Horse Race to Be Conducted for the Benefit of a Church.

MEETINGS OF CITY MINISTERS

tombers of the Young Women's Christian Associations to View the Chrysanthemams in the Boles Conservatory. Sunday Services in Churches.

Does horse racing have a place in church charity? is a question that can properly be discussed, now that a Throop minister has given his approval of races to be trotted at the Scranton Driving park this afternoon for the benefit of his church. Whether the reverend gentleman will himself hom the reins over the back of a horse and whoop "g'lang" as the field swings into the homestretch is a problem of too staggering a nature to be handled by the laity. Let the ministers settle it, if there are two sides to the argument. The facts of the case are these:

The Throop minister needed funds for his church and asked C. D. Sanderson and Mr. Bellman, of the Pancoast Coal and Mr. Bellman, of the Pancoast Coal company, for a contribution. The coal men suggested some kind of an en-tertainment and the proposition was accepted. Mr. Sanderson and Mr. Bellman are enthusiastic members of th Gentlemen's Driving club of this city and had no difficulty in securing entries for a free-for-all, a 2.20 and a 2.35 trot which were announced for Thursday afternoon, but the rain caused a postponement until today. A public announcement was made that the races would be for sweet charity, but there was no mention of the Throop minister or his church, excepting among the par-ticipants and club officers. Whether the promoters of the trot were ashamed whether the minister was ashamed or whether all parties were conscience stricken is mere conjecture. The Tribune gives the facts merely because the case is unusual and leaves the discussion feature open.

Three Ministers' Meetings.

Ministers of three denominations held reparate meetings Monday. The Pres-byterian cleric held its annual meeting in Dr. Logan's study. Officers were elected as follows: President, Rev. G. E. Guild; vice-president, Rev. N. F. Stahl; secretary, Rev. Dr. S. C. Logan; treasurer, Rev. Dr. C. E. Robinson. A discussion regarding the mission work among the Slavs in this region was then taken up. Systematized talks on this taken up. Systematized talks on this subject will be continued at the next meeting. The Methodist ministers held their regular Monday morning meet-ing in Elm Park church. Those present were: Dr. Pearce, Revs. G. T. Price, E. L. Santee, F. P. Doty, A. F. Chaffee, John Davy, McGee and Ed-gar. Mr. Santee read a thoughtful paper on "Law," treating the relation of natural law in the spiritual realm. The natural law in the spiritual realm. The practicability of the Young Wo-men's Christian association has been apparent during this week, the rooms being thronged by young women and teachers attending the County Teachers' institute in the court house. The members of the association have been invited by Colonel and Mrs. H. M. Boles to view a chrysanthemum and floral display at their residence, on Clay avenue, near Olive street, Monday from 2 to 5, and from 7 to 10 o'clock. Colonel and Mrs. Boles will be assisted in entertaining by the association's board of managers. • • • The lunch committee and board of managers of the association met yesterday and com-pleted arrangements for the Harvest Home dinner to be given Tuesday in the association rooms from 11.30 to 2 o'clock p. m., and a supper from 5.30 to 8 p. m. The gospel meeting on Sun-day will be led by Mrs. E. D. Fellows. day will be led by Mrs. E. D. Fellows. Attention will be turned to the country of South America and its needs, and several will take part in the programme. The class in free hand drawing, already announced, will be organized next week under R. A. Lyons in the John Raymond institute. Applications are now being received at 205 Washington avenue, where information in regard to the course may be obtained from the secretary. tained from the secretary.

Scranton has been doubly honored recently by the calls extended Rev. Dr. W. H. Pearce to become pastor of the Hamlin Methodist Episcopal church, of Washington, D. His labor is appreciated here, and that his attainments are known abroad is shown by the calls from two such prominent churches. The Hamilin church possesses the wealthiest and most indiuential Methodist congregation in Washington, and the Duluth church bears a similar relation to the northwest. Each call was delivered, and Dr. Pearce will, in the spring, go to the Franklin street church, in Wilkes-Barre; he will not leave the Wyoming conference until shown that he can do a greater work elsewhere. can do a greater work elsewhere. Work on the new construction work at Fostoria, on the middle division, Pennsylvania railroad, about six miles cast of Altoona, has been resumed after almost three years. The roadbed will be entirely changed at two different points, cutting out two curves considerably and reducing the grade to a great extent.

Nickrames, as a rule, when applied to the human farrily, are looked upon with an evil eye, but when it comes to railronus, the name that can be ut-tered in one mouthful is often more satisfactory than the one that is longer, even though more correct. Take for instance the Pittsburg Cincianati, Chicago and St. Louis railway. In its inordinate length it is too cumbrous for daily business, so it is shortened to "Panhandle," and as the "Panhandle" varythandle," and as the "Panhandle" "Panhandle," and as the "Panhandle" everybody who has business relations with it knows the road, while few could tell its correct rame as set down in the index of a railroad guide without stopping to think or to hunt it up. The nickname come to this road from its passage through the West Virginia "Panhandle"—that narrow strip of land between Pennsylvaria and eastern Chio. Another road leading out of Pittsburg which gained meterially by the use of a nickname is the "Pemicky." once the Pittsburg, McKeesport and Youghloghery, now a part of the Pittsburg and Lake Erie system. "Pemicky" was created for the occasion from the initials of the longer name. Or, perhaps, it is better to say that the word evolved. Railroad men are quick to grasp anything that is a pronounce-able name and save-witch. word evolved. Railroad men are quick to grasp anything that is a pronounce-able name and save syllables. In the same manner the Louisville and Nash-ville became the L. and N., which by constant repetition ultimately worked up to the name of "Ellen N."—the name best known area. best known among those who patronize the road or who as employes handle its
