FOOT BALL TODAY.

There Will Be a Good Game at Alumni

There Will Be a Good Game at Alumni Park.

The lovers of foot ball in this city will be given an excellent chance to see some good games here soon. The first of the games will be played this afternoon at Alumni park, when the Alumni team will play the Kingston Athletic club. The game promises to be unusually interesting and hard fought. The home team will be somewhat heavier than the Kingston team, but they have had the advantage of constant practice. The boys here feel somewhat sore over the big defeat they met at Wyoming seminary last week and will do their utmost to win. The visitors, on the other hand, feel confident of victory, as in playing the seminary they held them down to fourteen points. This speaks well of them, as the Wyoming team is very strong. The Carbondale team will probably line up to be ter advantage than last week and they have been practicing faithfully.

An old University of Pennsylvania man has been engaged as coach and will have the boys out for practice for the next three weeks. He expects to develop the material so that they will be able to play anything in the valley.

The high school foot ball team will be able to play anything in the valley.

The high school foot ball team will go to Wilkes-Barre this afternoon, where they will play the high school of that place. The local team has been strengthened by several new men, and a good game is expected.

MR. KLINE TO LEAVE.

A Prominent Business Man to Sell Out The many friends of S. Kline will regret to hear that he has decided to leave this city in the near future. Mr. kline has been in the city for the past seven years, where he has successfully conducted a gentleman's furnishing store. During this time he has, by his scrupious business methods and genual scrupious business methods and genial disposition won for himself a host of friends, who will feel deeply his departure. Not only will he be missed by his personal friends, but it will be a soss to the city of which Mr. Kline has been a prominent and upright citizen. Mr. Kline, who has ever been welcome in the social direles, will also be greatly missed for the ways a woman of most missed, for she was a woman of most surnly and loving character. Mr. Kline has had the matter under consideration for some little time. He said he had a most excellent chance to enter the wholesale business, which he finally decided to adopt. He says he was well pleased by his success here, but the wholesale busi-ness offered wider facilities and he liked it better. The stock he now carries must be sold out by Jan. 1, when he will close the store. His only regret is that he will be obliged to leave Carbondale. It is needless to say that he will also be released. will also be missed.

A QUIET WEDDING.

The Contracting Parties Well-Known in This Vicinity.

This Vicinity.

Miss Kate Costello, of Farview street, and Charles Plath, of Canaan street, were united in the holy bands of matrimony by Rev. Thomas F. Coffey, at the rectory of St. Rose's church. The wedding took place at 7 o'clock and the only witnesses of the marriage were Miss Marcella Reddy and John Gallagher, who attended the bride and groom.

The wedding will be somewhat of a surprise to many of the friends of the surprise to many of the friends of the contracting parties. They possess many acquaintances who would have been glad to have been present, but the young couple stole a march upon them and were quietly married. All, however, join in wishing them God-speed and a pleasant married life.

A supper was held at the home immediately after the ceremony, in which some of the most personal friends were invited. Mr. and Mrs. Plath will at once start housekeeping.
