AWFUL CRIMES OF HOLMES

Harrowing Testimony at the Trial Given by Mrs. Pitezel.

GREAT NERVE OF PRISONER

He Faces the Woman Whose Husband and Children Have Been Murdered Without Flinching—Some Damaging Testimony.

Philadelphia, Oct. 30.—Branded though he is as a liar, swindler and murderer, the pictures drawn today of Holmes' cold-hearted villainy by Mrs. Pitezel, the widow of the man for whose murder he is being tried, presents him in even a more revolting character than he has yet stood revealed.

When a woman bent and feeble was asked to witness the execution of a craning of necks in the court room, for it was at once surmised that this was Mrs. Pitezel, whether Holmes should be hanged or not, she said whether the man really lacked sensibility, it was impossible to say, but as the woman stood erect before him he exhibited no emotion of any kind, but, on the contrary, gazed fixedly at her for fully a minute.

As One Hypnotized. Her skin was sallow and her face was heavy and lifeless. Above her sunken cheeks her eyes stared steadily in front of her with a meaningless gaze.

Her skin was sallow and her face was heavy and lifeless. Above her sunken cheeks her eyes stared steadily in front of her with a meaningless gaze. She more resembled a woman under influence of some strong drug that had dulled her senses rather than one that is in full possession of her faculties.

It was from this period on that Holmes' cruel practices began. Year after year he carried his wife and children to the city with the illusive hope before her that she would soon meet her loved one.

Deception of Holmes. After the death of the children Holmes carried his deception so far as to bring her a letter written in cipher and purporting to be from one of her little girls.

Throughout this long recital Mrs. Pitezel had borne up with fortitude, but when Mr. Graham asked her if she ever saw the children after she gave them into Holmes' charge, she gave way and sobbed quietly, but bitterly, before she could answer.

Cross-Examination Unavailing. Mrs. Pitezel's testimony was most damaging to Holmes, and the cross-examination she underwent did not weaken her defense in any way served to help him.

Williamsport, Pa., Oct. 30.—Four incendiary fires here early this morning caused a total loss of about $10,000. At the Radtch mill there were two fires and one hundred thousand feet of lumber and hemlock were destroyed, entailing a loss of $1,000.

SCANDAL AT PITTSBURGH

Key Evidence Introduced at the Official Investigation of Affairs of the Anti-Cruelty Society.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 30.—The official investigation into the charges of mismanagement and immorality in the conduct of the affairs of the Anti-Cruelty Society was begun today in a room in the county court house.

Two shots were fired, by which time all the inmates of the house were but frightened except Mr. Shivery and one of the students. Each of them hastily seized a double-barrelled shotgun and called forth into the crowd, demanding their immediate withdrawal.

Mr. Shivery came to Bellefonte and consulted an attorney, and was informed that he had a very strong case against the young men in the criminal court. The names of most of the students taking part in this night's work were known and reported to the faculty.

SCORING DURANT

BOB FITZSIMMONS ARRESTED

Governor Clarke Countermmands His Order Sending the Militia to Hot Springs—A Warrant Out for Sheriff Hoapt.

Hot Springs, Ark., Oct. 30.—James J. Corbett is safely housed under a friendly roof in Hot Springs. By the articles of agreement which bear his signature he guarantees to be in this city tomorrow prepared to contest for continued possession of the title of championship heavyweight of the world. He is prepared to fulfill this part of the bargain. On the other hand, Robert Fitzsimmons, the party of the second part, is in Little Rock in the custody of officers of the law acting for the governor. This is the condition of affairs on the eve of the day set for what probably will be one of the greatest pugilistic contests of modern times.

During the morning news from the Cornishman's party was a scarce commodity, but after dinner, when a dispatch from the United Press announced that the party was between Marshall and Texarkana and that Sheriff Hoapt, of Hot Springs, with his pack of friendly wags in his inside coat pocket was their privileged guest, the spirits of the Hot Springs Athletic club and the visiting sports soared high. As on every day for a week or more, their jubilation was short lived.

The statement came over the wires that Fitzsimmons had given the Hot Springs sheriff $5,000, offering to entrust himself to the officers from Little Rock. This was at first received with incredulity both by many friends of Corbett and the Fitzsimmons following, but similar advices were received by other parties, there was drooping of spirits and bad words were spoken. Those who have been persistent in declaring that the Kangaroo was a huffer and would not be seen tomorrow within a good many miles of this ridge of the Ozarks were able to raise their voices high, and find no one to contradict them.

Late tonight it was decided that Corbett should appear at Whittington Park between 10 and 12 o'clock tomorrow in order to claim forfeit from the Little Rock Athletic club. A force of carpenters and workmen were engaged to ring a ring in order that all conditions may be complied with. The wives of Fitzsimmons and Julian, with Ernest Groves and Charles White, of Fitzsimmons' training force, arrived at Arlington tonight from Corpus Christi.

A WARRANT SERVED

Texarkana, Ark., Oct. 30.—Fitzsimmons passed through at 3:10 o'clock. Little Rock officers, backed up by the sheriff of this county, arrested him as soon as the train reached Arkansas territory. Hot Springs sheriff claimed prior arrest, but was ignored by first-ranking officers, who disputed his right of authority of the governor of the state to act in any official capacity. The train did not stop in Arkansas, but remained in Texas until ready to pull out.

It is known that the sheriff of this county has men on the train with courage to back up all his orders to the death if necessary. Rumor has it that a detachment of state troops on a special car are waiting at Malvern, the junction to Hot Springs, to bag the Fitzsimmons party as they pass.

ASSAULTED HIS CAPTOR

Patrolman Perry Receives a Stunning Blow on the Mouth from a Prisoner.

At 2:15 yesterday morning the North End police were called to quell a disturbance in Edward Conklin's house, on Short avenue. Patrolmen Hawks, Duggan, R. Jones and Perry found Conklin and his wife and a man named Clark Barber drinking beer and singing. Upon the appearance of the officers Conklin belted through the back door, but was overtaken by Patrolman Perry. As he was taking him back to the house Conklin struck the officer a vicious blow in the mouth which staggered him for a moment. He will succeed in subduing him unassisted. In police court Conklin was given a fine of $15; his wife, $3, and Clark, $10. They scraped up sufficient among them to buy the woman's liberty, and she set out to secure the wherewithal to release her fellow-unfortunates. Up to midnight she had not returned.

East Stroudsburg Normal School Now Has Four Hundred Pupils.

No normal school of the state has had a more rapid growth than the one at East Stroudsburg, of which Professor George P. Biele is principal. It has 400 pupils now enrolled, which is a remarkably large number considering the short time the school has been in existence.

An unexcelled faculty, fine location and modern buildings have located the East Stroudsburg school to jump right to the front rank of state normal schools. A gymnasium, 100x50, with an annex 41x18, is now being completed, and will be opened Jan. 1. It will be equipped with the most modern apparatus.
