at Manhautan Beach last summer, Ida Mulle, Lena Merville, Ursula Gurnett, Georgie Denin and Sol Solomon, and hosts of other vocalists and fun makers. "The Brownies" is a charming extravganza, with its wealth of glittering costumes, its graceful dancers, its beautiful ballets, its wonderful scenic effects, its catchy music and its funny German band. In "The Brownies" the eye is set all times charmed, fascinated and attracted by elaborate stage pletures, and the stage at every moment is a right with the cast is the stage at every stage pictures, and the stage at every moment is a right well worth seeing. The advance sale of seats for "The Brownies" will commence at the Frothingham box office tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock sharp.

At the Davis Theatre

Al. Reeves and his big show will be the attraction at the Davis for three days, commencing Thursday, Oct. 31, and will present a bill of unusual merit. The management have secured at a large expense "Unihan," the Armiess Wonder. This remarkable person born without arms, writes, plays the violin and cornet, opens a bottle of wine with a friend who has called to play a social game, smokes cigarettes and does some fancy rifle shooting. Besides "Untham" the show contains such artists as Agnes Charcot, the only lady scientific hypnotist; the great Judges, master acrobats; Al. Reeves, the banjo Paderewski; C. W. Williams, premier ventriloquist; the Hiatts, musical experts; that funny colored sketch team, Hunn and Bohee, who are a show in themselves, and Oliveriee, the human corkscrew. At the Davis Theatre

Week of Comic Operas. Weck of Comic Operas.

Scranton theater-goers will hall with delight the announcement of the return of Milton Aborn and his clever opera company. The Academy will undoubtedly be crowded throughout the coming week. Milton Aborn's reputation as a comedian of undoubted ability was demonstrated when he appeared here last season. Miss Irene Murphy, who has always been admired by Scranton theater-goers, accompanies Mr. Aborn on this tour and will be seen to advantage in each opera presented. "Said Pasha" will be given Monday evening with the full strength of the Milton Aborn Opera company's cast.

End of Litigation Between Water Company and Iron and Coal Company.

BASIS OF THE SETTLEMENT

Iron and Coal Company Pays $19,333.3. for Water Consumed Aside from That Specified in Its Contract with the Water Company.

The action in assumptive of the Scranton Gas and Water company against the Lackawanna Iron und Coul com-pany has been settled and a discontinu-Lary has been settled and a discontinu-ance of the proceedings was yesterday filed in the prothonotary's office by Atterney I. H. Burns, representing the Scranton Gas and Waster company. The seneunt puid by the Lackawanna Iron and Coal company is $18,333.33. About two years ago the Scranton Gas and Water company brought cuits arainst the Lackawanna Iron and Coal

In 1891 the Lucka-wanna Iron and Coal company transferred its manufacturing business to the Lackawanna live and Stead comthe Lackawanna Iron and Steel com pany, which thereafter paid the $10,000 a year, and assumed all the conditions of the contract with the Water

A Dis overy Was Made.

Some time before the beginning of the suit the officers of the Scranton Gas and Water company discovered that water had for years been taken from their mains for purposes other than those specified in the contract between the parties, and suit was brought against the Lickawanna Iron and Coal company to obtain payment for the water, surreptitiously taken during a period of ten years.

The amount coalmed was $91,000. An action was also brought against the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company for water taken from January, 1891, to for water taken from January, 1891, to the time of the beginning of the suit. As the Stranton Gus and Water com-pany threatened to shut off the water unless the last mentioned company's bill was paid a settlement by the pay-ment of $8,000 by the Steel company was affected. Thereupon that suit was discontinued discontinued.

The Lackawanna Iron and Ccal company decoded to contest the claim made on them, and at the November term of court last year the case was tried. There was a great array of legal talent, the Water company being rep-resented by Attorneys I. H. Burns and resented by Attorneys I. H. Burns and Lemuel Amerman, and the Iron and Ceal company by Attorneys John G. Johnson, of Philadelphia; W. W. Wallace, of New York; R. E. Olmstead, of Harrisburg, and Joseph O'Brien, of this city. A verdict was rendered in favor of the plaintiff for $27,500, and subsequently un appeal was taken to the supreme court by the Iron and Coal company.
